US subscriptions growing rapidly despite COVID

US Subscriptions

- Paid subscription sales actively pursued from March 2020
- Majority of new subscriptions are prepaid annually
- Initial focus on agents to test value proposition - now shifting to higher value Brokerages and Real Estate teams
- Positive subscription uptake from California and Florida, particularly with our high level of MLS coverage
- Also focused on Franchise level sales with Realty One signing a data share agreement to give higher quality data access to over 15,000 agents
- Partnership program focused on Transaction Management System (TMS) integration to get closer to the sale and ability to generate reviews automatically for users

Agreements with MLS are driving RMA's US growth

- MLS are data aggregation services for agents that facilitate communication and transactions
- Agents upload data on all current and historic listings, which is then available to other agents
- All agents belong to at least one MLS, and often look to their MLS for guidance
- There are several hundred MLS, with most focusing on specific geographies
- So far, RMA has signed agreements with 22 MLS, including several of the largest MLS in States such as California and Florida, with a combined membership of 436,000 agents.
- These agreements provide RMA with detailed transaction data, and the opportunity to directly market to MLS members

Florida growth powered by a high coverage of MLS connected agents and a new onboarding process

Claimed agents by zip code – Jul 20

Over 180,000 MLS agents connected in Florida

- Florida has ~16% of the MLS agents in the US
- ~83% of these agents are members off MLSs connected to RMA

Risk factors (1 of 3)

The business, assets and operations of the Group are subject to certain risk factors that have the potential to influence operating and financial performance in the future. These risks can impact on the value of an investment in the Shares. The Board aims to manage these risks by carefully planning its activities and implementing mitigating risk control measures. Some risks are unforeseen and so the extent to which these risks can be effectively managed is somewhat limited. Set out below is a summary only of some specific key risks to which the Company is exposed. Each of these risks may either individually or in combination, affect the future operating and financial performance of the Company, its prospects, its investment returns and the value of the Shares.

In deciding whether to participate in the Offer, prospective investors should also consider publicly available information on RMA, examine the full content of this presentation and consult their technology, financial, tax and other professional advisers before making an investment decision.

Short operating history and history of operating losses

The Company was formed in April 2014 (after commencing operations in 2013), introduced its paid subscriber model in June 2014 and commenced operations in the US in 2017 and in New Zealand in 2018. This limited operating and financial track record is not sufficient to provide any certainty or assurance that the Company can or will achieve the growth and other objectives set out in this Prospectus. An investment in RMA should therefore be regarded as speculative and the Directors are of the view that an investment in RMA should be regarded as high risk. While RMA has achieved strong revenue growth since its inception, it has yet to generate an operating profit and there is a risk that the Company may not achieve profitability in the future.

Ability to retain and attract key personnel

The day-to-day operations and strategic management of RMA depend substantially on its management team, in particular, its Chief Executive Officer, Michael Davey, its Chief Strategy Officer, Mark Armstrong, its Chief Technology Officer, Edward van Roosendaal and its Chief Financial Officer, Scott Farndell. The loss of key personnel, or an inability to attract suitably qualified new employees, may negatively impact the Company's business and financial position. There is a risk that the loss suffered by the Company may be exacerbated by the loss of key personnel to a competitor.

Data and Intellectual Property

RMA obtains and collects data from third party websites and republishes that data in the ordinary course of its business. RMA will need to comply with differing requirements in connection with its collection of data in the jurisdictions in which it operates and into which it expands. Any change or amendment to these regulations may detrimentally affect the Company's business, reputation, financial performance and financial position. There is a risk that third parties may claim that data obtained in connection with this practice has been obtained illegally, for instance, by trespassing on the third party's website, or has breached prohibitions on data "scraping" in their terms of use. Those claims could negatively impact RMA's reputation and earnings and result in unexpected defence costs and compliance with relevant requirements across multiple jurisdictions which may restrict or complicate RMA's objective to expand and/or significantly increase its compliance costs. The likelihood of these claims arising may increase as the Company expands into different jurisdictions. Agents often upload images of the properties they have sold onto RMA's website, creating the risk that images published on RMA's website may not have the approval of the image's owner, who may take legal action against RMA for copyright infringement. RMA may also be adversely affected if one or more of the data sources on which RMA heavily relies is no longer available to RMA or is subject to the above types of claims.

Risk factors (2 of 3)

Failure to expand and maintain client relationships

A failure to successfully implement any of the strategies for growth of customer numbers could adversely affect RMA's operating and financial performance. RMA's growth strategies are also highly dependent on the continued enrolment of agents and conversion of customers from free to fee-paying subscribers.

Customer contracts can be cancelled at short notice

The subscriptions paid by RMA's customers are not subject to long-term contracts and can be cancelled by customers at any time without notice, which may adversely impact the Company's revenues and earnings.

Competitive market

RMA operates in a highly competitive market landscape, with competition likely to increase in both Australia and overseas from a range of established businesses and new entrants to the market. RMA's ability to meet its business and financial objectives may be adversely affected by new competitors entering the market or an improvement in the effectiveness of existing competitors. There are also a number of existing and well-established residential real estate service providers that would be likely to pose a significant competitive risk to RMA's financial performance and operating margins if they were to offer an agent review and rating feature.

Expansion of international footprint

RMA has expanded its operations into the US and New Zealand and plans to expand into additional new overseas markets in the short to medium term. RMA's success in these new markets will depend on a number of factors such as the operations and product offerings of existing and new competitors in these markets, new customers' willingness to pay for RMA's services and the state of the local economy and property markets more generally. Additionally, differing business practices and legal, regulatory and other constraints in these markets may affect RMA's ability to source, process and publish real estate data which is critical to its operations.

Foreign operations

RMA's overseas operations expose it to a range of multi-jurisdictional risks including use of data, labour practices, consumer preferences, difficulty in enforcing contracts, and changes to, or uncertainty in, relevant legal and regulatory regimes (including in relation to taxation and foreign investment and practices of government and regulatory authorities). RMA's overseas operations are expected to generate foreign currency revenues which will expose it to movements in foreign exchange rates, as its financial statements are prepared and presented, and most of its costs are incurred, in AUD but its fee paying subscriptions are payable in subscribers' local currency.

Disruption or failure of technology systems

RMA relies on the performance and availability of its software, and its connectivity with agents' and agencies' social media platforms in the operation of its business. The ongoing performance of RMA's software is key to the Company's service delivery and therefore its ability to generate revenue. Any failure, unscheduled down-time, or cyber-attack of either the software or the technology that underpins RMA's platform could prevent RMA from continuing to operate its business, creating the risk that the Company could breach its contractual and service obligations or result in significant damage to its brand and reputation. Any loss of, theft, corruption or unauthorised third party access of RMA's data could affect the viability of its operations. This could also lead to unauthorised disclosures of users' data with associated reputational damage, claims by users, regulatory scrutiny and fines. Computer viruses, worms and other malicious software that interfere with, or exploit security flaws in, RMA's software or IT systems could jeopardise the security of information stored in a customer's or RMA's computer systems and cause damage to the Company's business reputation and brand.

Real estate market risk

Changes to conditions in the real estate market which result in decreased agent advertising and market expenditure could adversely impact RMA's revenues and earnings, due to downward pressure on the subscription prices that RMA can realise or charge, a reduction in the number of paid subscriptions and/or lower growth in paid subscriptions.

Risk factors (3 of 3)

Existing and changes in law or regulations

RMA is subject to local laws and regulations in each jurisdiction in which it operates. Existing and changes in laws or regulations could restrict or complicate RMA's activities and increase its compliance costs, and may require RMA to obtain additional approvals or licences.

Significant retained holding by Senior Management and Directors

Depending on the amount of shares subscribed for by Current Directors and Senior Management as disclosed in this Presentation, they will hold between approximately 45% to 48% of the issued Share capital of RMA. If the current Directors and Senior Management act in a similar way, they may have the capacity to control the election of Directors, approve or disapprove significant transactions and influence the success or failure of a takeover or similar offer for the Shares.

Economic and market conditions

Changes in economic and business conditions such as tax reforms, movements in employment rates, and changes in interest rates, inflation rates and currency exchange rates in Australia or internationally may have an adverse effect on RMA's trading and financial performance. Changes in these conditions also cause volatility in the financial markets which could have a material adverse effect on RMA's ability to access equity and debt funding.

Reliance on data providers

RMA obtains data from various data providers in Australia, New Zealand and the US including both publicly available and paid data providers. Any material adverse change in RMA's relationships with its data providers could have an adverse impact on RMA's future growth prospects.

Reliance on third party suppliers

RMA relies on third party suppliers of goods and services (including IT suppliers). RMA's data servers are hosted by AWS and RMA's business is heavily dependent on the continuity of service from AWS. RMA's operations also rely heavily on its, and its users', access to the internet, which is provided by various entities in the internet access marketplace.
