Zip CEO and Co-Founder, Larry Diamond said:

"We are thrilled to welcome QuadPay to the Zip Family. The US is a critical part of our global strategy as merchants increasingly demand global payment solutions. The QuadPay business has continued to deliver strong results, driven by the flight to online and a move away from the outdated and unfair credit card. We are already working closely with the QuadPay team and expect to drive significant synergies as we come together to capitalise on the global opportunity. We are also delighted to welcome Susquehanna Investment Group onto the register and thank them for their support as we turbocharge our growth into new products and geographies."
