Buddy Signs Additional Manufacturing Agreement to Grow Scale

SUMMARY

- Buddy has executed a new manufacturing agreement with Nanchang Innotech Homesmart Co. Ltd. to increase manufacturing scale, breadth of product range and to reduce the overall cost of building LIFX products
- This new manufacturing agreement follows the Company's refinancing arrangements last week, with the addition of further manufacturing capacity (on commercially standard payment terms) being a condition of that financing
- Following execution of the new agreement, new orders have been placed for products that will be developed, certified, and manufactured for delivery in mid-2021
- Innotech will deliver both new products and be a new manufacturer for existing products in 2021.

13 January 2021 - Adelaide, Australia

Buddy Technologies Limited ("Company") (ASX:BUD), a leader in IoT and cloud-based solutions for making spaces smarter, is pleased to advise that it has executed a broad manufacturing agreement with Nanchang Innotech Homesmart Co. Ltd ("Innotech") to manufacture new and existing products for the Company. This agreement fulfils one of the conditions subsequent to the recently announced financing arrangements with Partners for Growth ("PFG", refer to the ASX announcements dated 5 January 2021).

Innotech is a world class manufacturer of consumer electronics, specialising in smart home products and in particular, smart lighting. Innotech operates two manufacturing facilities spanning over 45,000 square metres of production space, and with current staffing levels has a production capacity of over 4.2 million pieces per month, with mechanisms in place to expand further as needed. This represents a greater than 5x increase in potential capacity which the Company may draw down upon as future growth demands require.

LIFX is pleased to be joining a number of globally recognised brands with which Innotech works today, both as a partner and as manufacturer (including GE Lighting). Additionally, Innotech is an Amazon certified original design manufacturer ("ODM") for the supply of such certified products. Effective immediately, LIFX will have commercially standard payment terms on all orders with Innotech, and these terms align with the PFG working capital financing facility.

While Innotech is the current manufacturer of the LIFX Switch, it will now also commence development on new LIFX lighting products as well as begin to cost-reduce existing LIFX products. The Company has considerable confidence that Innotech will significantly bolster its overall manufacturing capacity when paired with Eastfield, and anticipates that new and existing lighting products manufactured by Innotech will first be delivered in early FY22 (with new orders for LIFX Switch products to be delivered prior).

With all prior manufacturing exclusivity obligations now terminated, LIFX anticipates adding additional manufacturing capacity and variety (ie: specialist manufacturers for particular products, such as glass-based lighting, strip-based lighting, etc...) to further expand the Company's product offerings, price competitiveness and overall market position. Further updates will continue to be provided by way of ASX announcements.
