BlackEarth's Managing Director, Tom Revy, said:

"The Board of BEM is delighted with the exceptional level of investor interest in this fund raising event.

There is significant recent research that indicates that as the world shifts toward embracing alternative energy sources, related industries could encounter a major shortage of graphite in the near future and Madagascar is well known for providing world class, high grade product that can have a major impact on filling the growing demand for this mineral. Furthermore, graphite is finally being recognised as one of the key critical commodities that must be made available and used in the production of lithium-ion batteries and the new, rapidly expanding electric vehicle (EV) and alternative energy markets.

BlackEarth have previously demonstrated that product from our projects in Madagascar is most suited for use in the EV and alternative energy markets and the completion of this raising will go a long way to completing our plans for construction of a plant in Madagascar and also assist us to conclude our downstream processing plans in conjunction with industry leading partners.

This is an exciting time in the development of Company and we look forward to providing our shareholders with updates of our continued growth throughout 2021"
