Hiremii strengthens senior management team

Technology-driven full-service labour hire and recruitment company Hiremii Limited (ASX:HMI) ("Hiremii" or "the Company") is pleased to advise that Mr Andrew Stone has been appointed as Chief Operating Officer. Andrew is a recruitment professional with 25+ years' experience in technical and trade markets across Europe, the Middle East, Australia and South East Asia. Over the course of his career, Andrew has developed a broad range of skills, including coaching & mentoring, cross functional team management, client development and retention and strategic management.

Andrew's experience also includes working as an industrial consultant, a regional manager and in operations manager positions (the latter for retained search and selection). Andrew has also held major project recruitment positions, including finding contract and permanent technical professionals and specialist trades for clients in the resources sector.

Andrew has held these roles in a number of industrial sectors, including automotive, aerospace, oil, gas, mining, power and infrastructure. Andrew was previously a long-time senior executive at Tecside Group.

Hiremii CEO Christopher Brophy said: " I am thrilled to welcome Andrew Stone to our senior management team. The experience and networks he brings to the Company, many of which are recruitment sector-specific, form the first step in our geographical expansion into Victoria and New South Wales and the establishment of enhanced customer support and operational functions."

About Hiremii Limited (ASX:HMI)

Hiremii Limited (ASX:HMI) is a technology-driven full-service labour hire and recruitment company with two core business components, Hiremii Recruitment Pty Ltd, a fixed fee recruitment business, and Oncontractor Pty Ltd, a recruitment and full-service labour hire business, providing digitised employee onboarding and labour hire services.

Both businesses use Hiremii's cloud-based platform which utilises machine learning and artificial intelligence to remove the tedious manual tasks associated with the recruitment and onboarding process, pre-vetting and shortlisting candidates based on employers' specific requirements.
