Medical Equipment Service Platform

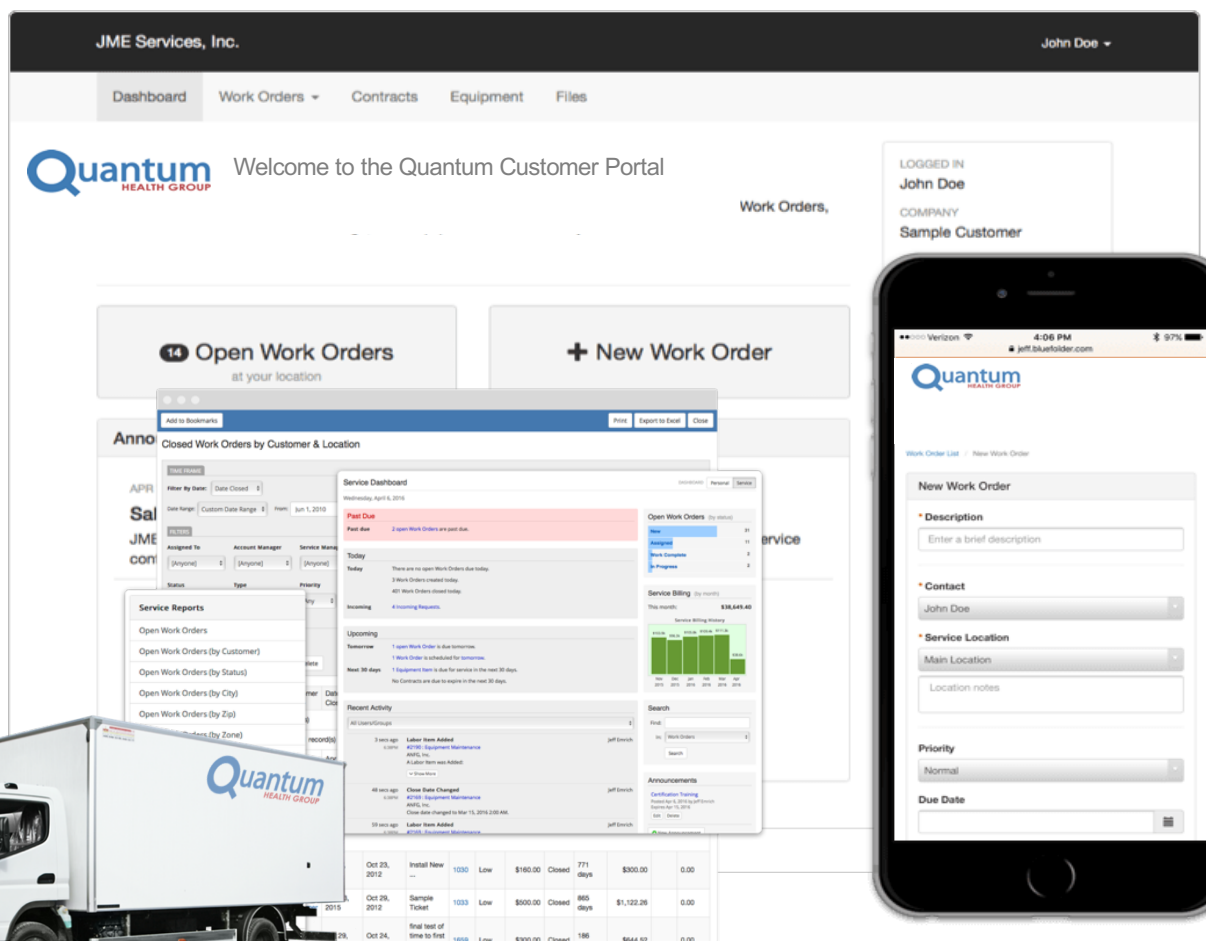

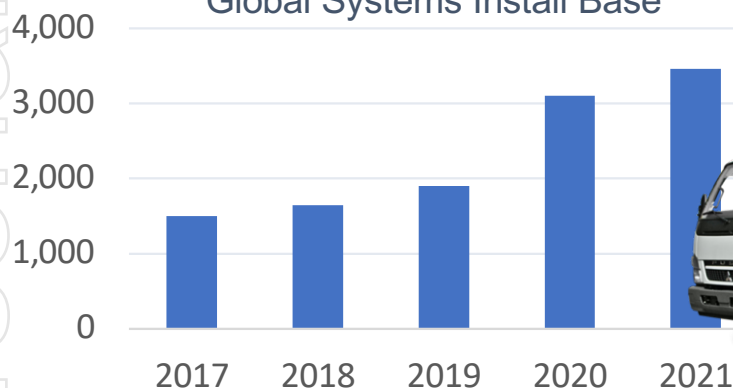

Quantum

Quantum's global service business provides high margin, repeat business with high barriers of entry for competition and long-term customer retention.

We employ over 75 trained field service engineers with the ability to export this expertise into new markets. Quantum's installed base has grown to over 3,500 medical systems across Asia.

Quantum utilises a cloud based Mobile/Web call center, customer portal and field service management providing first class customer support, service auditing which is being fully integrated to NetSuite ERP.

Quantum Growth Strategy

Quantum has conducted a strategic review of its operations to identify key growth opportunities both organically within our businesses and new acquisition opportunities across Asia.

We have focused our business across key healthcare growth markets in medical imaging, aesthetics, oncology and Medical AI technologies.

Our Unique Focus

Quantum has established itself as a leading healthcare equipment distributor for over 20 years. Our focus into Asia has unlocked substantial growth opportunity in highly profitable, less competitive markets.

Corporate Restructuring

Since 2017 Quantum has embarked on a re-structure of its legacy energy business to build a strong Asia-wide healthcare distribution business. In the last three years Quantum has delivered strong profit growth and established a solid platform for future investment and growth.

Future Opportunity

Quantum has long standing relationships with leading global suppliers and customers across Asia, we continue to grow our installed base providing long-term recurring service revenues. Our stronger financial position has created both organic and accretive growth opportunities.

- Recent Carestream Health acquisitions have resulted in both higher ongoing service revenues and gross profit margin. The contribution from these acquisitions has offset the reduction of sales revenue impacted by Covid-19.
- With the sustained growth in our business, Quantum did not seek Job-keeper assistance during this financial year.
- The reduction in travel and marketing expenses due to Covid-19 should be substantially sustained long-term due to new communication technology and business practices.
- Freight expenses increased due to a rise in Covid-19 impacts on global logistics costs.

Business Model Transition

Business Mix

Shift to Higher Margin, Recurring Service Model

- Growing service business provides long term re-occurring revenue streams at much higher margins.
- Quantum has been actively re-aligning its business mix to a reoccurring, higher margin service model which resulted in a small decline in revenue of 6% but significantly increased the operating profits by 20%, as shown.
- During 2020, Quantum acquired the service businesses of Carestream in Australia, New Zealand and Philippines which significantly increased our service install base to over 3,500 systems.
