Letter from the Chair

Dear fellow Shareholder,

On behalf of the Directors of SenSen Networks Limited (Company, or SenSen), I am pleased to offer you the opportunity to participate in the share purchase plan (SPP) which was announced on 5 November 2021. The SPP allows Eligible SenSen Shareholders the opportunity to each subscribe to apply for up to $30,000 worth of new, fully paid ordinary shares in the Company (subject to discretionary scale back) (SPP Shares), without incurring brokerage or other transaction costs, on the terms set out in this Booklet (SPP Offer).

The SPP Offer is not underwritten.

The SPP is part of a wider capital raising being undertaken by SenSen. As announced on 5 November 2021, the Company is also progressing a share placement to Institutional Investors (Placement).

All of the SenSen Directors are taking up Shares in either the SPP or the Placement.

Use of proceeds

Proceeds raised from the Placement and SPP will be used to fund sales, presales and marketing, ongoing research and development, technology platform, product development and patents and working capital, project management and offer costs.

Further details are contained in the ASX Announcements dated 5 and 9 November 2021.

SPP Offer Details

The SPP provides you with the opportunity to increase your holding of fully paid ordinary shares in the Company at the same issue price paid by Institutional Investors under the Placement, being $0.12 per SPP Share. The issue price represents a 9.9% discount to the volume weighted average market price of Shares on the ASX during the 5 trading days on which sales in shares were recorded immediately prior to the announcement date of the SPP on 5 November 2021 ($0.1332).

You may apply for a parcel of SPP Shares valued at $1,000, $2,000, $5,000 and thereafter in $5,000 increments, up to a maximum of $30,000 (in aggregate) (subject to discretionary scale back by the Company). Participation in the SPP is optional and open to Eligible Shareholders, being holders of fully paid ordinary shares in the Company at 7:00pm (AEDT) on 4 November 2021 (Record Date) and whose address on the Register is in Australia or New Zealand. The SPP is also being extended to Eligible Shareholders who are Custodians to participate in the SPP on behalf of certain Eligible Beneficiaries on the terms and conditions set out in this Booklet. Your right to participate in the SPP is not transferable. All SPP Shares will rank equally with existing Shares in the Company.

The terms and conditions of the SPP and your personalised Application Form are provided in this Booklet. The SPP is not underwritten and aims to raise approximately $5 million. If applications for more than this amount are received, the Company may in its discretion accept oversubscriptions above this amount, subject to compliance with the ASX Listing Rules and ASIC Corporations (Share and Interest Purchase Plans) Instrument 2019/547. The Company may also in its discretion undertake a scale back of applications for SPP Shares. Therefore, you may receive less than the parcel of SPP Shares for which you have applied. Should this happen, the balance of any Application Money that is not applied to acquire SPP Shares will be refunded to you, without interest.

I urge you to read these materials in their entirety and seek your own financial, taxation and other professional advice in relation to the SPP, before you decide whether to participate.

The SPP opens on 9 November 2021 and is expected to close at 5.00pm (AEDT) on 6 December 2021.

To apply for SPP Shares, you must make a payment directly via BPAY® (or by EFT for New Zealand Shareholders).

If you have any questions in relation to how to participate in the SPP, please contact the Registry on 1300 855 080 (callers within Australia) or +61 3 9415 5000 (callers outside Australia) or consult your financial or other professional adviser.

On behalf of the Board of the Company, thank you for your ongoing support.

Yours sincerely

Subhash Challa
Executive Chairman
SenSen Networks Limited

This means that, up to and/or after the Issue Date, you may be able to buy Shares on the ASX at a lower price or higher price (depending on the market price of Shares on the relevant day) than the Issue Price.

Please read these terms and conditions carefully, as you will be bound by them in participating in the SPP. Shareholders accepting the SPP Offer will also be bound by the Constitution.

The key dates set out in section 1.1, above, and the key SPP information set out in section 1.2, above, form part of these terms and conditions. Capitalised terms have the meaning provided in the glossary set out in section 4, below, unless the context requires otherwise.

The SPP Offer will open on the Opening Date and close on the Closing Date.

If you choose not to participate in the SPP, your right to participate lapses on the Closing Date (or such other date as the Company determines).

The SPP Offer to each Eligible Shareholder (whether as a Custodian or on its own account) is made on the same terms and conditions.

The SPP Offer is non-renounceable and non-transferable and, therefore, Eligible Shareholders cannot transfer their right to purchase SPP Shares to a third party.

All references to "$" or "dollars" in these terms and conditions are references to Australian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

The SPP Offer is not made to Shareholders with a registered address outside of Australia or New Zealand.

2.4 Joint holders/Custodians

If two or more persons are registered on the Register as jointly holding Shares, they are taken to be a single registered holder of Shares for the purposes of determining whether they are an Eligible Shareholder and a certification given by any of them is taken to be a certification given by all of them.

Subject to these terms and conditions, Eligible Shareholders who are Custodians may participate in the SPP on behalf of each Eligible Beneficiary on whose behalf the Custodian is holding Shares.

2.5 Applications for SPP

Share Eligible Shareholders may apply for a parcel of SPP Shares valued at $1,000, $2,000, $5,000 and thereafter in $5,000 increments, up to a maximum of $30,000 (in aggregate) (subject to discretionary scale-back by the Company as described in clause 2.10 of this section 2).

No brokerage or other transaction costs will apply to the acquisition of SPP Shares.

Eligible Shareholders who wish to apply for SPP Shares must either:

- (a) For Australian Shareholders - make a payment via BPAY® in accordance with the instructions on the Application Form so that it is received prior to the Closing Date.
- (b) For New Zealand Shareholders – request EFT details through the offer information line to make a payment via EFT if unable to pay via BPAY® so that it is received prior to the Closing Date.

Eligible Shareholders who receive more than one offer under the SPP (for example, because they hold Shares in more than one capacity or in different registered holdings) may apply on different Application Forms for SPP Shares but may not apply for SPP Shares with an aggregate value of more than $30,000.

If you wish to subscribe for SPP Shares as a Custodian for one or more Eligible Beneficiaries, you must also complete and submit an additional Custodian Certificate that contains further certifications and details (required under the terms of ASIC Corporations (Share and Interest Purchase Plans) Instrument 2019/547) before your Application will be accepted. Applications by Custodians that are not accompanied by a duly completed Custodian Certificate will be rejected. Contact the Registry on 1300 855 080 (callers within Australia) or +61 3 9415 5000 (callers outside Australia) to receive the Custodian Certificate.

The Company, its officers and agents, may accept or reject your Application for SPP Shares at its discretion in whole or in part including, without limitation, if:

- (a) your Application does not comply with these terms and conditions;
- (b) it appears you are not an Eligible Shareholder;
- (c) your BPAY® payment (or EFT payment for New Zealand shareholders) is not received by the Registry by the Closing Date;
- (d) if you apply on behalf of an Eligible Beneficiary but do not provide a signed Custodian Certificate;
- (e) if you apply on behalf of an Eligible Beneficiary but provide an incomplete or incorrectly completed Custodian Certificate;
- (f) it appears that you are applying to purchase more than $30,000 worth of SPP Shares and Shares in aggregate (including as a result of Shares you hold directly, jointly or through a custodian or nominee arrangement) in the 12 month period prior to making the Application; or
- (g) payment of the Application Money is not submitted in Australian currency.

If the Company rejects your Application in whole or in part, the Company will (in its sole discretion):

- (a) refund the amount of your Application Money applied to payment for SPP Shares; or

- (b) allot to you the number of SPP Shares that would have been allotted had you applied for the highest designated amount that is less than the amount of your Application Money and refund to you the excess amount of your Application Money.

If you are entitled to a refund of all or any of your Application Money, the refund will be paid to you, without interest, as soon as is practicable, by direct credit or cheque to your address shown on the Register, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act.

2.6 Issue Price

The Issue Price will be $0.12 per SPP Share being the same price to be paid by Institutional Investors under the Placement announced on 5 November 2021.

For the purposes of paragraph 7(e)(i) of ASIC Corporations (Share and Interest Purchase Plans) Instrument 2019/547, the Issue Price was calculated by reference to the issue price to be paid by Institutional Investors under the Placement.

For the purposes of ASX Listing Rule 7.2 (exception 5), the Issue Price ($0.12) represents a 9.9% discount to the volume weighted average market price of Shares on the ASX during the 5 trading days on which trades in the Shares were made immediately prior to the announcement date of the SPP Offer.

In accordance with the requirements of ASIC Corporations (Share and Interest Purchase Plans) Instrument 2019/547, the Company confirms that the Issue Price is lower than the market price of the Company's Shares during a "specified period" (being the 5 trading days immediately prior to the announcement date of the SPP Offer). The market price of the Shares in the Company may rise and fall between the date of the SPP Offer and the date that any Shares are allotted to you as a result of your acceptance of the SPP Offer.

The current Share price can be obtained from the ASX and is listed in the financial and business section of major daily newspapers circulating in Australia.

You agree to pay the Issue Price per SPP Share for the number of SPP Shares you have applied for or, if there is a scale-back, the number of SPP Shares calculated under clause 2.10 of this section 2.

2.7 Number of SPP Shares to be issued

If you apply for SPP Shares, you will apply for a certain value, rather than a certain number, of SPP Shares. If your Application is accepted, the Company will divide the value of your Application Money by the Issue Price in order to determine the number of SPP Shares that, subject to scale-back, will be issued to you.

If this calculation produces a fractional number, the number of SPP Shares issued will be rounded down to the nearest whole SPP Share (refer to clause 2.10 for more information on rounding).

OPTION	DOLLAR VALUE OF SPP SHARES	NUMBER OF SHARES
1	$1,000	8,333
2	$2,000	16,666
3	$5,000	41,666
4	$10,000	83,333
5	$15,000	125,000
6	$20,000	166,666
7	$25,000	208,333
8	$30,000	250,000

2.8 Issue

SPP Shares will be issued on the Issue Date.

SPP Shares will rank equally with existing Shares as at the Issue Date.

The Company will apply to the ASX for the quotation of SPP Shares. It is anticipated that SPP Shares will be quoted on or shortly after the Issue Date.

2.9 Acknowledgements

 - (A) you are a Custodian (as that term is defined in ASIC Corporations (Share and Interest Purchase Plans) Instrument 2019/547);
 - (B) you held Shares on behalf of the Eligible Beneficiary or Downstream Custodian as at the Record Date who has instructed you to apply for SPP Shares on their behalf under the SPP and that that Eligible Beneficiary has been given a copy of this Booklet;

- (j) you authorise the Company, and its officers and agents, to do anything on your behalf necessary for SPP Shares to be issued to you in accordance with these terms and conditions.

2.10 Scale-back

As the SPP is not underwritten, the SPP may raise more or less than targeted amount ($5 million), in the event that subscriptions for more than $5 million are received for the SPP. If applications for more than this amount are received, the Company may in its discretion accept oversubscriptions above this amount, subject to compliance with the ASX Listing Rules and ASIC Corporations (Share and Interest Purchase Plans) Instrument 2019/547. Alternatively, the Company may decide in its absolute discretion to conduct a scale-back of applications.

Any scale-back may be applied to the extent and in the manner the Company sees fit, which may include taking into account a number of factors, such as the size of an applicant's shareholding at the Record Date, the extent to which the applicant has sold or purchased shares since the Record Date, whether the applicant has multiple registered holdings, the date on which the application was made and the total applications received from eligible shareholders.

If there is a scale-back you may receive less than the parcel of SPP Shares for which you have applied. If a scale-back produces a fractional number of SPP Shares when applied to your parcel, the number of SPP Shares you will be allotted will be rounded down to the nearest whole number of SPP Shares. Unless the Company exercises its right to scale-back Applications or refunds amounts by reason of not receiving one of the amounts designated on the Application Form (in which case, it will return any excess Application Money to you by cheque), the Company will retain any excess Application Money that is less than $5.00 as it is not practical to refund any amount of less than $5.00 to Shareholders.

Any Application Money received that are to be refunded, must be refunded without interest as soon as practicable in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act.

2.11 Shortfall

The offer under the SPP is not underwritten. To the extent that there is a shortfall in the subscription for SPP Shares under the SPP (Shortfall), the Directors of the Company reserve the right to issue the SPP Shares that comprises of the Shortfall to Institutional Investors at their absolute discretion, to the extent that any such placement of SPP Shares under the Shortfall can be made by the Company having regard to the ASX Listing Rules.

2.12 Variation and termination

The Company reserves the right at any time to:

- (a) amend or vary these terms and conditions;
- (b) waive strict compliance with any provision of these terms and conditions;
- (c) withdraw the SPP Offer or suspend or terminate the SPP;
- (d) accept late Applications under the Offer (subject to compliance with the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules);
- (e) vary the timetable for the SPP, including the Closing Date; and
- (f) not accept an Application, not issue SPP Shares or issue SPP Shares to a value less than that applied for under the SPP by an Eligible Shareholder (including a Custodian applying on behalf of its Eligible Beneficiaries or Downstream Custodian).

In the event that the SPP is withdrawn or terminated, all Application Money will be refunded as soon as practicable in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act. No interest will be paid on any money returned to you.

Appendices

Key Risks

Risks

Investors should be aware that an investment in SenSen involves risks. The key risks identified by SenSen are set out in the "Key Risks" section of the Investor Presentation (below), but these are not an exhaustive list of the risks associated with an investment in the Shares. You should consider these risks carefully in light of your personal circumstances, including financial and taxation issues, before making an investment decision in connection with the Offer. SenSen's financial position and performance, its dividends and the market price of SenSen's shares may be adversely affected, sometimes materially, by a number of risk factors. Holders of SenSen shares ("SenSen Shareholders") should accordingly be aware that an investment in SenSen carries a number of risks, some of which are specific to SenSen and some of which are general risks that relate to the industries in which SenSen operates or to listed securities generally. These risks mean that the price and value of SenSen shares may rise or fall over any given period. Some of these risks are beyond SenSen's control.

SenSen Shareholders should be aware of the following risks (which are some, but not necessarily all of the risks) which may affect the future operating and financial performance of SenSen and the value of SenSen shares. Additional risk and uncertainties that SenSen is unaware of, or that it currently considers to be immaterial, may also become important factors that adversely affect SenSen's operating and financial performance.

Before investing in SenSen shares, you should consider whether this investment is suitable for you. If any of the listed or unlisted risks actually occur, SenSen's business, operations, financial condition, or reputation could be materially and adversely affected, with the result that the trading price of SenSen's shares could decline, and investors could lose all or part of their investment. Potential investors should also consider publicly available information on SenSen (such as that available on the website of SenSen and ASX) and carefully consider their personal circumstances and consult their stockbroker, solicitor, accountant or other professional advisor to ensure they understand fully the terms of the Offer and the inherent risk before making an investment decision.

Key Risks Associated With SenSen's Business

COVID-19 pandemic

The COVID-19 pandemic has created an unprecedented level of uncertainty. SenSen continues to experience some minor impacts from COVID-19 including impacts on customer demand and results from short term lockdowns. Although the impact to SenSen's operations to date, and demand for its services, has not been significant, the evolution of the pandemic and any escalation of the government's response, including, further lockdowns, increased restriction of workforce movement, increased safety protocols, and reduction in demand from SenSen's customers may further negatively impact SenSen's operations.

Customer concentration

SenSen has exposure to a small number of key customers and infrastructure programs particularly within the government and transport sectors as sources of revenue and profitability. SenSen remains alert to factors that could disrupt or delay the flow of work from its major customers, and implement strategies to actively pursue the diversification of income streams both within and separate to those customers by developing and offering a broad range of services and geographic coverage.

New market entrants and technology risk

The emergence of new competitors in the market, or any technological developments providing an alternative to SenSen's product offerings could impact the market share that SenSen is able to acquire and cause downward price pressure on 'cloud' based consumer software, services and analytics platforms, thus reducing SenSen's margins and revenue. Further, existing providers of similar consumer services may seek to regain market share from SenSen which could impact SenSen's margins and revenue.

Availability of IT staff in the market

SenSen is reliant upon employees with specialist IT skills in order to develop and maintain its projects. Any shortage of availability of these skills in the IT employment market could impair the development and continued delivery of SenSen's products and business and the rate of such development and delivery. Such shortage could also cause wage inflation, which may impact on SenSen's profitability.

Dependence on third party servers and products

Part of SenSen's business model is reliant upon leased third party servers and the performance of those servers. If the servers upon which the technology of SenSen depends do not operate as expected then the services that SenSen provides may be adversely affected.

The majority of SenSen's products require the use of 'cloud' or other similar online management devices and as such the business model of SenSen is dependent upon the existence and ownership of these devices. There is no guarantee that these devices will continue to be as widely used as they are currently or that they will not be replaced by alternative devices upon which SenSen's technology will not function as intended which could impact on the profitability of SenSen.

Key Risks

Supply chain

Part of SenSen's business model is reliant upon the supply, or alternatively acquisition by the customer, of computer and electronic hardware, the majority of which is manufactured and supplied from countries other than Australia or the country in which the customer may be based.

There is no guarantee that the ability for SenSen and / or the customer to acquire such hardware will not be impacted by supply chain issues, for example, delays in shipping (due to pandemic, inclement weather, industrial action, or other events outside the control of SenSen or the customer), or market demand for such hardware outstripping supply to an extent rendering it difficult or impractical to acquire the requisite hardware on commercial terms or at all.

Customer demand

The rate of adoption of new technology by SenSen's customers, can impact future earnings. Whilst SenSen takes a balanced view on the level of customer demand that is expected to arise when forecasting financial performance, there is a risk that the level of customer demand may change over time. Should the level of customer demand decrease, SenSen may suffer from a loss of scale in its operations, which may in turn impact its operating margins and financial performance beyond the loss of volume.

In addition, the potential variability in customer demand presents operational challenges to SenSen. SenSen is conscious of the need to maximise the variability of its cost-base and structures by maintaining an appropriate balance between employees and contractors to ensure that services and costs can be ramped up and ramped down in accordance with customer demand. Processes are in place to attract, mobilise and retain key resources to ensure that they are available at the right time and right place to match customer demand as it changes over time.

Contract management and renewal of customer contracts

SenSen's operating model is premised on the provision of infrastructure-related services to customers under periodically renewed contracts. SenSen is therefore required to manage its exposure to risks that can arise through the acceptance of sub-optimal conditions in customer contracts and through the ineffective commercial administration of these contracts over their term. SenSen remains focused on ensuring that appropriate contract management disciplines are effectively embedded in the organisation to manage contract risks and to maximise contract entitlements.

Additionally, whilst SenSen has been successful in renewing and extending the majority of its customer contracts that have recently expired, the renewal of contracts remains a risk that SenSen continues to actively monitor and manage. SenSen operates in a limited number of market segments in which there are relatively few competitors. SenSen is particularly conscious of the risks related to the loss of business to competitors.

Reseller and commercialisation partner relationships

SenSen has entered into agreements with a small number of resellers and commercialisation partners in order to secure benefits, for example, the option, through the reseller or commercialisation partner, to supply the reseller or commercialisation partner's own customers as part of an aggregated value-added supply, to supply as a subcontractor, or to secure resources for further development of the core SenSen technology and systems.

SenSen remains alert to factors that could disrupt or delay the flow of work from such resellers and commercialisation partners, both on the part of the reseller or commercialisation partner itself (for example, non-performance or insolvency), or downstream customers, and implements strategies to actively pursue the diversification of income streams and minimise exposure to any particular reseller or commercialisation partner.

The rate of adoption of new technology by downstream customers of resellers and commercialisation partners is subject to the performance of those other parties and the update of SenSen products by those customers, and can impact future earnings. Should the level of reseller or commercialisation partner engagement, or engagement by their customers, decrease, SenSen may suffer a loss of scale in its operations, which may in turn impact its operating margins and financial performance beyond the loss of volume.

Information technology systems and cyber security

The availability of SenSen's 'cloud' platform is dependent upon the performance, reliability and availability of its IT and communication systems. This includes its core technologies such as computer services and back-end processing systems. These systems may be adversely affected by a number of factors including major events such as acts of terrorism or war, a breakdown in utilities such as electricity and fibre optic cabling and even pandemics. Events of that nature may cause one or more of those core technologies to become unavailable. There are also internal and external factors that may adversely affect those systems and technologies such as natural disasters, misuse by employees or contractors or other technical issues. SenSen's disaster recovery plans may not adequately address every potential event and its insurance policies may not cover loss or damage that SenSen suffers as a result of a system failure. The business is particularly reliant on the successful implementation and operation of its 'cloud' technology. There is a risk that the Company may fail to build and maintain a platform that is suitable to the needs of its business as it expands into new product offerings.

Key Risks

Security breaches and hacker attacks

A malicious attack on SenSen's systems, processes or people from external or internal sources could put the integrity and privacy of customers' data and business systems used by SenSen at risk. The impact of loss or leakage of customer or business data could include costs for rebates, potential service disruption, litigation, and brand damage resulting in reduced or failing revenues. SenSen follows best practice in relation to security policies, procedures, automated and manual protection, encryption systems and staff screening to minimise this risk. While SenSen complies with all applicable privacy legislation, ultimately risk can flow from the integrity of the systems on which the information is housed.

Environmental and climate change risk

SenSen and its customers operate businesses in a range of sectors and geographical locations which are exposed to environmental risks as well as risks related to climate change. A failure to manage these risks and respond appropriately could adversely impact SenSen's reputation and financial performance.

Funding risk

SenSen's banking facilities require SenSen to operate its business within facility limits and certain covenants that have been agreed with SenSen's financiers. There is a risk that financial underperformance may require concessions to be sought from SenSen's financiers or access to additional funding by way of subordinated debt or equity. Financial underperformance may impede the ability of SenSen to secure refinancing at competitive rates following expiry of current facility terms, compounding these issues further.

If SenSen fails to maintain its current creditworthiness, this could adversely affect SenSen's cost of funds and related margins, competitive position and its access to capital and funding markets. This could adversely affect SenSen's businesses, tenders for new contracts, financial performance, liquidity, financial condition and prospects. The extent and nature of these impacts would depend on various factors, including the extent of any change in creditworthiness, whether the creditworthiness of SenSen differs among credit funding providers and whether any creditworthiness changes also impact SenSen's peers.

Regulatory and litigation risk

SenSen is subject to regulatory and licensing requirements, and its business is sensitive to regulatory changes. Obtaining and maintaining approvals from regulatory bodies or other third parties can involve significant time and expense, and may adversely impact SenSen's operations. SenSen may also be subject to litigation in the future and there can be no assurance that the outcome of legal proceedings from time to time will not have an adverse effect on SenSen's businesses, financial performance, financial condition or prospects.

Infringement of third party intellectual property rights

If a third party accuses SenSen of infringing its intellectual property rights or if a third party commences litigation against SenSen for the infringement of patents or other intellectual property rights (including any intellectual property rights acquired as a result of the Acquisition), SenSen may incur significant costs in defending such action, whether or not it ultimately prevails. Typically, intellectual property litigation is expensive. Costs that SenSen incurs in defending third party infringement actions would also include diversion of management's and technical personnel's time.

In addition, parties making claims against SenSen may be able to obtain injunctive or other equitable relief that could prevent SenSen from further developing discoveries or commercialising its products. In the event of a successful claim of infringement against SenSen, it may be required to pay damages and obtain one or more licenses from the prevailing third party. If it is not able to obtain these licenses at a reasonable cost, if at all, it could encounter delays in product introductions and loss of substantial resources while it attempts to develop alternative products.

Infringement of intellectual property rights by a third party

If SenSen identifies that a third party has infringed its intellectual property rights, SenSen may incur significant costs in prosecuting such action, whether or not it ultimately prevails. Typically, intellectual property litigation is expensive. Costs that SenSen incurs in prosecuting third party infringement actions would also include diversion of management's and technical personnel's time.

In addition, while SenSen may be able to obtain injunctive or other equitable relief to prevent an infringing third party from further developing discoveries or commercialising its products, the granting of such an injunction is subject to the relevant Court's discretion and is not assured, and, if not granted, SenSen may incur risk of unfair competition until such time as judgment is made on the question of infringement. Additionally, the Court may direct, as a condition of such an injunction, that SenSen provide a guarantee or undertaking to pay the third party's losses should judgment be that the third party has not infringed SenSen's intellectual property rights. There is also a risk that the third party may seek, and obtain, a declaration that SenSen's relevant intellectual property rights are invalid, which would impact upon SenSen's relative market position and the value of its intangible assets.

Key Risks

Restraints on innovation

The emergence of technical developments providing an alternative to SenSen's product offerings could result in the acquisition by competitors to SenSen of intellectual property rights (e.g. patents) which may prevent SenSen from developing or commercialising its own discoveries in countries in which the third party has those intellectual property rights. Such third party intellectual property rights could impact the market share that SenSen is able to acquire in the affected countries.

Country/region specific risks in new and/or unfamiliar markets

SenSen has operations in a number of overseas jurisdictions and is exposed to a range of different legal and regulatory regimes, including in new jurisdictions in which SenSen is expanding its operations. As SenSen expands its presence in new international jurisdictions, SenSen is subject to the risks associated with doing business in regions that may have political, legal and economic instability or less sophisticated legal and regulatory systems and frameworks. As SenSen enters newer and less familiar regions, there is a risk that it fails to understand the law, regulations and business customs of these regions. This gives rise to risks relating to labour practices, foreign ownership restrictions, tax regulation, difficulty in enforcing contracts, changes to or uncertainty in the relevant legal and regulatory regimes and other issues in foreign jurisdictions in which SenSen may operate. This could interrupt or adversely affect parts of SenSen's business and may have an adverse effect on SenSen's business operations and financial performance.

Operational and reputation risk

SenSen is exposed to a variety of operational risks including those arising from process error, fraud, technology failure, security and physical protection, staffs skills, workplace safety, compliance, business continuity and crisis management. Further, the reputation and brand of SenSen and its individual products are important in attracting potential customers. Any reputational damage or negative publicity around SenSen or its products could adversely impact on SenSen's business.

Failure of risk management strategies

SenSen has implemented risk management strategies and internal controls involving processes and procedures intended to manage business risks as they arise. However, there are inherent limitations with any risk management framework as risks may arise that SenSen has not anticipated or identified, or its risk management processes and procedures may prove ineffective or inadequate, resulting in SenSen suffering unexpected losses or reputational damage, which could adversely impact SenSen's financial performance, financial position and prospects.

Changes to accounting policies and/or methods in which they are applied may adversely affect SenSen's business, operations and financial condition

The accounting policies and methods that SenSen applies are fundamental to how it records and reports its financial position and results of operations. SenSen must exercise judgment in selecting and applying many of these accounting policies and methods as well as estimates and assumptions applied so that they not only comply with generally accepted accounting principles but they also reflect the most appropriate manner in which to record and report on the financial position and results of operations. In recording and reporting its financial position there is a risk that these accounting policies may be applied inaccurately, and/or incorrect assumptions or judgments made, resulting in a misstatement of financial position and results of operations. This may lead to an adverse impact on SenSen's financial performance, financial position and prospects.

Insurance risk

SenSen maintains a level of insurance coverage. If SenSen's third-party providers fail to perform their obligations and/or its third-party insurance cover is insufficient for a particular matter or group or related matters, or there is an adverse event in respect of the third-party insurer or underwriter itself, the net loss to SenSen could adversely impact SenSen's financial performance, financial position and prospects. Future changes to insurance market conditions may also result in material or significant increases in the cost of obtaining insurance, and/or impact the ability for SenSen to obtain insurance coverage, including to the extent previously obtained or to a level it considers prudent for the scope and scale of its activities.

Strategic risk and reliance on external parties

A failure to execute SenSen's strategic objectives may result in a failure to achieve anticipated benefits and ultimately adversely impact SenSen's operations, financial performance, financial position and prospects. Further, SenSen's operations depend on performance by a number of external parties under contractual arrangements with SenSen. Non-performance of contractual obligations and poor operational performance of external parties may have an adverse effect on SenSen's business and financial performance.

Merger, acquisitions and divestments

SenSen may engage in merger, acquisition or divestment activities which facilitate SenSen's strategic direction. Any acquisition or divestment may result in a material positive or negative impact on SenSen's financial position. There can be no assurance that any acquisition (or divestment) would have the anticipated positive results, including results relating to the total cost of integration (or separation), the time required to complete the integration (or separation), the amount of longer-term cost savings, the overall performance of the combined (or remaining) entity, or an improved price for SenSen's shares. SenSen's operating performance, risk profile and capital structure may be affected by these transactions.

Key Risks

Offer and General Risks

Ordinary shares trade on ASX. The market price of ordinary shares on ASX may fluctuate due to various factors, including:

- the impact of COVID-19, or other pandemics or epidemics, and the measures taken to control their spread;
- the impact of government stimulus and other fiscal measures employed in response to COVID-19 and the timing and impact of when those measures cease to have effect;
- Australian and international general economic conditions (which have generally deteriorated in the context of COVID-19) (including inflation rates, the level of economic activity, interest rates and currency exchange rates), changes in government policy, changes in regulatory policy, the expressed views of regulators, investor sentiment and general market movements, which may or may not have an impact on SenSen's actual operating performance;
- operating results that vary from expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- changes in expectations as to SenSen's future financial performance, including financial estimates by securities analysts and investors;
- changes in market valuations of competitors;
- changes in dividends paid to shareholders, SenSen's dividend payout policy or SenSen's ability to frank dividends;
- announcement of the results of tenders, entry into or cessation of contracts, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments by SenSen or its competitors;
- changes in the market price of ordinary shares and / or other securities issued by SenSen or by other issuers, or changes in the supply of equity securities or capital securities issued by SenSen or by other issuers;
- changes in institutional or shareholder (including director) portfolio management or shareholding strategies;
- changes in laws, regulations and regulatory policy;
- SenSen's failure to comply with law, regulations or regulatory policy;
- other major Australian and international events such as hostilities and tensions, and acts of terrorism; and
- other events set out on pages 24 to 27 under the heading "Key risks associated with SenSen's business".

It is possible that the price of ordinary shares will trade at a market price below the Offer Price as a result of these and other factors. It is also possible that new risks might emerge as a result of Australian or global markets experiencing extreme stress or existing risks may manifest themselves in ways that are not currently foreseeable. There have been in recent months, and may be in the future, significant fluctuations and volatility in the prices of shares. In particular, the COVID-19 pandemic, and the continuing uncertainty as to its future impact on the Australian and global economies, has contributed to significant market falls and volatility, including on the prices of shares trading on the ASX (including the price of SenSen shares) and other foreign securities exchanges, which may materially adversely impact the market price of New Shares.

Dilution

If SenSen Shareholders do not participate in the Placement (of eligible) or SPP Offer, then their percentage shareholding in SenSen will be diluted and they will not be exposed to future increases or decreases in SenSen's share price in respect of those New Shares that would have been issued to them had they participated in the Placement (if eligible) or the SPP Offer. Similarly, SenSen Shareholders who are ineligible, unable to, or do not participate in the Placement or SPP Offer will have their percentage security holding in SenSen diluted.

Liquidity risk

SenSen Shareholders who wish to sell their ordinary shares may be unable to do so at an acceptable price, or at all, if insufficient liquidity exists in the market for ordinary shares. SenSen does not guarantee the market price or liquidity of ordinary shares and there is a risk that you may lose some of the money you invested.

Key Risks

Dividends may fluctuate or may not be paid

Dividends are discretionary and do not accrue. The rate of dividends may fluctuate or SenSen may not pay dividends at all. There is a risk that dividends may become less attractive compared to returns on comparable securities or investments. None of SenSen, SenSen's directors or any other person guarantees any particular rate of return on ordinary shares.

Taxation

Any change to the current rate of company income tax or tax law in jurisdictions where SenSen operates may impact on shareholder returns. Any changes to the current rates of income tax or tax law applying to shareholders, whether they are individuals, trusts or companies may similarly impact on shareholder returns. Current income tax laws may result in changes both beneficial and adverse to shareholder returns to tax attributes (including but not limited to future deductions, tax losses, and available tax credits and offsets) of SenSen.

Shareholders are subordinated and unsecured investors

In a winding up of SenSen, shareholders' claims will rank after the claims of creditors preferred by law, secured creditors and general creditors. Shareholders' claims will rank equally with claims of holders of all other ordinary shares. If SenSen were to be wound up and, after the claims of creditors preferred by law, secured creditors, general creditors and holders of subordinated instruments (if any) are satisfied, there are insufficient assets remaining, you may lose some or all of the money you invested in ordinary shares.

Future issues of debt or other securities by SenSen

SenSen may, at its absolute discretion, issue additional securities in the future that may rank ahead of, equally with or behind ordinary shares, whether or not secured. Any issue or conversion of securities may dilute the relative value of existing ordinary shares and affect your ability to recover any value in a winding up. An investment in ordinary shares confers no right to restrict SenSen from raising more debt or issuing other securities (subject to restrictions imposed under the ASX Listing Rules), to require SenSen to refrain from certain business changes, or to require SenSen to operate within potential certain ratio limits.

An investment in ordinary shares carries no right to participate in any future issue of securities (whether equity, hybrid, debt or otherwise), other than future pro rata issues if the shareholder is eligible to participate in the pro rata issue under relevant laws. No prediction can be made as to the effect, if any, such future issues of debt or other issues of securities may have on the market price or liquidity of ordinary shares.

Other external events

Acts of terrorism, an outbreak of international hostilities, labour strikes, civil wars or fires, floods, earthquakes, cyclones and other natural disasters (including where the frequency and severity of such events increase as a result of the effects of climate change), and outbreaks of disease and biosecurity threats such as COVID-19 may cause an adverse change in investor sentiment with respect to SenSen specifically or the share market more generally, which could have a negative impact on the value of an investment in ordinary shares.
