Legal Update

- On 16 December 2021 Shine Lawyers filed group proceedings in the Supreme Court of Victoria.
- The proceedings allege that EML did not comply with its disclosure obligations and engaged in misleading and deceptive conduct regarding disclosure. The allegations relate to EML's governance arrangements as regards its Irish subsidiary, PFS Card Services Limited (PCSIL), and PCSIL's interaction with the Central Bank of Ireland (CBI).
- EML does not consider that it has engaged in misleading and deceptive conduct, and considers that it has at all times complied with its disclosure obligations. EML has engaged highly experienced and leading class action defence lawyers and will vigorously defend the proceedings.
- It is currently premature to determine the impact (if any) of the class action on EML.
- As class action proceedings can take an extended period to resolve and EML is resolute in its intention to defend, EML has recognised a $10,500,000 provision for the highly likely legal costs that are expected to be incurred in defence of the claims. EML intends to seek an order for security for such costs from the class action Plaintiffs. Costs provided for are excluded from the underlying results.

Key Financial Messages

- GDV growth strong - up 209% driven by Sentenial acquisition and growth in all segments;
- Revenue growth strong - up 20% on PCP with growth from all segments;
- Gross Profit of $75.4m¹, up 12% on PCP, with GP margin of 66% down on PCP by 5%. GP impacted in H1 by a drop of $2.7m in net interest income relative to PCP, or a 4% impact on GP margin;
- Underlying Overheads growth of $9.3m², up 24% on PCP impacted by additional resources to support the CBI remediation, insurance and audit cost increases and the consolidation of Sentenial for 3 months from October 2021;
- The surge in Omicron in late November led to social distancing restrictions being introduced in December in certain key markets for our G&I segment, particularly Canada, Germany and the UK. We saw volumes in these markets impacted in the key seasonal period, impacting G&I volumes in H1. Despite this, G&I recorded record H1 GDV at $0.9bn;
- Expect 2H improvement - A number of initiatives have been completed or are underway that will deliver benefits to H2 FY2022 performance;
- We remain in line with our guidance expectations as H2 FY2022 will benefit from improved trading conditions, including:
 - improved interest revenue with further investments in bonds and the benefit of 40bps improvement in the GBP cash rate (+15bps in Dec 21 and +25bps Feb 22);
 - improved economics on revised commercial agreements with our schemes;
 - introduction of new inactive account maintenance fees on European GPR programs is expected to result in a recurring revenue stream and a non-recurring catch up for historical programs;
 - commenced launching new European programs in December as CBI licence restrictions eased;
- Provided $10.5m for highly likely future legal costs in relation to the Group proceedings brought by Shine Lawyers, which we intend to vigorously defend. We will be seeking a Court order for security over these costs. We have an insurance policy which we expect to cover this event, subject to a deductible element, however this asset cannot be recognised until it is considered virtually certain.

¹ Gross Profit is stated excluding the non-cash amortisation of the AASB3 fair value uplift to bond investments.

² Underlying Overheads excludes CBI and related costs including the provision for the Shine Group Proceedings litigation defence

Overheads

Underlying Overheads¹
$48.5m ▲24%

- Underlying overheads for the Group increased 24% on PCP.
- Increase primarily reflects continued investment in EMLs European operations, to implement the remediation plan in response to the CBI investigation. The PFS business accounted for 63% of the increase.
- The consolidation of the Sentenial Group from 1 October 2021 accounted for 23% of Group overheads increase.
- Employment related expenses fell to 63% of Group cash overheads primarily due to the increase in professional fees, risk and compliance and IT costs.
- Professional fees increased $0.6m vs PCP primarily as a result of additional internal and external audit fees required as a result of the CBI matter.
- Other costs increases were driven primarily by increased insurance costs.
- Capitalised $4.9m of internally developed software. This is in line with prior period however is a lower proportion of our total IT spend due to a focus on maintenance and remediation activities.
- Underlying overheads exclude CBI related costs of $2.2m and the provision for the Shine class action defence costs of $10.5m.

Overheads

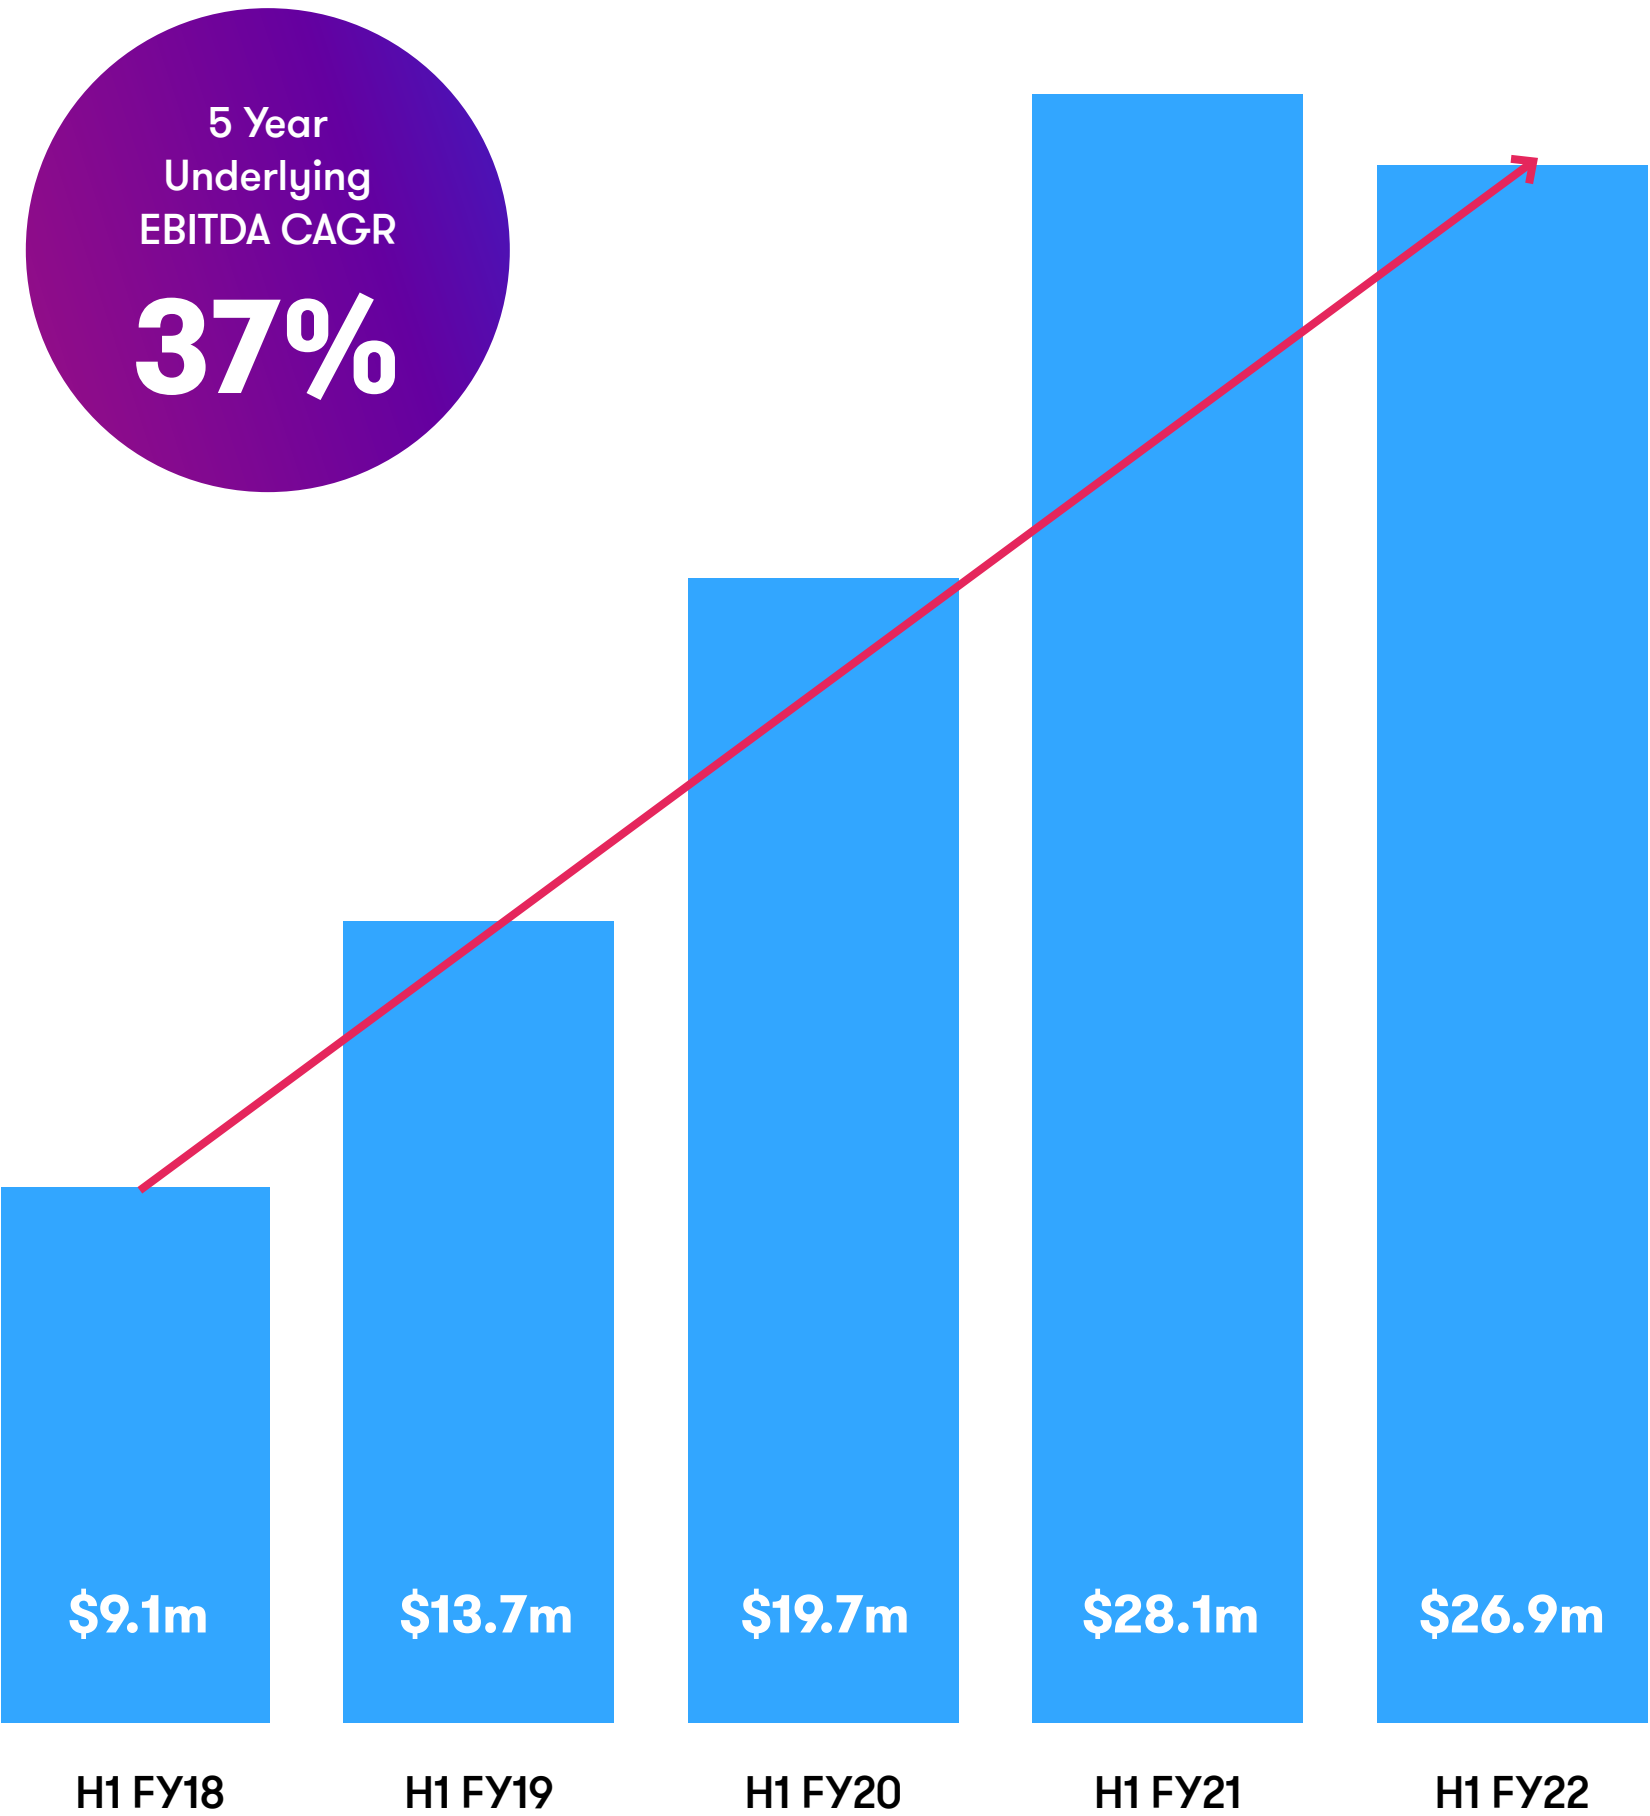

1 Underlying Overheads excludes CBI and related costs including the provision for the Shine Group Proceedings litigation defence.

Underlying EBITDA

In H1 FY2022 the Group has incurred or provided for $2.2m of costs in relation to professional advisory, remediation and other potential costs associated with resolving the CBI matter. Additionally a further provision of $10.5m has been raised for the likely legal costs involved in defending the action brought by Shine Lawyers.

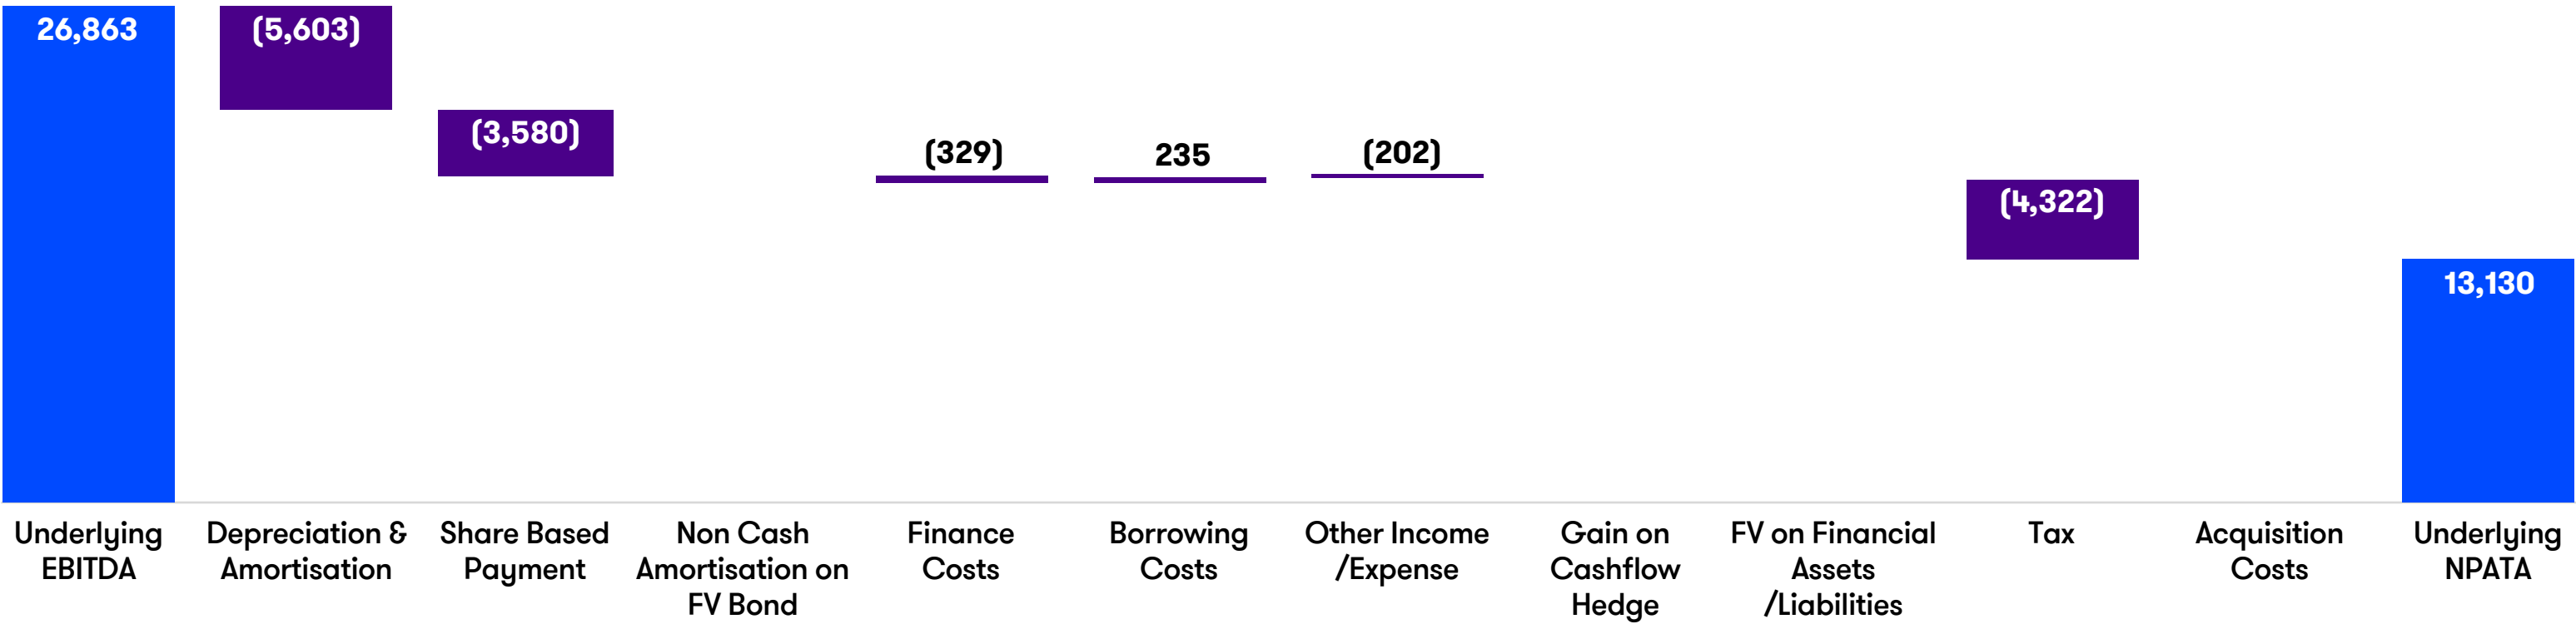

These costs are considered to be one-off in nature and are added back in arriving at Underlying EBITDA.

Cash on hand of $86.2m. Cash reduced during the period as EML paid $27.8m into the UK cardholder float in August 2021. This is expected to expire and return to cash between 2022 and 2028. The Sentenial acquisition was also partly funded by EML cash reserves of $16.3m.

Trade Receivables balances were higher in H1 FY2022 as the delayed receipt of two customer receivable balances totalling $8.6m which will be collected in H2 FY2022.

Contract asset increased $3.3m in the period as the G&I segment volumes rebounded from COVID impacts on prior years.

Segregated funds include low risk bond investments and cash held at financial institutions. The reduction in the non-current asset balance represents the reduction in the maturity profile of the Group's bond portfolio.

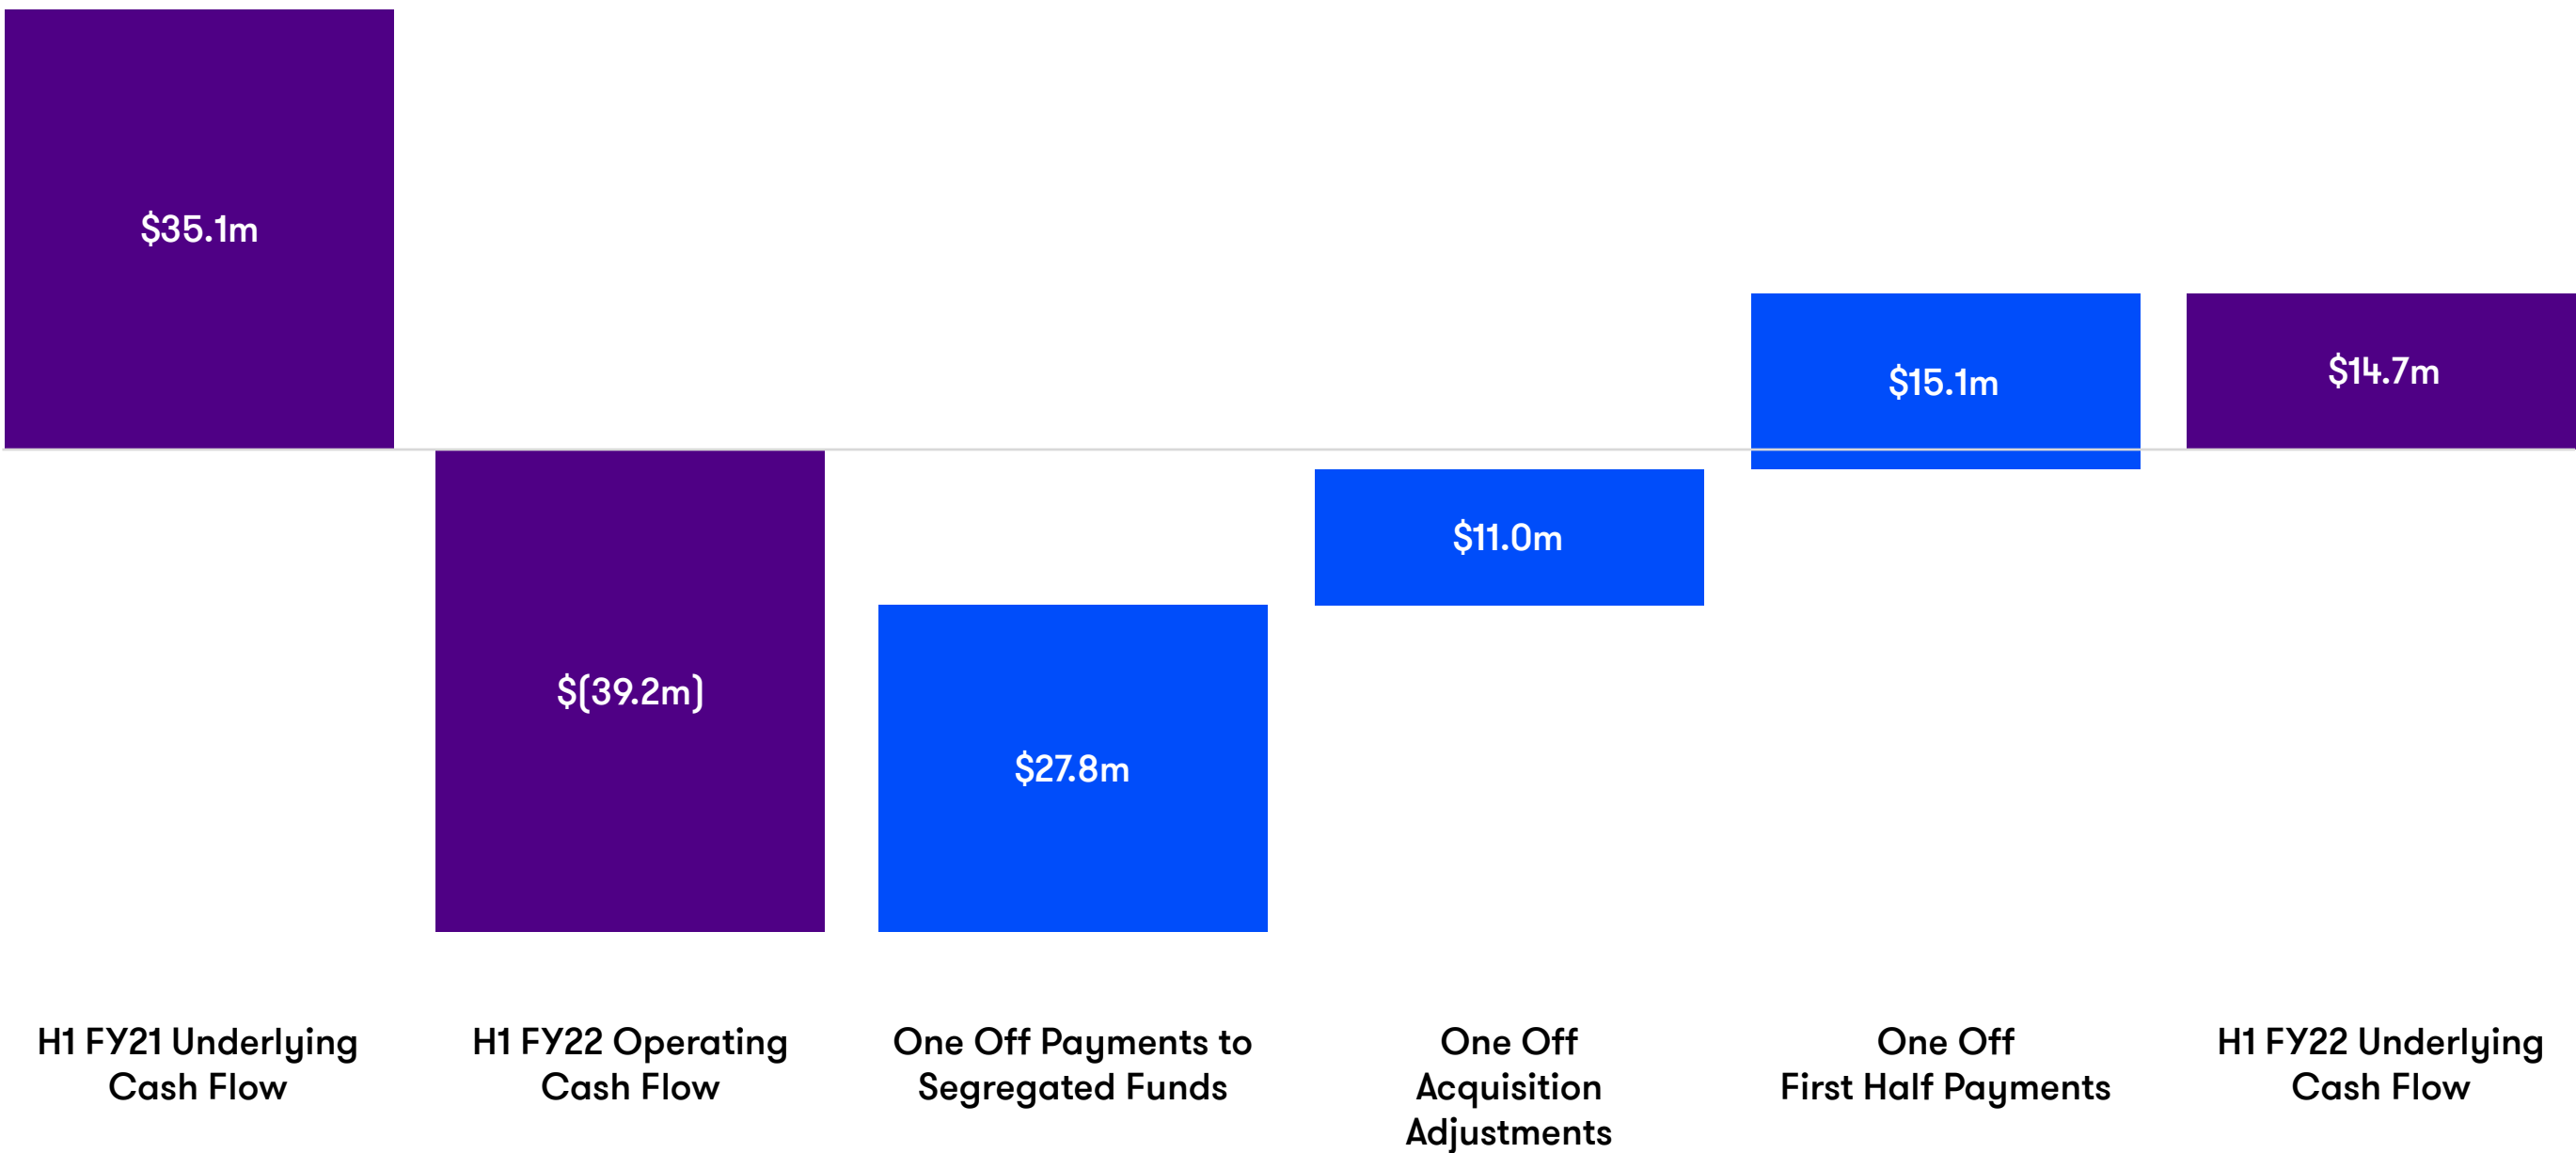

EML continued to invest in internally generated software (Intangibles) of $4.9m which offset $5.7m of amortisation in the period.

Contingent consideration increased during the period following the acquisition of the Sentenial Group.

1 Underlying EBITDA is equivalent to the net profit/(loss) for the period including R&D tax offset and excluding share based payments, depreciation and amortisation expense, acquisition expenses, non-cash unrealised foreign exchange and any costs related to the CBI matter which are included within the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income.

2 Underlying NPATA represents the profit generated by the business excluding all acquisition related costs including; amortisation, contingent considerations, share based payments, cash expenses that relate to acquisitions and any costs related to the CBI matter.

FY2022 - Financial Guidance

Assumptions:

01

Uncertainty regarding G&I segment volumes is largely resolved and we continue to assume that G&I will perform in line with seasonally adjusted trends, with no material new impact from Covid-19.

02

We are implementing opportunities to reduce dormant state balances including through reactivation programs to drive interchange revenue or dormancy fees. Subject to finalisation of this initiative, we expect a new recurring revenue stream and a non-recurring "catch-up".

03

We expect continued growth in the Digital Payments segment, particularly open banking. The pace of this growth is expected to accelerate in FY23 as our sales initiatives deliver results.

04

We have seen strong volumes in global GPR programs and a better program mix improving revenue yields. We expect to be able to launch new European programs under our CBI licence and do not expect a material impact from the growth directions which have been imposed.

05

FX rates (GBP & USD) have been net positive through to 31 December and we assume December fx rates do not materially change through to 30 June 2022.

06

Central Bank interest rates forecasted based on announcements as at February 2022 and are expected to remain stable through FY22. Subject to regulatory approval, more active treasury management on the Euro float and improved yields is expected to largely offset lower net interest in H2 FY2022 (H1 FY2022: $2.7m reduction on PCP).

07

Overheads are tracking in line with expectations announced at our AGM in November with higher overheads driven by new roles in Europe to address CBI matters, higher insurance costs and higher internal and external audit fees.

08

Provisions booked for remediation and any potential enforcement action of the CBI matter are sufficient to cover actual costs incurred.

09

Provisions booked in relation to legal defence costs for the Group Proceedings are sufficient to cover the actual costs incurred. The contingent asset for the insurance claim is not expected to be virtually certain until FY2023.

FY2022 Financial Guidance

Interest Rates & Stored Float

Overview

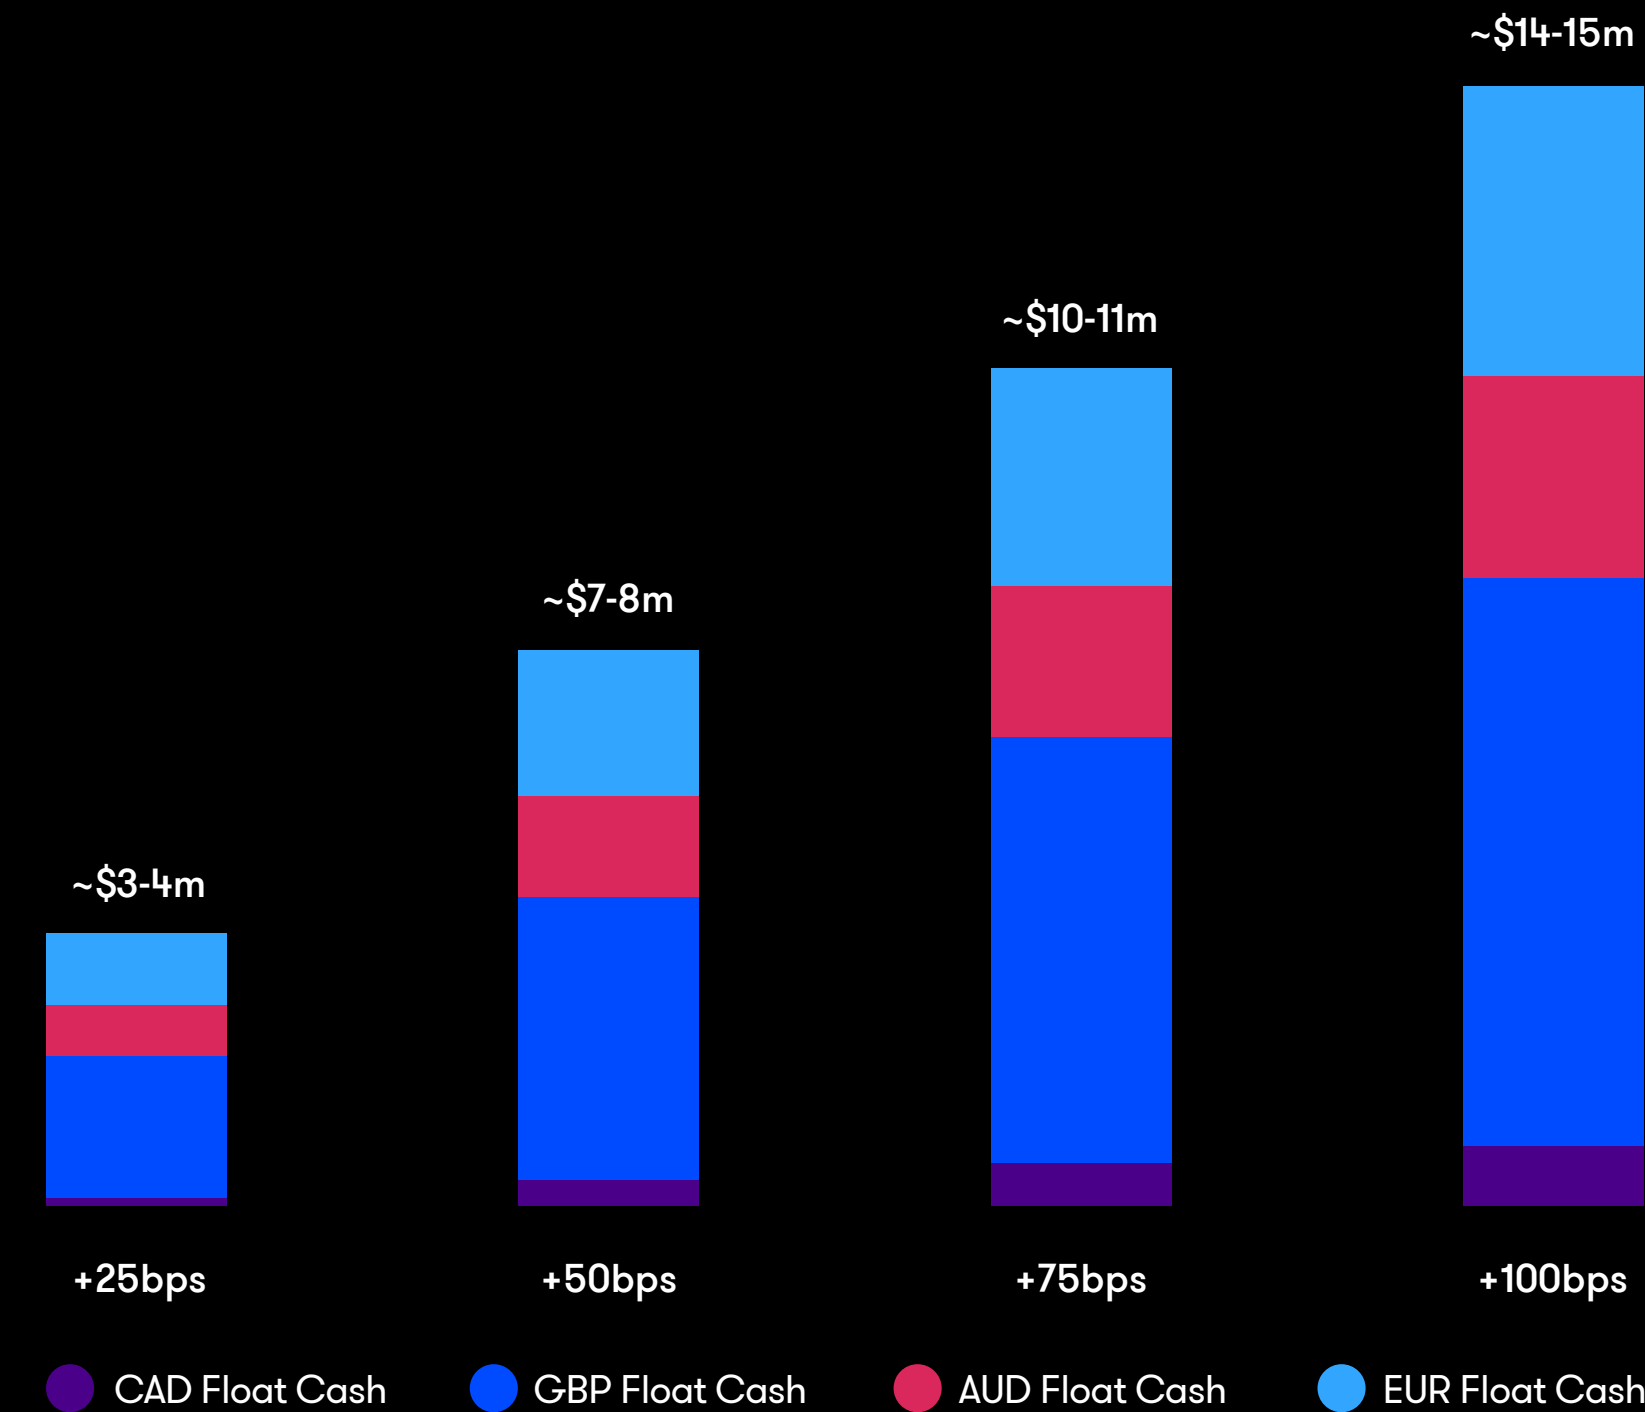

- EML benefits as interest rates rise due to our large Stored Value Float
- As at 31 December 2021, EML held an AUD equivalent of $2.7b in its stored float, $2.3b of which was held in cash and a further $400m in highly rated, low-risk bonds

Current Central Bank Positions

- The US Federal Reserve kept rates unchanged at its January 2022 meeting but noted "with inflation well above 2% and a strong labor market," it expects to soon raise the target fed funds rate
- The Bank of England raised interest rates at its February 2022 meeting by 25bps following a 15bps increase in December 2021
- The Reserve Bank of NZ increased the target cash rate by 25bps in both October and November 2021
- Key members of the European Central Bank have also indicated there may be a need to raise EUR rates toward the end of calendar year 2022 depending on the medium term inflation outlook

EML Stored Float & Rising Interest Rates

- Based on our current banking arrangements, if rates across all jurisdictions were to rise 1% from the current historic lows, this would add $14-15m to annual EBITDA
- EML previously announced it is looking to increase the size of its low risk bond portfolio to offset negative interest rates being experienced on EURO balances which will help to improve returns in H2 FY2022
