

Resignation of Non-Executive Director

Sydney | New York, 2 March 2022 -- Douough Ltd (ASX:DOU), the purpose-led fintech and banking super app helping customers autonomously manage and grow their money to live financially healthier lives, advises that due to increasing commitments and heavy workload, Mr Patrick Tuttle is no longer able to commit the required time and has therefore resigned as a Non-Executive Director of Douough, effective 28 February 2022.

Commenting on his departure, Patrick Tuttle stated:

"It has been a pleasure to support Douough from its founding as an early stage investor and advisor, and more recently serve as its director. Working closely with Andy and the Board to help guide the Company through its ASX listing, US launch, its acquisition of Goodments and its planned launch in Australia."

"The Company is at the beginning of an exciting scale up journey and with the foundation technology now in place, minimum viable product established, I have no doubt in Andy and the team's ability to successfully guide the Company through the next phase of growth and beyond."

"Douough's value lies in both its capital-lite operating model (white-label partnerships and integrations with licenced financial institutions), as well as its technology stack. I'm excited about the road ahead."

Douough's Founder and CEO Andy Taylor said:

"On behalf of the Board and team at Douough, I would like to sincerely thank Patrick for his contribution and commitment to the Company during his time as a director. Patrick was an initial seed investor in the business and has assisted me throughout, contributing his extensive experience and expertise, we wish him all the best for the future."

Mr Tuttle's Appendix 3Z is attached to this announcement.
