K2fly Limited (K2F, K2fly or the Company) (ASX: K2F), is a provider of 'net positive impact' solutions in Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) compliance, disclosure and technical assurance, to operations of mining and asset intensive industries through its platform-based SaaS cloud solutions. The Company provides an update on an ongoing investigation.

In accordance with listing rule 3.1, this announcement provides details of a suspected fraud event which K2fly has recently identified and is currently investigating.

The Company has been investigating discrepancies between the records of its South African registered subsidiary (Subsidiary) and the records of the local taxing authority. A top tier accounting firm has been appointed as an external advisor to conduct a forensic review of the Subsidiary's tax compliance and to investigate the discrepancies. The Company initially disclosed details of a contingent liability of AU$323,500 in its Half Year Report for the period ended 31 December 2021, released on 28 February 2022.

The Company has now received a progress memorandum on the investigation from our advisors at 9.12pm AWST Monday 7th March. Although the investigation is ongoing, based on the progress memorandum the Company suspects that a fraud is likely to have occurred within the Subsidiary's South African office, perpetuated by a former employee of that office and who had been appointed as its public officer to deal with the Subsidiary's taxation affairs.

The suspected fraud may have been ongoing for a period of time. The employee is no longer employed by the Subsidiary and no longer its appointed public officer. The financial management of the Subsidiary has been taken over by the Australian-based team, under the oversight of the Company's Chief Financial Officer.

The progress memorandum has identified there are suspicious payments totalling AU$745,000 to two accounts – which are not yet accounted for and details of the recipients are still to be identified.

The Company is exploring all options of financial recovery through the investigation process and insurance channels. The Company has insurance cover in place, which is likely to partially cover the exposure, however a claim has not yet been lodged and it remains uncertain whether a claim would be successful. Further details will be provided in due course.

The investigation is ongoing and the Company is working with the relevant authorities.

Announcement released with authority of K2fly Board.
