RESOLUTION OF LEGAL DISPUTE BETWEEN AMPOL AND EG, ENABLING AMPOL BRAND ROLLOUT AT EG SITES TO COMMENCE

Ampol Limited (ASX:ALD) today announces that Ampol and EG have resolved the dispute relating to the Fuel Supply Agreement that was novated from Woolworths to EG in 2019.

Ampol welcomes the resolution of the dispute to the mutual benefit of both parties. In reaching agreement between the parties:

- Ampol will be the exclusive supplier to all stores within the EG Australian network under the Fuel Supply Agreement, with no material impact to Ampol's earnings
- EG will discontinue its Federal Court proceedings against Ampol Limited and Ampol will discontinue its cross-claims against EG
- EG will provide Ampol access to their network to allow works to convert their sites to the iconic Ampol brand to commence and complete by the end of the year

Matt Halliday, Managing Director and CEO, said: "This is a positive development for both parties and follows constructive dialogue with EG's team and the outperformance of the Ampol rebranded sites across key retail metrics that provided the opportunity to reset the relationship. EG is one of Ampol's most important partners and the increasing alignment between us comes at a time when the market is recovering from the worst effects of the pandemic. The presence of the Ampol brand in the Australian market will substantially increase with the entire network of almost 1,900 sites rebranded by the end of 2022."
