ASX Release

Alliance Aviation Services Limited (“Alliance”) (ASX:AQZ)

Alliance announces additional E190 aircraft acquisition

- Alliance has executed a contract to acquire an additional E190 aircraft.
- The aircraft is a sister ship to the two E190’s acquired in mid-2021.
- The aircraft will be based in Adelaide to support fleet expansion and base simplification.

Alliance today announces it has executed an Aircraft Sale and Purchase Agreement for an additional E190 aircraft. This acquisition will take the E190 fleet to 33.

This aircraft was previously operated by Helvetic Airways in Switzerland and is a sister ship to VH-XFL and VH-XFM, which were acquired in mid-2021 and are both based in Adelaide. The aircraft is already in Australia and only requires minor maintenance and to be painted in Alliance livery before it can commence revenue operations.

Alliance’s Managing Director, Scott McMillan, commented, “Acquiring the sister ship of the two E190’s servicing contracted routes out of Adelaide will enable Alliance to re-deploy Fokker capacity elsewhere across the network. In addition, basing this aircraft in Adelaide will also lead to base simplification by creating efficiencies across crewing, operational and engineering services.”
