Release Time IMMEDIATE

Date 8 April 2022

Release Number 11/22

Update on BHP Petroleum and Woodside merger and share distribution information

BHP Group (BHP) and Woodside Petroleum Ltd (Woodside) entered into a share sale agreement (SSA) for the merger of BHP's oil and gas portfolio with Woodside by an all-stock merger (Merger) on 22 November 2021. On completion of the Merger, the combined company is expected to have a high margin oil portfolio, long life LNG assets and the financial resilience to help supply the energy needed for global growth and development over the energy transition.

Woodside has today published an explanatory memorandum and notice of meeting for the Woodside shareholder vote scheduled for 19 May 2022. Woodside has also released the Independent Expert's Report prepared for Woodside shareholders, which has concluded that the Merger is in the best interests of Woodside shareholders, in the absence of a superior proposal.

This announcement contains information relevant for BHP shareholders in respect of the Merger and the proposed in specie dividend of Woodside ordinary shares (Woodside Shares) to BHP shareholders.

Highlights

- Completion of the Merger is on track and is targeted for 1 June 2022, subject to satisfaction of conditions precedent including approval by Woodside shareholders.
- BHP is expected to receive 914.8 million newly issued Woodside Shares at completion and determine a fully franked in specie dividend of the Woodside Shares to BHP shareholders.
- BHP shareholders are expected to be entitled to one Woodside Share for every 5.5340 BHP shares they hold on the Record Date.
- Based on Woodside's share price of US$25.55 at 6 April 2022, the implied value of BHP Petroleum is US$23.4 billion. At this valuation, which is subject to change, the in specie dividend would be US$4.62 with US$1.98 of franking credits being distributed per BHP share (US$10.0 billion of franking credits in total).
- Woodside will retain its primary listing on the ASX and is seeking a standard listing on the LSE and a sponsored Level III ADR program on the NYSE from completion of the Merger.
- A share sale facility will be in place for eligible small BHP shareholders who elect to participate, and for shareholders who are ineligible to receive Woodside Shares.

Merger continues to progress

Completion of the Merger is targeted for 1 June 2022 subject to conditions precedent being satisfied including:

- approval by Woodside shareholders at the Woodside general meeting scheduled for 19 May 2022;
- KPMG Corporate Finance (in its capacity as Woodside's independent expert) not changing its conclusion that the Merger is in the best interests of Woodside's shareholders; and
- approval by the National Offshore Petroleum Titles Administrator (NOPTA).

All required regulatory and competition approvals have been obtained, other than the NOPTA approval which is expected prior to completion. If a condition precedent has not been satisfied or waived by 30 June 2022 either party may terminate the SSA, unless the parties agree to extend the deadline (which they must consider in good faith).

Woodside disclosure documents¹

Woodside has today published an explanatory memorandum and notice of meeting for the Woodside shareholder vote to approve the Merger. The Woodside shareholder meeting is scheduled for 19 May 2022.

In addition, Woodside expects to publish the following documents in mid-April 2022:

- United Kingdom prospectus (Woodside UK Prospectus), which has been produced in connection with Woodside's application for admission of all of its ordinary shares to the standard listing segment of the Official List and to trading on London Stock Exchange's (LSE) Main Market for listed securities; and
- United States registration statement under the US Securities Act of 1933 (Woodside US Registration Statement) and Woodside has applied to list its American depositary shares representing Woodside Shares (Woodside ADSs) on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE).

These documents include information on the Woodside Shares that are intended to be distributed to BHP shareholders in connection with the Merger via a BHP in specie dividend, and it is expected that they will be made available (once published) at <https://www.woodside.com.au/investors/woodside-and-bhp-proposed-merger>. The Woodside UK Prospectus is also expected to be submitted by Woodside to the UK National Storage Mechanism and available in due course at <https://data.fca.org.uk/#/nsm/nationalstoragemechanism>.

In specie dividend of Woodside Shares to BHP shareholders

On completion, BHP is expected to receive 914,768,948 Woodside Shares as consideration for the sale of BHP Petroleum. BHP intends to determine a fully franked in specie dividend and distribute the Woodside Shares to BHP shareholders on the basis described below.

¹ The Woodside disclosure documents described in this announcement have been issued by, and are the responsibility of, Woodside other than to the extent that another party has positively and expressly accepted responsibility for information in such documents.

The dividend is expected to be paid on 1 June 2022 to each BHP shareholder on the BHP register² at the close of business on 26 May 2022 (Record Date). BHP shareholders will be entitled to a pro-rata share of the Woodside Shares received by BHP based on the number of BHP shares they hold on the BHP register on the Record Date.

The current estimate of the dividend entitlement is that BHP shareholders will receive one Woodside Share for every 5.5340 BHP shares. BHP shareholders will be entitled to a whole number of Woodside Shares, with any entitlement to a fraction of a Woodside Share that would have otherwise arisen being rounded down to the nearest whole number.

The rounding treatment in respect of shares held on behalf of BHP UK depositary interests (DIs) holders and shareholders on the BHP South African branch share register will be based directly on the DIs or shares held, respectively.

The arrangements governing the American depositary shares (each representing two fully paid BHP shares) (BHP ADS) and the BHP CSN Facility³ contemplate rounding of entitlements, and the rounding of the in specie dividend will occur according to the terms and conditions of those arrangements respectively.

Based on Woodside's share price of US$25.55⁴ at 6 April 2022, the implied value of BHP Petroleum is US$23.4 billion. At this valuation, which is subject to change, the in specie dividend would be US$4.62 with US$1.98 of franking credits being distributed per BHP share (US$10.0 billion of franking credits in total).⁵

Following payment of the dividend, BHP shareholders will receive their standard form of BHP dividend statement which will provide details of their specific entitlement to the in specie dividend.

The proposed in specie dividend will not be eligible for the BHP dividend reinvestment plan.

Eligibility to receive Woodside Shares

Most BHP shareholders will be eligible to receive the Woodside Shares distributed to them under the in specie dividend.

However, there are certain jurisdictions where the distribution of Woodside Shares by BHP is difficult or not permitted. BHP shareholders that have an address registered in the BHP register in these jurisdictions⁶ will have the Woodside Shares to which they are entitled sold via a Sale Facility⁷, with the cash proceeds determined under the Sale Facility being remitted to them (Ineligible Overseas Shareholders).

² The BHP register comprises the BHP Australian principal share register (comprising both the issuer sponsored sub-register and CHES sponsored sub-register), the BHP depositary interest register and the BHP South African branch share register (without double counting the shares held on the Australian principal share register on behalf of the BHP depositary interest holders or those on the South African branch share register). A reference to "BHP shareholder" in this announcement is a reference to any person registered in the BHP register.

⁴ Based on Woodside's share price of A$33.74 at 6 April 2022 converted at an exchange rate of AUD/USD 0.7572.

⁶ The address registered in the BHP Australian principal share register and BHP DI register will be used for these purposes. For shareholders on the South African branch share register, if you do not communicate to your CSDP that you are an Eligible SA Shareholder (as defined below), you will be assumed to be ineligible. BHP DI holders holding through the BHP CSN Facility will be treated as eligible to participate. BHP ADS holders will be treated as eligible to participate.

⁷ The sale facility is the facility organised by BHP pursuant to a Share Sale Facility Agreement under which a sale agent, J.P. Morgan Securities Australia Limited or one of its affiliates, will sell the Woodside Shares represented by (i) the aggregate of all fractions of a Woodside Share that are subject to the rounding treatment described above to ensure each BHP shareholder receives a whole number of Woodside Shares; (ii) the BHP shareholders whose address is registered on the BHP register on the Record Date in one of the following jurisdictions (Eligible Shareholders) will be eligible to have the Woodside Shares distributed to them: Australia, Canada, Chile, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jersey, Luxembourg, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Singapore, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Arab Emirates, United Kingdom and United States. BHP shareholders with a registered address in all other jurisdictions will be Ineligible Overseas Shareholders (except certain South African BHP shareholders who validly elect to receive Woodside Shares, as described below).^{8, 9}

Certain small BHP shareholders can also elect to participate in the Sale Facility and have the Woodside Shares to which they are entitled sold and the cash proceeds determined under the Sale Facility remitted to them (shareholders validly electing to do so being Selling Shareholders).

Cash payment between Woodside and BHP on completion

Separate to the receipt of Woodside Shares, on completion:

- Woodside will make a cash payment to BHP of approximately US$830 million in relation to cash dividends paid by Woodside between the Merger effective date of 1 July 2021 and completion. This represents the cash dividend that would have been received by holders of the Woodside Shares issued pursuant to the Merger had they been on issue on and from the effective date.¹⁰
- BHP will make a cash payment to Woodside for the net cash flow generated by BHP Petroleum between the Merger effective date of 1 July 2021 and completion (Locked Box Payment). From the effective date to 31 December 2021 only, this amounts to approximately US$900 million and the Locked Box Payment at completion will include the additional net cash flow generated by BHP Petroleum to the completion date. The Locked Box Payment will be reduced by the amount of cash remaining in BHP Petroleum at completion.

Where applicable, these amounts will be netted off.

dividend entitlement of Ineligible Overseas Shareholders; and (iii) Eligible Small BHP shareholders who have validly elected to have the Woodside Shares to which they are otherwise entitled sold via the Sale Facility. This Sale Facility is described in further detail below.

⁸ BHP retains the right to determine that BHP shareholders in any other jurisdiction in which BHP believes that it is not prohibited or unduly onerous or impractical to transfer or distribute the Woodside Shares are also Eligible Shareholders. Any participant in BHP employee share plans on the Record Date who are entitled to the distribution but whose addresses are shown in the employee share trust's or nominee's register on the Record Date as being in a jurisdiction outside of the jurisdictions described above will also be Ineligible Overseas Shareholders. South African shareholders should refer to the section on "What happens to South African resident BHP shareholders?"

¹⁰ BHP is entitled to approximately US$1.2 billion in relation to dividends paid by Woodside between the Merger effective date and completion. Approximately US$830 million of this amount will be paid in cash with the balance, which results from the take-up of Woodside's dividend reinvestment plan, factored into the 914.8 million of Woodside shares issued to BHP at completion.

The Woodside Shares forming the entitlement of BHP DI holders who are eligible to receive the Woodside Shares under the in specie dividend will be transferred to Computershare Clearing Pty Limited (or another custodian appointed by the depositary) as custodian for Computershare Investor Services PLC (acting as depositary), who will in turn issue dematerialised Woodside DIs representing the underlying Woodside Shares.

¹⁵ CREST is the system for the paperless settlement of trades in securities and the holding of uncertificated securities operated by Euroclear in accordance with the relevant system of which Euroclear is the operator.

Eligible Shareholders may not request to receive a different form of Woodside interests from what they will receive based on the table above and the manner and location of their BHP shareholding as at the Record Date (but may contact Woodside's share registry after completion to explore changing the form of their Woodside interest).

To what extent will BHP shareholders' information transfer to the Woodside share register?

It is intended that existing dividend currency elections, mandates to bank or building society accounts and global payment instruction given by BHP shareholders registered on the BHP Australian principal share register and on the BHP DI register (including the BHP CSN Facility) in relation to dividends paid by BHP, email addresses and instructions given to BHP in relation to notices and other communications, notings and any other binding instructions to the extent applicable, will continue to apply and will, as far as possible, be applied automatically to Woodside and the Woodside Shares which Eligible Shareholders receive, unless the BHP shareholder provides alternative instructions to the Woodside share registry after completion.

Australian Tax File Numbers (TFN), TFN exemptions or Australian Business Numbers (ABN) of BHP shareholders collected on behalf of BHP will not be communicated to Woodside and will not be carried over to apply to the Woodside Shares that BHP shareholders receive. Therefore, BHP shareholders that receive Woodside Shares under the in specie dividend should provide (and are expected to be prompted, on behalf of Woodside, for) their TFN, TFN exemption or ABN to Woodside after completion.

Woodside may be required to withhold tax (currently at the rate of 47%) on payments of dividends that are not fully franked and remit the amounts withheld to the Australian Taxation Office, unless BHP shareholders have provided a TFN, ABN or have informed Woodside that they are exempt from quoting your TFN or ABN (including because they are a non-Australian resident).

¹⁹ BHP ADS holders will receive a number of Woodside ADS that corresponds to the Woodside Shares received on the BHP Shares represented by BHP ADSs (subject to payment of taxes and applicable Woodside depositary and BHP depositary fees and expenses). While each BHP ADS represent two BHP shares, each Woodside ADS represents one Woodside Share. Based on the assumptions described in this announcement, upon implementation, BHP ADS holders as of the Record Date for BHP ADS, which is expected to be 5:00 pm on 26 May 2022 (EDT), are expected to be entitled to receive approximately 0.3614 of a Woodside ADS in respect of each BHP ADS owned at that time (subject to payment of taxes and applicable fees and expenses of Citibank, N.A., acting as the depositary of each of the BHP and Woodside ADSs (the BHP ADS Depositary and the Woodside ADS Depositary, respectively)). No fractional Woodside ADSs will be issued or delivered to holders of BHP ADSs.

Which small BHP shareholders can participate in the Sale Facility?

Eligible Shareholders on the Record Date:

- who are registered on the Australian principal share register and hold 1,000 BHP shares or less or on the BHP DI register and hold 1,000 BHP DIs or less²⁰ (Small Shareholder Threshold);
- whose registered address in the Australian principal share register or BHP DI register is in any of Australia, Canada, Chile, France, Germany, Ireland, Japan, Jersey, Luxembourg, Malaysia, New Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Arab Emirates and United Kingdom; and
- who are not, and are not acting for the account or benefit of persons, in the United States, (Eligible Small Shareholders), may elect to have all (and not some) of the Woodside Shares to which they would otherwise be entitled pursuant to the in specie dividend sold under the Sale Facility. Eligible Small Shareholders who validly elect to do so, will receive the cash proceeds determined under the Sale Facility free of any brokerage costs or stamp duty.

To participate in the Sale Facility, Eligible Small Shareholders must make a valid election. Eligible Small Shareholders that wish to participate in the Sale Facility should:²¹

- if they hold their BHP shares on the BHP Australian principal share register, submit their Sale Facility election online at www.bhppetroleumsharefacility.com.au or return a physical Sale Facility Election Form to BHP's share registry by no later than 5:00pm on 24 May 2022 (AEST).²² A physical Sale Facility Election Form can be requested by contacting the Shareholder Information Line on 1300 503 833 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4188 (international), Monday to Friday (excluding public holidays) between 8.30am to 7.30pm (AEST); or
- if they hold their BHP DIs through the BHP CSN Facility, complete and return by post the Sale Facility Form, that was despatched by post to their registered address, by no later than 1:00pm on 26 May 2022 (BST); or
- if they hold their BHP DIs in CREST, submit a Transfer to Escrow (TTE) instruction to settle by no later than 1:00pm on 31 May 2022 (BST) for the number of BHP DIs for which the dividend entitlement is to be sold. Further information for Eligible Small Shareholders wishing to make an election to participate in the Sale Facility through CREST is set out in Appendix 2 of this announcement.

²⁰ BHP reserves the right to reject elections to participate in the Sale Facility made by any BHP shareholder whose aggregate holding of BHP shares or DIs exceeds the Small Shareholder Threshold. If a BHP shareholder holds one or more parcels of BHP shares or DIs as a trustee or nominee for, or otherwise on account of, another person, that BHP shareholder may make separate elections in accordance with the election process in respect of each of those parcels. In order to make separate elections, the trustee or nominee must establish distinct holdings by 5:00pm on 24 May (AEST) on the BHP Australian principal share register or by 6:00pm on 26 May (BST) on the BHP DI register in respect of each parcel of BHP shares or DIs and must make a separate election in respect of each such parcel of BHP shares or DIs. However, the trustee or nominee may not accept instructions from an underlying beneficiary to make an election unless it is in respect of all parcels of BHP shares held by the trustee or nominee on behalf of that beneficiary, and the underlying beneficiary has confirmed to the trustee or nominee that its aggregated beneficial and legal holding of BHP shares is less than the Small Shareholder Threshold.

²¹ If a BHP shareholder wishes to withdraw an election they have made to participate in the Sale Facility, they must contact the Shareholder Information Line (see below) by no later than the cut-off date for submission of their election described above. Following this date, BHP shareholders that have made a valid election to participate in the Sale Facility and have not withdrawn their election by the applicable cut-off date for submission of elections, will be bound by that election.

²² BHP shareholders who become new BHP shareholders close to the cut-off date for submission of elections and who wish to participate in the Sale Facility, will need to ensure that their shareholding has settled on the BHP Australian principal share register before they submit a Sale Facility election and by no later than 5.00pm on 24 May 2022 (AEST).

How will the Sale Facility operate?

J.P. Morgan Securities Australia Limited or one of its affiliates (Sale Agent) will operate a Sale Facility.²³

The Sale Agent will sell the Woodside Shares represented by the in specie dividend entitlement of:

- Ineligible Overseas Shareholders; and
- Eligible Small Shareholders who have validly elected to have their in specie dividend entitlement to Woodside Shares sold, together with the aggregate of all Woodside Shares represented by the rounding treatment for the in specie dividend (described above).

The Sale Agent will sell these Woodside Shares on licensed markets operated by ASX or Cboe, unless BHP directs the Sale Agent to sell some or all of these Woodside Shares pursuant to a bookbuild process. BHP will determine whether to conduct a bookbuild process for some or all of the Woodside Shares subject to the Sale Facility, and the final price that shares will be sold through a bookbuild process. The market price of Woodside Shares and/or the price that may be realised from any bookbuild process is uncertain and subject to change from time to time. Up to date information on the market price of Woodside Shares can be found at www2.asx.com.au.

All proceeds realised from the sale of these Woodside Shares under the Sale Facility will be pooled so that each BHP shareholder participating in the Sale Facility will be entitled to an average price per Woodside Share sold. The amount of cash proceeds received by each BHP shareholder participating in the Sale Facility may be more or less than the actual price that is received by the Sale Agent for any specific Woodside Share sold. The proceeds under the Sale Facility from the sale of the Woodside Shares represented by the rounding treatment for the in specie dividend will be returned to BHP.

The proceeds determined under the Sale Facility will be remitted to BHP shareholders²⁴, as soon as practicable²⁵ after completion of the last sale under the Sale Facility, in the currency and the manner in which the Selling Shareholder is paid their BHP dividends, but, in the case of dematerialised BHP shareholders on the South African branch share register, in South African rand only.²⁶

The proceeds from the Sale Facility will be remitted free of brokerage costs or stamp duty.

²³ The Australian Securities and Investments Commission has granted relief from various provisions of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), including the provisions relating to managed investment schemes, licensing and product disclosure, that may otherwise apply to the Sale Facility.

²⁴ This payment will be made to BHP shareholders participating in the Sale Facility by BHP (through BHP's share registry in Australia or the UK, or their CSDP, as applicable) making a deposit into the bank account recorded with the BHP share registry or CSDP into which their BHP dividends are paid. If a bank account is not recorded, the shareholder will be sent a cheque for the proceeds of sale by BHP (or the BHP share registry).

Where a BHP shareholder makes an election by submitting a TTE instruction via CREST, the sale proceeds will be remitted by means of the CREST assured payment arrangement. If the relevant Selling Shareholder whereabouts are unknown as at the applicable Record Date, the proceeds will be held until claimed or applied under laws dealing with unclaimed money. BHP Shareholders on the Australian principal share register with a registered address in New Zealand and who do not have any payment instructions recorded on their shareholding, will also have their sale proceeds paid into a separate bank account until valid New Zealand payment instructions have been provided to the BHP share registry.

²⁵ The sale proceeds may take up to 12 weeks after implementation of the in specie dividend to be distributed to BHP shareholders.

²⁶ The proceeds will be converted from Australian dollars to the relevant currency at the prevailing market exchange rate during the sale period.

What happens to South African resident BHP shareholders?

Woodside is not listed on the Johannesburg Stock Exchange (JSE). Due to the Exchange Control Regulations 1961 of South Africa (SA Exchange Control Rules), South African residents may be prevented from holding shares in foreign incorporated companies that do not have a listing on the JSE.

As a result, each BHP shareholder that is a South African resident or holds the BHP shares through BHP's South African branch share register will be treated as an Ineligible Overseas Shareholder, unless the South African shareholder has confirmed to BHP that they have satisfied themselves that they are permitted to receive Woodside Shares or Woodside DIs (as applicable) without breaching any applicable laws or regulations (including, without limitation, the SA Exchange Control Rules) (Eligible SA Shareholder).

BHP shareholders:

- who are dematerialised holders of BHP shares registered on the South African branch share register²⁷ must communicate to their CSDP (in accordance with the process and time periods agreed in their mandate with their CSDP) whether they wish to be nominated or not as an Eligible SA Shareholder. CSDP's must communicate that election to STRATE (Plc Nominees Proprietary Limited) before 1.00pm, Thursday, 26 May 2022 (SAST). If the CSDP for any reason fails to communicate any nomination by a dematerialised holder of BHP shares registered on BHP's South African branch share register to STRATE (Plc Nominees Proprietary Limited) by this deadline, they will be deemed not to be an Eligible SA Shareholder and will be considered an Ineligible Overseas Shareholder; or
- whose registered address in the BHP Australian principal share register on the applicable Record Date is in South Africa, will be an Ineligible Overseas Shareholder, unless the relevant shareholder nominates that they are an Eligible SA Shareholder by completing and returning to the BHP share registry before 5:00pm on Tuesday, 24 May 2022 (AEST) the South African Share Election Form. This form can be requested by contacting the telephone numbers set out in the Shareholder Information Line section further below or by logging into www.investorcentre.com/au;²⁸ or
- whose registered address on the BHP DI register on the applicable Record Date is in South Africa, will be an Ineligible Overseas Shareholder, unless the relevant BHP DI holder nominates that they are an Eligible SA Shareholder by completing and returning to the BHP share registry before 1:00pm on Tuesday, 31 May 2022 (BST) the South African Share Election Form which can be requested by contacting the telephone numbers set out in the Shareholder Information Line section further below.

By nominating as an Eligible SA Shareholder, the relevant BHP shareholder or BHP DI holder is confirming that the BHP shareholder is:

- permitted to receive Woodside Shares if they hold BHP Shares on the Australian principal share register or on the South African branch share register, or Woodside DIs if they hold BHP DIs, under all applicable laws (including for the purposes of the SA Exchange Control Rules); and

²⁸ BHP shareholders who become new BHP shareholders closer to the cut-off date for submission of elections and who wish to nominate that they are an Eligible SA Shareholder, will need to ensure that their shareholding has settled on the BHP Australian principal share register before they submit such an election, and by no later than 5.00pm on Tuesday, 24 May 2022 (AEST);

- requesting that Woodside Shares (registered on Woodside's Australian principal share register) or Woodside DIs (registered on Woodside's DI register) be distributed to them.

BHP does not take any responsibility in connection with a BHP shareholder's nomination to be an Eligible SA Shareholder, and each BHP shareholder nominating as an Eligible SA Shareholder must satisfy itself that they are permitted to receive Woodside Shares or Woodside DIs, including by seeking the advice of professional and legal advisers.²⁹

What are the tax outcomes of the in specie dividend?

The tax outcomes of the in specie dividend for BHP shareholders are outlined in Appendix 1. It is recommended that shareholders seek their own specific taxation advice for their individual circumstances.

How does BHP Petroleum's balance sheet presented in the pro forma financial information in Woodside's explanatory memorandum compare to BHP's held for sale disclosure in the half year financial report?

The explanatory memorandum issued by Woodside today presents certain pro forma financial information in relation to BHP Petroleum, including a balance sheet as at 31 December 2021. The basis of preparation of this financial information differs, in certain respects, from the presentation of BHP Petroleum as held for sale in BHP's half year financial information for the same period.

The main differences between BHP Petroleum's balance sheet presented as part of Woodside's pro forma financial information contained in the Woodside explanatory memorandum and BHP's half year financial report are:

- inclusion of intercompany and cash balances that were excluded from the BHP Petroleum net assets disclosed as 'held for sale' in BHP's half year financial report;
- additional depreciation expense of approximately US$150 million, as depreciation has not been recognised by the BHP Group from the point in time that BHP Petroleum was classified as 'held for sale' following the signing of the SSA in November 2021; and
- recognition of a US$210 million impairment charge in the BHP Petroleum balance sheet in the pro forma financial information for the combined group. This relates to the Ruby project and reflects revisions to estimated reserves resulting from technical analysis of well drilling results and performance following project completion in December 2021. This did not impact BHP's half year financial report as the Petroleum Assets were assessed in aggregate for impairment testing purposes.

What happens to BHP employees who currently participate in equity incentive plans?

BHP currently operates a number of equity incentive plans, including:

- Short-term and long-term executive incentive plans, under which employees are granted rights to BHP shares, subject to meeting defined performance and/or service conditions; and

- Shareplus, an all-employee share plan, through which employees contribute funds after tax to purchase BHP shares, and where they hold the purchased shares for a specified length of time and satisfy an employment condition, they will receive an allocation of matched shares at the end of the holding period.

If completion of the Merger occurs:

- Employees who continue to be employed by BHP will not receive the in specie dividend in respect of any unvested equity award or matching entitlement, and the value of the underlying BHP share to which they will receive on vesting will be reduced as a result of the in specie dividend that has been determined. To treat BHP employees fairly and restore the value of the unvested equity awards to their pre-completion value, BHP will grant those employees with additional BHP equity awards on the same substantive terms as the original unvested incentive awards or matching entitlements.
- Employees of BHP who will be employed by Woodside from completion and who are current participants holding unvested awards in:
 - Management Award Plan (MAP), BHP's applicable long-term executive equity incentive plan, will have all of their unvested equity awards lapse in full immediately prior to completion (with the exception of MAP awards which were due to vest in August 2022, which will have accelerated vesting applied). All unvested MAP awards which are lapsed will be replaced by Woodside via the issuance of replacement rights under Woodside's equity incentive plans.
 - Shareplus, will have matching of their acquired shares accelerated and they are expected to receive their applicable matched BHP shares around the completion date.

Appendix 1: Tax outcomes for BHP shareholders

A summary of tax outcomes of the in specie dividend for certain BHP shareholders that are tax resident in Australia, the United States (US), the United Kingdom (UK) or South Africa are outlined below.

This summary is included for general information only and is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice. It does not take into account the individual circumstances of any BHP shareholder and should not be relied upon by any BHP shareholder or any other person. Each BHP shareholder should obtain, and only rely upon, their own professional tax advice regarding the tax consequences of the in specie dividend and/or any acquisition, holding or disposal of Woodside Shares.

Scope of tax summary

Taxing jurisdiction	Scope
Australia	The Australian tax summary applies to BHP shareholders who: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• are residents of Australia for Australian income tax purposes or non-residents of Australia for Australian income tax purposes who do not hold BHP shares, and will not hold Woodside Shares, through a permanent establishment in Australia; and• hold their BHP shares (and will hold their Woodside Shares) on capital account. The summary below does not apply to BHP shareholders who: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• hold their BHP shares (or will hold their Woodside Shares) as revenue assets (which will generally be the case for BHP shareholders who use their BHP shares (or will use their Woodside Shares) in carrying on a business of share trading, banking or insurance) or as trading stock, or have acquired BHP shares (or will acquire their Woodside Shares) for the purpose of on-sale at a profit;• acquired their BHP shares under any employee share scheme or where Woodside Shares will be acquired pursuant to any employee share scheme;• may be subject to special tax rules, including insurance companies, partnerships, tax exempt organisations, trusts (except where expressly stated), superannuation funds (except where expressly stated) or temporary residents; or• are subject to the “taxation of financial arrangements” provisions in Division 230 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Cth). It is noted that Division 230 will generally not apply to the financial arrangements of individuals, unless an election has been made for those rules to apply. The Australian taxation summary is based on the Australian tax law and administrative practice as it applies at the date of this announcement. The comments do not take into account or anticipate changes in Australian tax law, administrative practice or future judicial interpretations of Australian tax law after this time. Future amendments to taxation legislation, or its interpretation by the courts or the taxation authorities may take effect retrospectively and/or affect the conclusions drawn. BHP has applied to the Commissioner of Taxation (Commissioner) for a class ruling confirming certain income tax implications of the implementation of the Merger for certain Eligible Shareholders. It is expected that the final class ruling will be published by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) shortly after the implementation of the Merger. The class ruling application is principally concerned with (i) confirming that demerger tax rollover relief will not be available in respect of the in specie dividend (ii) confirming the Australian income tax consequences of receiving the in specie dividend; and (iii) participating in the Sale Facility.

Taxing jurisdiction	Scope
United States	The US taxation summary is based upon the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code), the regulations of the US Treasury Department and court and administrative rulings and decisions in effect on the date of this announcement. These laws may change, possibly retroactively, and any change could affect the continuing validity of this discussion. This discussion applies only to BHP shares, BHP ADSs, Woodside Shares and Woodside ADSs held as a “capital asset” for US federal income tax purposes (generally property held for investment). The following does not purport to be a complete analysis of all potential tax effects resulting from the in specie dividend or the ownership or disposition of Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs after the receipt of the in specie dividend, and does not address all aspects of US federal income taxation that may be relevant to individual US Holders in light of their particular circumstances. In addition, this summary does not address the Medicare tax on certain investment income, information reporting and backup withholding requirements, US federal estate or gift tax laws, any state, local, or non-US tax laws, any tax treaties, or any other tax laws. Furthermore, this summary does not address all US federal income tax considerations that may be relevant to certain categories of US Holders that may be subject to special treatment under the US federal income tax laws. In addition, BHP believes that it will not be treated as a Passive Foreign Investment Company (PFIC) in the taxable year of the in specie dividend or any prior year, but because the determination of whether a foreign corporation is a PFIC is primarily factual and there is little administrative or judicial authority on which to rely to make such a determination, the United States Internal Revenue Service (IRS) might not agree that BHP is not a PFIC. If it is determined that BHP is a PFIC, then adverse and burdensome US federal income tax rules and consequences may apply to US Holders. The remainder of this discussion assumes that BHP will not be treated as a PFIC in the taxable year of the in specie dividend or any prior taxable year. Further, to the extent any statements contained herein relate to Woodside, Woodside Shares or ADSs or the US federal income tax consequences of holding and disposing of Woodside Shares or ADSs, such statements are based upon BHP’s understanding of Woodside’s disclosure of such consequences in its public disclosure statements. This discussion is limited to the US federal income tax consequences of a US Holder, which is used to mean, with respect to BHP or Woodside, respectively, a beneficial owner of shares or ADSs that, for US federal income tax purposes, is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States; • a corporation (or other entity treated as a corporation for US federal income tax purposes) created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia; • an estate the income of which is subject to US federal income tax regardless of its source; or • a trust (A) the administration of which is subject to the primary supervision of a US court and which has one or more “United States persons” (within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code) who have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (B) that has made a valid election under applicable US Treasury regulations to be treated as a United States person.
United Kingdom	The UK taxation summary applies to BHP shareholders who are: (i) resident (and in the case of individuals, domiciled) for tax purposes in, and only in, the UK (and to whom split-year treatment does not apply); (ii) who are absolute beneficial owners of their BHP shares and Woodside Shares and (iii) who hold their BHP shares as an investment (otherwise than through an individual savings account or a pension arrangement). This outline does not deal with certain types of BHP shareholders including pension funds, charities, dealers in securities, insurance companies, collective investment schemes, persons who have or could be treated for tax purposes as having acquired their BHP shares or Woodside Shares by reason of their employment or as carried interest, and persons subject to UK tax on a remittance basis.
South Africa	The South African taxation summary applies to BHP shareholders that are South African tax resident shareholders who hold their BHP shares (and will hold their Woodside Shares) on capital account. It does not deal with other types of shareholders such as shareholders that have, or could be treated for tax purposes as having, acquired their BHP shares by reason of their employment. This taxation summary is based on the South African Income Tax Act, 58 of 1962 (SA Tax Act) as it applies at the date of this announcement.

Tax outcomes from the receipt of in specie dividend:

Taxing jurisdiction	Tax outcomes
Australia	Australian resident shareholders On the basis that demerger tax roll-over relief does not apply, the in specie dividend will have no impact on the existing cost base of your BHP shares. You should include the amount of the in specie dividend in your assessable income in the income year in which you receive the in specie dividend. BHP intends to fully frank the in specie dividend and, accordingly it will be accompanied with franking credits. The tax treatment of these franking credits to you will depend on (i) the satisfaction of the qualified person rule (otherwise known as the "45 day rule") and (ii) whether you are entitled to a refund where the tax offset referable to the franking credits attached to the in specie dividend exceeds the tax payable on the in specie dividend). Generally, provided you are a "qualified person" in relation to the in specie dividend, you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • should also include the amount of the franking credits attached to the in specie dividend in your assessable income in the income year in which you receive the in specie dividend; and • should qualify for a tax offset equal to the amount of the franking credits attached to the in specie dividend, which can be applied against your income tax liability for the relevant income year. You should be a "qualified person" in relation to the in specie dividend if the "holding period rule" and the "related payments rule" are satisfied. Generally: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • to satisfy the "holding period rule", you must have held your BHP shares "at risk" for at least 45 days (not including the days of acquisition and disposal) within the qualification period (which begins on the day after the day on which they are acquired and ends on the 45th day after they become ex-dividend). This means that once you satisfy the "holding period rule" in relation to a distribution on your BHP shares you do not need to satisfy it again in relation to those BHP shares for subsequent distributions, unless you make a "related payment" (refer below); and • under the "related payments rule", if you are obliged to make a "related payment" (essentially a payment passing on the benefit of the in specie dividend) in respect of the in specie dividend, you must hold your BHP shares "at risk" for at least 45 days (not including the days of acquisition and disposal) within the period beginning 45 days before, and ending 45 days after, they become ex-dividend. To be held "at risk", in broad terms, you must retain 30% or more of the risks and benefits associated with holding your BHP shares. Where you undertake risk management strategies in relation to your BHP shares (e.g. by the use of limited recourse loans, entering into put or call options in relation to your BHP shares or other derivatives), your ability to satisfy the "at risk" requirement and thus to be a "qualified person" may be affected. If you are an individual, you are automatically treated as a "qualified person" for these purposes if the total amount of the tax offsets in respect of all franked amounts to which you are entitled in an income year does not exceed A$5,000. This is referred to as the "small shareholder rule". However, you will not be a "qualified person" under the small shareholder rule if "related payments" have been made, or will be made, in respect of these amounts. If you are an individual or complying superannuation fund, you may be able to receive a cash tax refund from the ATO if the tax offset equal to the franking credits attached to the in specie dividend exceeds the tax payable on your total taxable income. If you are a company the franking credits attached to the in specie dividend will generally give rise to a franking credit in your franking account however, in certain circumstances you may have excess franking credits. You will not be entitled to a tax refund of any excess franking credits. Rather, the surplus franking credits may be converted to a tax loss which can be carried forward to future years (subject to you satisfying certain loss carry forward rules). No GST or Australian stamp duty should be payable by you in relation to the receipt of the in specie dividend. Non-Australian resident shareholders BHP intends to fully frank the in specie dividend. Accordingly, no part of the in specie dividend should be assessable to you in Australia nor subject to dividend withholding tax (DWT).

Taxing jurisdiction	Tax outcomes
United States	Under US federal income tax laws, if you are a US Holder of BHP shares or BHP ADSs, the in specie dividend paid by BHP will generally be subject to United States federal income taxation. If you are a non-corporate US Holder of BHP shares or BHP ADSs and the in specie dividend constitutes qualified dividend income, it will be taxable to you at the preferential rates applicable to long-term capital gains provided that you hold the BHP shares or BHP ADSs for more than 60 days during the 121-day period beginning 60 days before the ex-dividend date and meet other holding period requirements. The receipt of the in specie dividend should not impact a US Holder's basis in its BHP shares or BHP ADSs. The Australian withholding tax consequences of the in specie dividend paid to non-Australian resident shareholders are outlined in the Australian tax summary section above. If Australian dividend withholding tax is payable on the in specie dividend, US Holders should seek their own tax advice to determine the Australian and US taxation implications.
United Kingdom	The in specie dividend should not give rise to a disposal of your BHP shares nor a reduction in the existing cost base in those shares. For UK income tax purposes, the in specie dividend should form part of your total income for income tax purposes and will represent the highest part of that income. For UK corporation tax purposes, if you are a "small company" (for the purposes of UK taxation of dividends) you will not generally be subject to tax on the in specie dividend received from BHP. Other BHP shareholders within the charge to UK corporation tax will not be subject to tax on the in specie dividend from BHP so long as the in specie dividend falls within an exempt class and certain other conditions are met. No Australian DWT arises where the in specie dividend is fully franked. There are no UK tax consequences of receiving franking credits.
South Africa ³⁰	The in specie dividend should have no impact on the cost base of your BHP shares. You are required to include in your "gross income" any amount received or accrued by way of a "foreign dividend". The amount of the foreign dividend you are required to include is the gross amount of the dividend before the deduction of any foreign withholding tax. Certain foreign dividends may qualify for a full or partial exemption from income tax. A "foreign dividend" as defined in the SA Tax Act may qualify for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • an exemption from income tax in the hands of BHP shareholders who constitute South African corporate shareholders on the basis that the BHP shares in respect of which the foreign dividend is paid are listed on the JSE; and • a partial exemption from income tax in the hands of BHP shareholders other than South African corporate shareholders. It is typical for dividends received by mutual funds, that are a portfolio of collective investment schemes in securities, to be on distributed by the mutual fund to the beneficial owners. The nature of each beneficial owner would determine the tax treatment of the "foreign dividend" distributed through the mutual fund. In the unlikely event that a "foreign dividend" is retained by the mutual fund, such a "foreign dividend" would be treated as being received by the mutual fund and re-characterised as income for South African income tax purposes. No dividends tax should be imposed to the extent that the in specie dividend constitutes a "foreign dividend" which takes the form of the distribution of an asset in specie in respect of JSE listed shares held by BHP shareholders. No Australian DWT arises where the in specie dividend is fully franked. There are no South African tax consequences of receiving franking credits.

³⁰ The summary of tax outcomes in relation to South African shareholders is in respect of Woodside Shares that are first issued to BHP then distributed by BHP to Eligible SA Shareholders as an in specie dividend.

Tax outcomes from holding Woodside Shares

Taxing jurisdiction	Tax outcomes
Australia	Australian resident shareholders You will be required to include dividends in respect of Woodside Shares in your assessable income in the income year in which the dividends are received. Dividends may be franked to the extent determined by Woodside. The tax treatment of these franking credits to you will depend on the satisfaction of certain integrity rules as well as your tax profile. Non-Australian resident shareholders Dividends will not be subject to withholding tax to the extent the dividends are franked or declared to be conduit foreign income. To the extent an unfranked dividend is paid to you, withholding tax will be payable. The rate of withholding tax is 30%. However, you may be entitled to a reduction in the rate of withholding tax if you are resident in a country which has a double taxation agreement with Australia.
United States	Under US federal income tax laws, if you are a US Holder of Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs, dividends paid by Woodside will generally be subject to US federal income taxation. If you are a non-corporate US Holder of Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs, dividends that constitute qualified dividend income will be taxable to you at the preferential rates applicable to long-term capital gains provided that Woodside Shares and Woodside ADSs are readily tradable on an established securities market in the US or that Woodside is eligible for certain benefits under the tax treaty between the US and Australia and that certain holding period and other requirements are met. The Australian withholding tax consequences of dividends paid to non-Australian resident shareholders are outlined in the Australian tax summary section. If Australian dividend withholding tax is payable on dividends from Woodside, US Holders should seek their own tax advice to determine the Australian and US taxation implications.
United Kingdom	For UK income tax purposes, all dividends received should form part of your total income for income tax purposes and will represent the highest part of that income. For UK corporation tax purposes, if you are a “small company” (for the purposes of UK taxation of dividends) you will not generally be subject to tax on dividends received from Woodside. Other Woodside shareholders within the charge to UK corporation tax will not be subject to tax on dividends from Woodside so long as the dividends fall within an exempt class and certain other conditions are met. No Australian DWT arises where dividends are fully franked or declared to be conduit foreign income by Woodside. There are no UK tax consequences of receiving franking credits.
South Africa ³¹	Any future cash dividends which constitute a “foreign dividend” as defined in the SA Tax Act may qualify for a full or partial exemption from income tax in the hands of the shareholders. In the unlikely event that any cash dividends are retained by a mutual fund, such cash dividends would be treated as being received by the mutual fund and re-characterised as income for South African income tax purposes. No dividends tax should be imposed on future cash dividends on Woodside Shares on the basis that Woodside will not be listed on the JSE. No Australian DWT arises where dividends are fully franked or declared to be conduit foreign income by Woodside. There are no South African tax consequences of receiving franking credits.

³¹ The summary of tax outcomes in relation to South African shareholders is in respect of Woodside Shares that are first issued to BHP then distributed by BHP to Eligible SA Shareholders as an in specie dividend.

Tax outcomes from the disposal of Woodside Shares, including under the Sale Facility (if applicable):

Taxing jurisdiction	Tax outcomes
Australia	Australian resident shareholders The first element of the cost base and reduced cost base of Woodside Shares you receive as a result of the Merger should be equal to the market value of the Woodside Shares at the time the in specie dividend is paid (1 June 2022). The market value should be based on the value of the in specie dividend, which will be based on Woodside's ASX closing price on the day prior to completion. The date of the in specie dividend is paid is also the date you are taken to have acquired the Woodside Shares for the purpose of the CGT discount provisions. On disposal of Woodside Shares, you will make a capital gain if the capital proceeds from the disposal of Woodside Shares exceed the cost base of the Woodside Shares sold. You will make a capital loss if the capital proceeds are less than the reduced cost base of the Woodside Shares sold. You may be entitled to a CGT discount in certain circumstances to reduce any capital gain (after offsetting available capital losses). The tax consequences for Australian shareholders selling their Woodside Shares via the Sale Facility will generally be the same as those set out above. In particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you will be taken to have disposed of your Woodside Shares at the time the in specie dividend is paid (when the Woodside Shares are transferred to the Sale Agent); • the capital proceeds will be the sale proceeds received from the Sale Agent; and • as the Woodside Shares will not have been held for 12 months, the CGT discount should not be available. Non-Australian resident shareholders If you are a non-resident of Australia for Australian income tax purposes and do not use your Woodside Shares in carrying on a business through an Australian permanent establishment, the whole of any capital gain or capital loss made upon the disposal of your Woodside Shares will be disregarded unless the Woodside Shares constitute "indirect Australian real property interests". Your Woodside Shares will constitute indirect Australian real property interests if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you hold a "non-portfolio interest" in Woodside. You will hold a "non-portfolio interest" in Woodside if you (together with your associates) hold 10% or more of the Woodside Shares: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - at the time of disposal; or - throughout a 12-month period during the 24 months preceding the disposal; and • your Woodside Shares pass the "principal asset test". If you are subject to tax on disposal of your Woodside Shares, the CGT discount will generally not be available to reduce any capital gain that you make.
United States	Under US federal income tax laws, if you are a US Holder of Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs, your aggregate tax basis in Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs that you receive as a result of the in specie dividend should generally be the fair market value (expressed in US dollars) of the Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs on the date of the distribution under the in specie dividend. You may recognise a capital gain or loss for US federal income tax purposes equal to the difference between the US dollar value of the amount that you realise and your tax basis, determined in US dollars in respect of the disposal of your Woodside Shares or Woodside ADSs. The Australian tax consequences of disposals of Woodside Shares by non-Australian resident shareholders are outlined in the Australian tax summary section above. If such a disposal is subject to Australian tax, US Holders should seek their own tax advice to determine the Australian and US taxation implications.

United Kingdom	For the purpose of capital gains tax and corporation tax on chargeable gains, a BHP shareholder who holds Woodside Shares as a result of the Merger, should have a base cost in their Woodside Shares equal to the market value of the Woodside Shares at the date of the distribution under the in specie dividend (i.e. at the time of receipt of Woodside Shares). If you dispose of any Woodside Shares, you should make a chargeable gain (or allowable loss) for the purposes of CGT or corporation tax, depending on your circumstances and subject to any available exemption or relief. No tax should generally be payable in Australia in respect of the disposal of Woodside Shares by UK tax residents, unless the Woodside Shares constitute “indirect Australian real property interests” for Australian tax purposes. The tax consequences for UK shareholders selling their Woodside Shares via the Sale Facility will generally be the same as those set out above.
South Africa ³²	The tax base cost for the Woodside Shares in the hands of BHP shareholders on acquisition thereof should be equal to the ruling price of the Woodside Shares on the ASX at close of business on the last business day before the date of the distribution of the Woodside Shares. The acquisition date of the Woodside Shares should be the date of distribution under the in specie dividend, which is the earlier of the date on which the distribution is paid or becomes due and payable. To the extent that the proceeds in respect of the disposal exceed the tax base cost of the Woodside Shares a capital gain will arise and such capital gain may be subject to capital gains tax, depending on your circumstances and subject to any available exemption or relief. No tax should generally be payable in Australia in respect of the disposal of Woodside Shares by South African tax residents, unless the Woodside Shares constitute “indirect Australian real property interests” for Australian tax purposes. The tax consequences for South African shareholders selling their Woodside Shares via the Sale Facility will generally be the same as those set out above.

Appendix 2: Instructions for Eligible Small Shareholders that are BHP DI holders to participate in the Sale Facility

- For the purposes of facilitating an election via CREST, BHP DI holders will be credited as soon as practicable after 8:00 am on 27 May 2022 (BST) with one interim CREST entitlement for each BHP DI held in CREST at the Record Date for BHP DI holders. This interim CREST entitlement security will allow Eligible Small Shareholders who hold their BHP DIs in CREST to elect electronically through the CREST system, under the ISIN AU0000214561.
- Euroclear does not make available special procedures in CREST for any particular corporate action. Normal system timing and limitations will therefore apply in connection with a TTE instruction and its settlement. You should therefore ensure all necessary actions are taken by you (or by your CREST sponsor) to ensure a TTE instruction relating to the sale of the Dividend Entitlement settles prior to 1:00pm (BST) on 31 May 2022. In this regard, you are referred in particular to those sections of the CREST Manual concerning practical limitations of the CREST system and timings. The Sale Facility is only available to BHP DI holders who meet the Small Shareholder Threshold.
- To make an election in CREST, Eligible Small Shareholders who hold their BHP DIs in CREST should submit (or, if they are a CREST personal member, procure that their CREST sponsor gives) a TTE instruction, which must be properly authenticated in accordance with Euroclear's specifications and must contain, in addition to the other information that is required for settlement in CREST, the following details:
 - the number of interim CREST entitlements to be transferred to an escrow balance, representing the number of BHP DIs for which you wish to elect to sell the entitlement under the in specie dividend;
 - the interim CREST entitlement ISIN AU0000214561;
 - your Member Account ID;
 - your Participant ID;
 - Participant ID of the escrow agent, being 3RA33;
 - member account ID of the escrow agent, being BHPWPL01;
 - intended settlement date. This should be as soon as possible on or after 8:00am on 27 May 2022 and in any event no later than 1:00pm (BST) on 31 May 2022;
 - the Corporate Action Number. This is allocated by Euroclear and can be found by viewing the relevant Corporate Action details in CREST;
 - the Delivery Instruction with a priority of 80;
 - contact name and telephone number in the shared note field.

BHP DI holders who hold one or more parcels of BHP DIs as trustee or nominee for, or otherwise on account of, another person, may make separate elections in accordance with the election process in respect of each of those parcels. In order to make separate elections a CREST holder may use this Sale Facility by converting, at their own cost, their holdings of DIs into distinct CREST holdings prior to the Record Date and make a separate TTE instruction in respect of each such parcel of interim CREST entitlements.
