Hansen Technologies awarded major upgrade contract for Energy Queensland Limited

Hansen Technologies Limited (ASX: HSN) ("Hansen"), is pleased to announce an expansion of our partnership with Energy Queensland Limited (EQL). As part of the agreement EQL, owners of Australia's largest electricity distribution network, has committed to upgrade to the latest version of Hansen CIS as well as taking new products in Hansen MDM for meter data management and Hansen NBM for network bill management.

The expanded agreement includes an upgrade of EQL's existing Hansen CIS for customer care and billing onto Hansen's latest SaaS platform. The new agreement builds on the existing long-term relationship between Hansen and EQL and is for an initial term of five years with associated revenue of approximately $45m.

Andrew Hansen, Global Chief Executive Officer, Hansen Technologies commented: "This new agreement adding Hansen MDM and Hansen NBM to the upgrade of Hansen CIS on our latest SaaS platform is a fantastic example of Hansen's ability to partner with our customers and provide valuable solutions."

This announcement is authorised by the Board.
