HYGROVEST NEWSPerformance of Hygrovest Portfolio - July 2022

During July 2022, HGV's Net Asset Value (before provision for deferred tax) increased by 6%.

Subsequent to the sale of HGV's investment in Entourage Health Corp's convertible debentures on 30 June 2022, HGV reduced its exposure to cannabis companies from 72% to 58% of the total portfolio including cash reserves to provide funds to transition its portfolio to a broader range of high-growth industries.

HGV's positive performance in NAV in July 2022 was primarily due to the revaluation of HGV's investment in Weed Me and Southern Cannabis Holdings resulting from the gain during July in the listed Canadian and Australian cannabis sector⁴ and its positive impact on the valuation multiple applied to value HGV's investments⁵. Weed Me continued to increase its rolling twelve months net revenue.

Portfolio Investment Strategy

HGV is seeking to reduce the 42% gap of the share price to NAV (four cents per HGV share) by:

- a) working with HGV's largest investment, Weed Me, to achieve a liquidity event during 2022 to provide HGV with the option of realising a material portion of HGV's investment;
- b) realising underperforming and or illiquid investments – investments which fall into this category include BevCanna and Vintage Wines Estates;
- c) benefitting from proposed liquidity events for non-cannabis investments (Brainworks and Valo); and
- d) investing surplus funds in companies which provide our Shareholders with higher capital growth potential either derived from sector specific or company specific growth opportunities.

Funds received from divestments would be applied as dividends⁶ to HGV Shareholders and/or making investments which the Board considers to be the prospect of higher capital growth and allow HGV to diversify away from the underperforming cannabis sector.

HGV has funds available to deploy in new investments and will also seek to realise existing investments to recycle capital into opportunities which HGV considers having greater potential for capital growth. HGV's current strategy in respect of individual investments is detailed in section 7 of Appendix One. HGV's flexibility in exiting some of its investments remains restricted given the escrow arrangements which will unwind during the next 18 months.

Portfolio Developments

HGV holds $7m of cash/company tax refund that should allow the Company to continue to diversify away from the underperforming cannabis sector.

a) Valo Therapeutics Oy

In November 2021, HGV invested AUD1m in unlisted Valo Therapeutics Oy ("Valo Tx") based in Finland which was part of pre-IPO equity financing of approximately USD13m to fund the finalisation of preparations and initiation of a Phase 1 clinical study of Valo Tx's lead tumour antigen-coated oncolytic virus candidate, PeptiCRAd-1 in addition to the continued development of its anti-infectives platforms including PeptiBAC and PeptiVAX.

Valo Tx is an immunotherapy company that is developing antigen-coated oncolytic viruses and vaccine vectors as therapeutic vaccines against cancer and infectious diseases. Valo Tx's lead platform, PeptiCRAd (Peptide-coated Conditionally Replicating Adenovirus) was developed out of the laboratory of Professor Vincenzo Cerullo at the University of Helsinki. It turns oncolytic adenoviruses into targeted, tissue-specific cancer vaccines without the need to develop and manufacture multiple genetically modified viruses.

In July 2022, Valo Tx advised its investors that it had completed a worldwide roadshow commencing in Finland with corporate and operational workshops. A major biotech investment bank was engaged in Florida whose team specialises in the life science space, and C$4.95m was deposited in an independent escrow agent's account from a cornerstone investor out of Geneva Switzerland. Additional commitments were made to the company which will be processed over the next 4 to 8 weeks.

Despite significant progress being made on the operational front, delays to the commencement of the Phase-1 clinical trial have been caused by the late supply of data from 3rd party suppliers and further information and data requests from the regulatory authority that have required additional testing and analysis.

Given the delay of the Phase-1 trial commencement and the current heightened market volatility, ValoTx expects the listing will occur in Q4 2022 subject to market conditions.

b) Weed Me

Hygrovest held a live audio webinar of the Investor Conference Call on 22 July 2022. In the webinar Terry Kulaga, Chief Executive Officer and Co-founder of Weed Me provided an excellent overview of the operations and financial performance of the business. In particular the presentation demonstrated the significant market position of the company in the Canadian cannabis market based on its range of branded products.

A copy of the presentation may be found at HGV's website at <https://hygrovest.com.au/news/>

Established in 2016, Weed Me is the largest unlisted Canadian licenced producer of cannabis products for the Canadian recreational market.

The Weed Me brand consists of a complete line of dried flower, pre-rolls, vapes, and gummies products, which have significant market shares in its key Canadian provincial markets.

Weed Me has successfully expanded its operations with net sales of CAD22.7m in the year ended 31 December 2021 (FY21) compared to FY20 net sales of CAD6.9m and was profitable in FY21. Net sales growth continues with the net sales of approximately CAD34m in the twelve months ended 30 June 2022 (PCP CAD12m).

Weed Me's substantial growth in terms of net revenue and EBITDA since HGV made its initial investment in 2017 is detailed in the below table:

$ CAD 000's	2018	2019	2020 ¹	2021 ¹	2022 ^{H1}
Gross Revenue	353	2,820	8,889	30,906	25,660
Net Revenue	353	2,632	6,793	22,672	18,519
Gross Profit Margin %	5%	44%	25%	29%	27%
EBITDA	-1,021	-777	-1,387	1,885	1,375

Weed Me's performance in 2022 shows substantial growth with net revenue of CAD18.5m (PCP CAD7.5m) and EBITDA of CAD1.4m.

The 2022 financials are for the half year ended 30 June 2022 while 2018 to 2021 are the full years ended 31 December.

Parallax Ventures Portfolio Update –July 2022

Market Overview: Bear Market Rally; The Bottom will be a Process

❖ Equity Market Summary

- We have seen a reasonably strong rally across the equity markets in July with some signs of bottoming, while encouraging, investors should expect further bumps in the road. As we cautioned last month, earnings estimates appeared still elevated and we expected a disappointing earnings season, which we are now seeing across multiple sectors with the largest analyst revisions since 2008.
- Notably, Walmart and Target's revisions reinforce a sharp change in consumer spending already playing out in the housing market. Investors should expect to see pressure on profit margins of companies through the next couple quarters.
- The performance of commodities combined with consumer behaviour indicates that inflation pressures are easing and reiterates the bottoming process.
- With a sharply inverted yield curve signaling recession, regardless of the definition, bond investors expect the central bank's tightening policy to be reversed as many of its policies will further slow an already weak economy. Investors should expect to see central banks indicating a shift in sentiment in 2023 as growth expectations will continue to plummet.
- Investors that are conditioned to snapback recoveries should be prepared for a U-shaped process supported by consistent declining inflation data and less aggressive central bank policy.

❖ Impact of a Strong USD

- The dollar has been rising for both economic and geopolitical reasons causing stress across the commodity complex and the weaker debt burdened EU states, such as Portugal and Italy, as the European Central Bank needed to raise its interest rates to prop up the euro and subdue the cost of imports, including energy.
 - The Fed raising rates another 75 bps in July will push the dollar higher and put further pressure on other central banks to follow.
- The value of the dollar influences commodities prices as it is the benchmark pricing mechanism for most commodities. When the dollar strengthens, commodities become more expensive in other, nondollar currencies having a negative influence on demand. The impact for gold in a rising rate environment is further augmented as it does not yield interest in itself; therefore, it must compete with interest-bearing assets for demand. Commodity investors may want to remain on the sidelines until we get greater clarity on Fed policy and the eventual cyclical rebound that will follow.
- The strength of USD will have a detrimental impact on both emerging markets and EU:
 - Emerging market governments, corporates and banks took advantage of the low-cost borrowing environment to refinance using USD denominated debt, which is now putting additional pressures on economies that are already stretched by covid, supply chain issues and net zero requirements. Sri Lanka was the first to fall, but there are many other countries facing similar situations.
 - The recent 50 bps rate hike by the ECB is an acknowledgement of runaway inflation in the region and puts further pressure on an economy already decimated by the Ukraine situation. Policymakers also agreed to provide funding assistance for the euro zone's big debtor nations - Italy among them - with a new bond purchase scheme. Europeans are in for a rough ride until some Ukraine resolution is negotiated or "green" energy policies yield some actual energy.

❖ Geopolitical Shockwaves Continue

- Russia / Ukraine
 - Revenues from oil and natural gas exports are at all-time highs with China and India buying all the Russian oil that Europe is refusing to buy. The ruble is much stronger today than it was when the war began.
 - Russian troops have achieved major victories in large cities and other key targets that control rivers, ports and junctions in Ukraine with the endgame of 100% control of Odessa along with coastlines.
 - With November US mid-terms pointing to Republican control of Senate and House and the EU unable to provide heat for its citizens, investors should expect to see both financial and popular support for Ukraine diminishing over Q4. We wouldn't be surprised to see some type of peace that cedes Russian control over Crimea and the Russian-speaking parts of eastern Ukraine.

China

- The “zero-covid” policy, which has subjected cities to rolling lockdowns, continues to hamper the economy, housing market and foreign investment.
 - Beijing announced a rare GDP contraction of minus 2.6 per cent compared with the first quarter of the year with year over year growth only 0.4%.
 - Some small policy shifts have provided some respite for the global supply chain crisis as China is major supplier of a variety of commodity goods, intermediate goods for manufacturing and consumer goods.
 - Investors should expect a continued drag on the global economy until zero-covid policies transition into a more rational and measured response.

Net Zero meets Economic Reality

- Sentiment is changing rapidly as large-scale investors that have pushed the climate agenda and capital direction into “green” are going back to the basics of financial analysis and credible business models.
- Historically, modern society has gradually transitioned from less dense forms of energy (coal & biomass) to more dense options, such as oil and nuclear, which has resulted in higher productivity, lower costs & inflation, and higher living standards.
- Russian policies have accelerated the end game of global energy, or lack thereof, with net zero policies in Europe, while Sri Lanka highlights the global food shortages that will follow hand-in-hand with the implementation of the elimination of fertilizer.
- Investors should expect to see further civil unrest, globally, as we head into winter with increased scrutiny related to the science, politics and economic realities causing a shift away from “green only” companies to those carbon established companies with convincing transition plans or that supply transition materials.

8. Valuation of Assets

HGV values its investments by applying the following principles:

- Listed securities – the book value is based on the closing share prices for public companies at period end converted into Australian dollars at the relevant prevailing foreign exchange rates at month-end.
- Unlisted equity securities - HGV's preference is to value its unlisted investments by applying an Enterprise Value to Net¹⁰ Revenue Multiple (Canadian multiple of 2.0 (prior month 1.9) and Australian multiple of 2.1 (prior month 1.5) as at 28 July 2022 provided these valuations are materially consistent with any recent capital raises by the investee. HGV also applies a discount of 15% on the valuation to account for the unlisted company status of these investments. In the absence of material historical revenue, the book value is based on the most recent material funding round share prices for private companies converted into Australian dollars at the relevant prevailing foreign exchange rates. In the absence of a recent capital raise or arm's length transaction, management considers all available information, including benchmarking of instruments to market movements indicated by relevant indices. HGV also takes into account the recommendations of its asset manager, Parallax Ventures, where it is considered that the fair value should be less than book value in the absence of other valuation indicators due to the outlook for the individual business.
- Convertible debentures and loan instruments – the book value is based on HGV's assessment of the capacity of the investee to repay principal and interest.
- Unlisted warrants and note conversion options - the book values also include the unrealised gain arising from valuation of unlisted warrants using the Black-Scholes pricing model. The Black-Scholes attributes a value to warrants which may be “out of the money” at month end. The Black Scholes model is commonly used to determine the fair price or theoretical value for a call, or a put option based on six variables such as volatility, type of option, underlying stock price, time to expiry, strike price, and the risk-free rate. The warrant valuation ascribed through Black Scholes assumes that the warrant is exercised on the expiry date of the warrant which may not be the actual outcome e.g. HGV decides to exercise the warrant prior to expiry.

The Net Asset Value or NAV is calculated after deducting a provision for company tax on any net unrealised gains that may arise on such theoretical disposal. HGV does not hedge the carrying value of existing investments denominated in non-AUD currencies. HGV’s financial statements are subject to statutory audit or review by our independent auditor BDO Audit (WA) Pty Ltd, at 31 December and 30 June each year.

9. Dividend Policy

On 7 June 2019, HGV announced its intention to distribute 20% of its annual profit after tax, after excluding unrealised gains and losses on investments (Annual Profit). The policy was first applied in respect of the Annual Profit for the year ended 30 June 2020. The dividend would be payable within three months of each half year after the completion of the half year and annual financial statements. It is HGV’s intention that any dividend would benefit from available franking credits held by HGV. HGV updated shareholders that there was no dividend payable in respect of the half year ended 31 December 2021 in the Appendix 4D released on 23 February 2022.

10. Investment Policy

HGV Limited (ASX: HGV) is an Australian-listed, specialist investment company that has traded on the ASX since 2015. Investors in Hygrovest gain exposure to a globally diversified portfolio that concentrates on producing capital growth over the medium term from investments in listed and unlisted equities and other financial assets.

Currently, HGV’s investments are largely minority holdings in Australian and offshore cannabis-related businesses reflecting the company’s early focus. HGV has expanded its investment mandate to other high growth industries such as natural resources, healthcare and the digital economy.

In December 2021, HGV’s Shareholders approved the broadening of the HGV investment mandate by removing the restriction that limited HGV’s investments in non-cannabis assets to 25% of its total assets. HGV believes that there are opportunities to enhance the returns for Shareholders by further diversifying its investment portfolio to include strategic investments in sectors outside of cannabis.
