Chairman's Letter

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the Board of Directors and management, I am pleased to present the Spacetalk Ltd. Annual Report for the financial year ended 30 June 2022.

It is a pleasure to be writing this, my first letter to you as Chairman. I come into this role at an exciting time. Spacetalk is a growth company with significant opportunities before it.

The 2022 financial year was an important and transformational year. During the year, revenues increased by 37% to $20.7 million. This was the first-time in the Company's history that annual revenues exceeded $20 million. This revenue growth was underpinned by a great product suite and expanded global distribution footprint which now includes Australia, New Zealand, the United Kingdom, the United States, Canada, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, and Finland.

FY2022 also noted that $5.8 million (28%) of Spacetalk's revenues being generated from recurring non-device sales (App fee and schools business revenue). This is consistent with the Company's strategy to increase the contribution of recurring revenues. With the addition of our JumpySIM, our emerging mobile network service to our business portfolio, recurring revenues are expected to further increase.

Your Board knows that the performance of any publicly listed business is supported by its governance platform, and we remain committed to enhancing this platform including through strengthening disclosures and regulatory compliance. The Board has already commenced actions given the considerable potential and growth trajectory of the business.

In addition, and as previously stated, Spacetalk is determined to accelerate its pathway to cashflow positivity. Spacetalk has adapted and refined its strategy to focus on a targeted quest for profitable growth, strategic awareness, and brand building. This will be reflected through future capital allocation, expense management and distribution decisions.

As Chairman, with the rest of the Board, I seek to build upon the work of predecessors and apply new energy and insights to help make Spacetalk as great as it can be. There are challenges ahead but opportunities also.

I also take this opportunity to thank Mark Fortunatow and the Spacetalk team for making significant progress in difficult market conditions.

It is an honour to lead your Board and represent your interests. I look forward to meeting you soon.

GEORG CHMIEL
NON-EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN

CEO's Report

The 2022 financial year was a landmark year for Spacetalk where the Company achieved a number of operating and financial highlights including important geographic expansions into North America and the Nordic region.

In 2022, Spacetalk also launched its JumpySIM mobile network service which promises to significantly enhance our customers' user experience while improving the underlying economics of the wearables business.

Broader macro-economic and capital market conditions contributed to a more volatile operating environment. The second half of the financial year was particularly challenging. Despite this, the business performed well with the Company entering the 2023 financial year stronger and more resilient.

Spacetalk is well positioned to deliver on its mission to bring the best child safety and development technology platform to families around the world so as to advance children's wellness. We seek to achieve this through both our connected wearables and through our original schools communication business.

In many cases, Spacetalk is helping families with young children, frequently with developmental challenges or special needs. Ensuring that families can easily communicate with one another in a safe, reliable, and secure manner is critical for the Company. So too is the careful management of our customers' data.

Spacetalk continues to invest in its products and services including ongoing enhancement to core software, services, and devices. Investments seek to ensure that Spacetalk retains its leading and differentiated position in the connected wearable market. Spacetalk is dedicated to delivering an exceptional experience to its customers so that they stay with us and recommend us to friends and family.

In early October 2022, Spacetalk will commence a global deployment of a kids wearable redefining upgrade. This upgrade changes the game in offering HD video calling and wellness features on the Spacetalk Adventurer. The wellness function will use the advanced sensors in the Adventurer to allow parents to see the mood of their child. These innovations maintain Spacetalk's global product and functional lead.

Additionally, on 28 September 2022, JumpySIM officially launched in Australia. This will significantly enhance our customer's experience by including a JumpySIM with all Spacetalk Adventurer wearables sold through non-telecommunication channels. JumpySIM is a sea change improvement in our customers' experience and our business economics.

Looking forward, we remain confident that we have the people, products, platforms, brand, and business model to achieve our goal of brand market leadership in this new, large and fast growing global connected children's wearables category. We are still at the foothills of a significant global opportunity.

I would like to thank the entire Spacetalk team for a strong year. I also extend my thanks to the Board, led by Georg Chmiel. With their expertise and counsel, we will continue to strive for greatness and to deliver on our profitable growth strategy. Together we continue to work to build a great company and to create value for Spacetalk shareholders.

The future remains bright.

REMUNERATION REPORT (AUDITED)

This remuneration report, which forms part of the Directors' report, details the nature and amount of remuneration for each Director and other Key Management Personnel of Spacetalk Ltd. The information provided in the remuneration report includes remuneration disclosures that are audited as required by section 308(3C) of the Corporations Act 2001.

For the purposes of this report Key Management Personnel of the Group are defined as those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing, and controlling the major activities of the group, directly or indirectly, including any director (whether executive or otherwise) of the parent company.

In respect of the remuneration policy, last voted upon by shareholders at the 2021 Annual General Meeting (AGM), more than 25% of the votes were cast against this resolution, constituting a second strike for the purposes of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth).

DIRECTORS' REPORT

Since the last AGM, the Board has:

- chartered nomination and remuneration and audit and risk management committees of the board;
- expanded to six members including five non-executive directors;
- appointed an independent non-executive Chairman; and
- commenced negotiations with the Managing Director and CEO to amend the terms of his employment and his remuneration.

Separately but related, the Board has also commenced the process to appoint a new external auditor, with the current auditor retiring due to normal rotation requirements. Further, the Board has completed a review of all governance and risk policies with these policies now published on the Company's Investor Centre. A Board review of the Company's risk framework is due to commence.

As advised in last year's annual report, the Board commissioned an independent review of the Executive Chairman's remuneration in 2021. Consistent with that review, and in respect of the 2022 financial year, there has been no change to the fixed remuneration of the Executive Chairman.¹

Since the 2021 AGM, the Board has chartered a Nomination and Remuneration committee comprised entirely of independent non-executive directors. Mr Saurabh Jain chairs the committee, and Mr Martin Pretty and Dr Brandon Gien are ordinary members of the committee.

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee is responsible for determining and reviewing the compensation arrangements for the Directors themselves, the CEO and any executives. Executive remuneration is reviewed annually having regard to individual and business performance, relevant comparative remuneration and internal and independent external advice.

The Nomination and Remuneration Committee has also made changes to remuneration reporting policies. As a consequence, this report reflects these changes.

A. REMUNERATION POLICY

The board policy is to remunerate directors at market rates for time, commitment, and responsibilities. The Board determines payments to the directors and reviews their remuneration annually, based on market practice, duties, and accountability. Independent external advice is sought when required. The maximum aggregate amount of Directors' fees that can be paid is subject to approval by shareholders in general meeting, from time to time. To align Directors' interests with shareholders' interests, the Directors are encouraged to hold shares in the Company.

The CEO and full-time executives receive a superannuation guarantee contribution as required by law, currently 10.5%. The CEO and full-time executives do not receive any other retirement benefits. Some individuals, however, may choose to sacrifice part of their salary to increase payments towards superannuation.

All remuneration paid to Directors and executives is valued at the cost to the Company and expensed.

The Board has sought independent third-party expert advice on its remuneration policies and has implemented suitable practices and procedures that are appropriate for an organisation of this size and maturity.

B. REMUNERATION STRUCTURE

In accordance with best practice corporate governance, the structure of non-executive Director and executive compensation is separate and distinct.

NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

OBJECTIVE

The Board seeks to set aggregate compensation at a level that provides the Company with the ability to attract and retain Directors of the highest calibre, whilst incurring a cost that is acceptable to shareholders.

STRUCTURE

The Constitution and the ASX Listing Rules specify that the aggregate compensation of non-executive Directors shall be determined from time to time by a general meeting. An amount not exceeding the amount determined is then divided between the Directors as agreed.

The amount of aggregate compensation sought to be approved by shareholders and was increased from $100,000 to $500,000 per financial year at the 2021 AGM. The manner in which this amount it is apportioned amongst Directors is reviewed annually.

The Board considers advice from external consultants as appropriate as well as the fees paid to non-executive Directors of comparable companies when undertaking the annual review process. Non-Executive Directors' remuneration may include an incentive portion consisting of options, as considered appropriate by the Board, which may be subject to Shareholder approval in accordance with ASX listing rules.

Separate from their duties as Directors, the Non-Executive Directors undertake work for the Company directly related to the evaluation and implementation of various business opportunities, including information / evaluation and new business ventures, for which they receive a daily rate. These payments are made pursuant to individual agreements with the non-executive Directors and are not taken into account when determining their aggregate remuneration levels.

1. The Executive Chairman took a voluntarily 20% COVID measures related pay reduction in 2020. This was restored in 2021.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The entity aims to reward executives with a level and mix of compensation commensurate with their position and responsibilities within the entity so as to:

- reward executives for Company and individual performance against targets set by appropriate benchmarks;
- align the interests of executives with those of shareholders;
- link rewards with the strategic goals and performance of the Company; and
- ensure total compensation is competitive by market standards.

STRUCTURE

In determining the level and make-up of executive remuneration, the Board negotiates a remuneration to reflect the market salary for a position and individual of comparable responsibility and experience. Remuneration is periodically compared with the external market by participation in industry salary surveys and during recruitment activities generally. If required, the Board may engage an external consultant to provide independent advice in the form of a written report detailing market levels of remuneration for comparable executive roles.

Remuneration consists of a fixed remuneration and a long-term incentive portion as considered appropriate. Compensation may consist of the following key elements:

- Fixed Compensation;
- Variable Compensation;
- Short Term Incentive (STI); and
- Long Term Incentive (LTI).

FIXED REMUNERATION

The objective of long-term incentives is to reward Directors and executives in a manner which aligns this element of remuneration with the creation of shareholder wealth. The incentive portion is payable based upon attainment of objectives related to the Director's or executive's job responsibilities. The objectives vary, but all are targeted to relate directly to the Company's business and financial performance and thus to shareholder value.

Long term incentives (LTIs) granted to Directors or executives are delivered in the form of performance rights. These rights are granted subject to pre-determined performance hurdles determined at the time of issue.

The objective of the granting of performance rights is to reward Executives in a manner which aligns the element of remuneration with the creation of shareholder wealth. As such LTI's are made to Executives who are able to influence the generation of shareholder wealth and thus have an impact on the Company's performance.

Typically, the grant of LTIs occurs at the commencement of employment, at bi-annual performance reviews, or in the event that the individual receives a promotion and, as such, is not subsequently affected by the individual's performance over time.

C. EMPLOYMENT CONTRACTS OF DIRECTORS AND SENIOR EXECUTIVES

The employment arrangements of the Directors are documented through agreements.

NOTES:

- (i). The Executive Chairman's remuneration has remained unchanged since 2019.
- (ii). The Nomination and Remuneration Committee had determined to change the Company's policy with respect to fringe benefits tax (FBT) to include 'Benefits and Entitlements' FBT in this report and future disclosures. FBT components of 'Benefits and Entitlements' were not previously included in reporting.
- (iii). Performance rights were granted to key management personnel at the 2020 AGM. Options were granted to key management personnel at the 2019 Annual General Meeting. The value of the options and rights granted to key management personnel as part of their remuneration is calculated as at the grant date using a binomial pricing model. The amounts disclosed as part of remuneration for the financial year have been determined by allocating the grant date value on a straight-line basis over the period from grant date to vesting date. These are non-cash transactions and reflect the accounting cost of the rights which are amortised over the period over which they were granted.
- (iv). No new Performance Rights were granted to the Executive Chairman in 2022.
- (v). A member of the Executive Chairman's family is an employee of the Company performing accounting and administrative services. This was an omission in prior disclosures. The family member's remuneration in 2022 was $108,555 (2021: $97,046).

The weighted average share price during the year was $0.16 (2021: $0.11). The average remaining contractual life of options outstanding for each Director at the end of the financial year was 0.42 years (2021: 1.12).

Independent Auditor's Report To the Members of Spacetalk Limited

Report on the Audit of the Financial Report

Opinion

We have audited the financial report of Spacetalk Limited (the Company) and its subsidiaries (the Group), which comprises the consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 June 2022, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, and the director's declaration.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report of the Group is prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including;

- Giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 30 June 2022 and of its performance for the year ended on that date; and
- Complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of the most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Revenue Recognition Note 5
In accordance with ASA 240 The Auditors Responsibility in relation to Fraud in an audit of a Financial Report we must consider the risk of material misstatement due to fraudulent financial reporting relating to revenue recognition. The Group recognises revenues from providing mobile messaging solutions for business enterprises. The Group	Our procedures included, amongst others; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> documenting the processes and assessing the design effectiveness of internal controls relating to the recognition of revenue transactions; assessing the revenue recognition policy for each stream to ensure it is in accordance with AASB 15 Revenues;

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
enters into multi-period contracts with customers and there is risk that revenue may be recognised prematurely (in the incorrect accounting period) as the revenue to be earned under a customer contract may be received in advance of providing services. This area is a key audit matter due to revenue being a significant risk.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> performing analytical procedures to understand the movements and trends in revenue and comparing against expectations; agreeing a sample of revenue transactions from the general ledger to source data to confirm appropriate revenue recognition had been applied; agreeing a sample of corresponding sales contract and other supporting documentation to confirm unearned revenue had been correctly accounted for; selecting a sample of revenue transactions near year end and agreeing to underlying source data to ensure that revenue transactions around year end was recorded in the correct period; and assessing the adequacy of the related disclosures within the financial statements.
Inventory and existence Note
At 30 June 2022, the Group held inventories of $7m. Inventory existence was an audit focus area because of the various locations where inventory is held. As described in note 11 inventories are carried at cost.	We performed several audit procedures over inventory existence and attended the local mid and year end distribution centre counts and performed independent test counts. For the UK and US local accounting firms attended the counts.
Capitalisation of development costs Note 15
During the year, the Group capitalised internal software development project costs. These projects related predominantly to the development of the SeeThrough, Outreach+ and Spacetalk products. The cost mainly comprised of remuneration and direct costs. AASB 138 Intangible Assets specifies that development costs can only be capitalised if all criteria listed in this accounting standard can be met. Assessing whether these criteria are met requires an element of management judgement, particularly about whether the future economic benefits will be generated and the intention of the Group to complete development and use or sell the underlying asset. These judgements are dependent on expectations of future events. There is a risk that the costs capitalised do not meet the criteria for capitalisation in accordance with AASB 138 Intangible Assets. We therefore identified the capitalisation of development costs as a significant risk. The area is a key audit matter due to the degree of management judgement involved.	Our procedures included, among others; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> documenting the processes and assessing whether the internal controls relating to capitalised development costs were designed effectively; examining a sample of invoiced costs capitalised to determine the nature of the costs and assess whether the costs meet the capitalisation criteria under AASB 138; selecting a sample of employee costs capitalised and agreeing to source documentation to confirm the value, role and employee time allocation to the respective projects; and assessing the adequacy of the related disclosures within the financial statements.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Intangible assets carrying value exceeds fair value
The intangible assets of the Group are being amortised. AASB 136 Impairment of Assets requires the Group to perform a review of impairment triggers for all amortised intangible assets at each reporting date. The process undertaken by management to assess whether there are impairment triggers involves an element of management judgement. This area is a key audit matter due to the degree of management judgement and assumptions applied in assessing the presence of impairment of the intangible assets.	Our procedures included, amongst others; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> obtaining the impairment trigger paper prepared by management and performing the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> discussing the key aspects of the paper with management to assess consistency with AASB 136 Impairment of Assets; evaluating the qualification and expertise of management's experts who assisted with the assumptions used in the management paper assessing the status of significant projects against the recognition criteria of AASB 136 Intangible Assets through discussion with senior management and project managers; and assessing the adequacy of the related disclosures within the financial statements.
Research and development tax offsets and deductibility
For capitalised development costs the Group has been able to claim the research and development tax incentive offset. This year expenditure was incurred and capitalised for which the offset was not claimable. The remaining expenditure is still tax deductible.	Our procedures included, amongst others; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> discussing the key aspects of the calculation with management to assess consistency with AASB 112 Income Taxes evaluating the qualification and expertise of management's experts who assisted with the assumptions used in the calculations

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 BASIS OF PREPARATION

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the basis of historical cost, except for certain non-current assets and financial instruments that are measured at revalued amounts or fair values, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of AASB 2, leasing transactions that are within the scope of AASB 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in AASB 2 or value in use in AASB 136.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

3.2 GOING CONCERN

The directors have, at the time of approving the financial statements, a reasonable expectation that the Group have adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future. They continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements.

3.3 BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of Spacetalk Limited (the Company) and entities controlled by Spacetalk Limited (its subsidiaries). Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Company reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same period as Spacetalk Limited using consistent accounting policies.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, all inter-company balances and transactions, income and expenses and profit and losses resulting from intra-group transactions have been eliminated in full. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group and cease to be consolidated from the date on which control is transferred out of the Group.

3.4 REVENUE RECOGNITION

The Group recognises revenue from the following major sources:

- Sale of goods, including smart watches and apps
- School messaging services and subscriptions

Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The Group recognises revenue when it transfers control of a product or service to a customer.

Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when control of the goods has transferred to the customer, being at the point the goods are delivered to the customer. Delivery occurs when the goods have been shipped to the customer's specific location. A receivable is recognised by the Group when the goods are delivered to the customer as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional, as only the passage of time is required before payment is due.

School messaging services and subscriptions

The Group provides school messaging services and app subscriptions to customers. Such services are recognised as a performance obligation satisfied over time. Revenue is recognised for these services based on the stage of completion of the contract. The directors have assessed that the stage of completion determined as the proportion of the total time that has elapsed at the end of the reporting period is an appropriate measure of progress towards complete satisfaction of these performance obligations under AASB 15. Payment for subscriptions and school messaging services is made on a regular basis throughout the term accrued revenue is recognised over the period in which the installation services are performed representing the entity's right to consideration for the services performed to date.

3.5 FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION

Functional and presentation currency

The functional currency of each of the entities in the group is measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which that entity operates. The consolidated financial statements are presented in Australian dollars which is the parent entity's functional and presentation currency.

Transaction and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency monetary items are translated at the year-end exchange rate. Non-monetary items measured at historical cost continue to be carried at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange differences arising on the translation of monetary items are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income, except where deferred in equity as a qualifying cash flow or net investment hedge

Exchange difference arising on the translation of non-monetary items are recognised directly in equity to the extent that the gain or loss is directly recognised in equity, otherwise the exchange difference is recognised in the profit or loss.

Translation

The financial results and position of foreign operations whose functional currency is different from the presentation currency are translated as follows:

- Assets and liabilities are translated at year-end exchange rates prevailing at that reporting date.
- Income and expenses are translated at average exchange rates for the period.
- Retained profits are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction.

- Exchange differences arising on translation of foreign operations are transferred directly to the foreign currency reserve in the statement of financial position. These differences are recognised in the profit or loss in the period in which the operation is disposed.

3.6 GOVERNMENT GRANTS

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Specifically, government grants whose primary condition is that the Group should purchase, construct or otherwise acquire non-current assets are recognised as deferred revenue in the statement of financial position and transferred to profit or loss on a systematic and rational basis over the useful lives of the related assets.

Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

3.7 TAXATION

3.7.1 Current Tax

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

3.7.2 Deferred Tax

Deferred income tax is recognised on all temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial statements purposes.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences except:

- when the deferred income tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and that, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; or
- when the taxable temporary difference is associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates or interests in joint ventures, and the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, carry-forward of unused tax assets and unused tax losses, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry-forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- when the deferred income tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; or
- when the deductible temporary difference is associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates or interests in joint ventures, in which case a deferred tax asset is only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary difference will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Unrecognised deferred income tax assets are reassessed at each balance sheet date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Income taxes relating to items recognised directly in equity are recognised in equity and not in profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset only if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

The amount of benefits brought to account or which may be realised in the future is based on the assumption that no adverse change will occur in income legislation and the anticipation that the Group will derive sufficient future assessable income to enable the benefit to be realised and comply with the conditions of deductibility imposed by the law.

3.7.3 Research and development tax incentive refund

Refund amounts received or receivable under the Federal Government's Research and Development Tax Incentive are recognised on an accruals basis. The refund is recognised in income tax benefit in the profit or loss.

3.7.4 Goods and Services tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST except:

- when the GST incurred on a purchase of goods and services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item as applicable; and
- receivables and payables, which are stated with the amount of GST included.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of receivables or payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis and the GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities, which is recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority are classified as operating cash flows.

Commitments and contingencies are disclosed net of the amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority.

3.8 PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

Plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Depreciation is calculated on a reducing-balance basis over the estimated useful life of the assets as follows:

- Plant and equipment - over 5 to 10 years
- Leasehold improvements - 10 years

The assets' residual values, useful lives and amortisation methods are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each financial year end.

The gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

3.9 INTANGIBLES

3.9.1 Intangible assets acquired separately

Intangible assets acquired separately or in a business combination are initially measured at cost. The cost of an intangible asset acquired in a business combination is its fair value as at the date of acquisition. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalised development costs, are not capitalised and expenditure is charged against profit or loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with;

- finite lives are amortised over the useful life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life is reviewed at least at each financial year-end. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are accounted for by changing the amortisation period or method, as appropriate, which is a change in accounting estimate. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in profit or loss in the expense category consistent with the function of the intangible asset.
- The useful life of an intangible asset with an indefinite life is reviewed each reporting period to determine whether indefinite life assessment continues to be supportable. If not, the change in the useful life assessment from indefinite to finite is accounted for as a change in an accounting estimate and is thus accounted for on a prospective basis.

3.9.2 Internally generated intangible assets - research and development

Research costs are expensed when incurred. Any costs that cannot be reliably split between research and development are also expensed when incurred. An intangible asset arising from development expenditure on an internal project is recognised only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the development and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development. Following the initial recognition of the development expenditure, the cost model is applied requiring the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Any expenditure so capitalised is amortised over the period of expected benefits from the related project.

The carrying value of an intangible asset arising from development expenditure is tested for impairment annually when the asset is not yet available for use, or more frequently when an indication of impairment arises during the reporting period.

3.10 Impairment of tangible and intangible assets

The Group assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Group makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and its value in use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets and the asset's value in use cannot be estimated to be close to its fair value. In such cases the asset is tested for impairment as part of the cash-generating unit to which it belongs. When the carrying amount of an asset or cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset or cash-generating unit is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Impairment losses relating to continuing operations are recognised in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount (in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease).

An assessment is also made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. If that is the case the carrying amount of the asset is increased to its recoverable amount. That increased amount cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of amortisation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in profit or loss unless the asset is carried at the revalued amount, in which case the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase. After such a reversal the amortisation charge is adjusted in future periods to allocate the asset's revised carrying amount, less any residual value, on a systematic basis over its remaining useful life.

3.11 FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised in the Group's statement of financial position when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

All recognised financial assets are measured subsequently in their entirety at either amortised cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

Classification of financial assets

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are measured subsequently at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments that meet the following conditions are measured subsequently at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

By default, all other financial assets are measured subsequently at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL).

Amortised cost and effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period.

The amortised cost of a financial asset is the amount at which the financial asset is measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus the cumulative amortisation using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount, adjusted for any loss allowance. The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is the amortised cost of a financial asset before adjusting for any loss allowance.

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for debt instruments measured subsequently at amortised cost

Derecognition of financial assets

Financial assets are derecognised only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expires, or when it is transferred the financial assets and substantially all the risk and rewards of the assets to another entity.

On derecognition of the financial assets measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in the income statement.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group recognises loss allowance for expected credit loss (ECL) on financial assets subsequently measured at amortised cost. ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition of the respective financial instrument.

The Group always recognises lifetime ELC for trade and other receivables. The expected credit losses on these financial assets are estimated using a provision matrix on the Company's historic credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and on assessment of both the current as well as the forecast directions at the reporting date, including time value of money.

Lifetime ELC represents the expected credit losses that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. In contracts, 12-months ECL represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events on a financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

Financial liabilities and equity

All financial liabilities are measured subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method or at FVTPL.

Financial liabilities are classified as at FVTPL when the financial liability is:

- Contingent of an acquirer in a business combination;
- Held for trading; or
- Is designated as at FVTPL

Financial liabilities that are not subsequently measured at FVTPL are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective rate is that rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the amortised costs of a financial liability.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in the profit or loss.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by a company are recognised as the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs. Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

3.12 PROVISIONS

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

When the Group expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, for example under an insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the profit or loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a borrowing cost.

3.13 EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Wages, salaries and annual leave

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and sick leave in the period the related service is rendered at the discounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the service.

Contributions to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Long service leave

Liabilities recognised in respect of long term employee benefits are measured as the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made by the Group in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

3.14 LEASES

Group as lessee

The Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of the contract. The Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease arrangements in which it is the lessee, except for short-term lease (defined as leases with a lease of 12 months or less) and leases with low value assets (such as computers, printers, small office furniture and telephone). For these leases, the Group recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern on which economic benefits from the leased assets are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted by using the rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be readily determined the group uses its incremental borrowing rate.

The lease liability is presented as a separate line item in the consolidated statement of financial position.

The lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability (using the effective interest method) and by reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made.

The Group remeasured the lease liability (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use asset) whenever:

- the lease term has changed or there is a significant event or change in circumstances resulting in a change in the assessment of exercise of purchase option, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate
- the lease payments change due to changes in an index or rate or a change in expected payment under a guaranteed residual value, in which cases the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using an unchanged discount rate
- a lease contract is modified and the lease modification is not accounted for as a separate lease, in which case the lease liability is remeasured based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The right-of-use assets ("ROU assets") comprise the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received and any initial direct costs. ROU assets are subsequently measured at costs less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

The ROU assets are depreciated over the shorter period of lease term and useful life of the underlying assets. The depreciation starts at the commencement date of the lease.

ROU assets are presented as a separate line item in the consolidated statement of financial position.

3.15 SHARE-BASED PAYMENTS

The Group provides benefits to employees (including senior executives) of the Group in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services in exchange for shares or rights over shares (equity-settled transactions).

When provided, the cost of these equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined using a Binomial option pricing model.

In valuing equity-settled transactions, no account is taken of any performance conditions, other than conditions linked to the price of the shares of Spacetalk Limited (market conditions) if applicable.

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled, ending on the date on which the relevant employees become fully entitled to the award (the vesting period).

The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until vesting date reflects (i) the extent to which the vesting period has expired and (ii) the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. No adjustment is made for the likelihood of market conditions being met as the effect of these conditions is included in the determination of fair value at grant date (if applicable). The charge or credit to the profit or loss for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period.

No expense is recognised for awards that do not ultimately vest, except for awards where vesting is only conditional upon a market condition.

If the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, as a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. In addition, an expense is recognised for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based payment arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee, as measured at the date of modification.

If an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognised for the award is recognised immediately. However, if a new award is substituted for the cancelled award and designated as a replacement award on the date that it is granted, the cancelled and new award are treated as if they were a modification of the original award, as described in the previous paragraph.

The dilutive effect, if any, of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of earnings per share.

3.16 ISSUED CAPITAL

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

3.17 EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share is calculated as net profit attributable to members of the parent, adjusted to exclude any costs of servicing equity (other than dividends) and preference share dividends, divided by the weighted average number of ordinary shares, adjusted for any bonus element.

Diluted earnings per share is calculated as net profit attributable to members of the parent, adjusted for:

- costs of servicing equity (other than dividends) and preference share dividends;
- the after tax effect of dividends and interest associated with dilutive potential ordinary shares that have been recognised as expenses; and
- other non-discretionary changes in revenues or expenses during the period that would result from the dilution of potential ordinary shares; divided by the weighted average number of ordinary shares and dilutive potential ordinary shares, adjusted for any bonus element.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in note 3, the Directors are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amount of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated judgments are based on historical experience and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the group. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

4.1 CRITICAL JUDGEMENTS IN APPLYING ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following are the critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see 4.2 below), that the Directors have made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

4.1.2 Research and development

The Group incurs significant expenditure conducting research and development activities for new and existing products developed internally. As a result of this, professional judgment is required in order to identify which of these expenditures represent research and which represent development costs.

Expenditure associated with research activities are expensed as incurred in accordance with AASB 138. An intangible asset is recognised to record expenditure arising from development activities only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the development and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during its development.

Any costs that cannot be reliably split between research and development activities are expensed when incurred.

4.2 KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

4.2.1 Recoverability of internally generated intangible asset

During the year, the Directors reconsidered the recoverability of the Group's internally generated intangible asset arising from its technological development and distribution rights, which is included in the consolidated statement of financial position at 30 June 2022 at $3.77M (30 June 2021: $3.94M).

The carrying value of an intangible asset arising from development expenditure and distribution rights is tested for impairment annually when the asset is not yet available for use, or more frequently when an indication of impairment arises during the reporting period.

The Group assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Group makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount.

4.3 KEY ESTIMATES

Impairment

The group assess impairment at each reporting date by evaluating conditions specific to the group that may lead to impairment of assets. Where an impairment trigger exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is determined.

No impairment has been recognised in respect of intangible assets, as the value-in-use calculation is greater than the carrying value of the assets. Should the projected turnover figures be materially outside of budgeted figures incorporated in value-in-use calculations, an impairment loss could be recognised up to the maximum carrying value of intangibles at 30 June 2022 amounting to $3,768,796.

Provision for impairment of receivables

The provision for impairment of receivables assessment requires a degree of estimation and judgement. The level of provision is assessed by taking into account the recent sales experience, the ageing of receivables, historical collection rates and specific knowledge of the individual debtors financial position.

A provision for doubtful debts of $67,252 (2021: $69,048) has been recognised for the year ended 30 June 2022.

Research and development tax incentive refund

The estimated amount recognised is based on detailed analysis of expenditure incurred. The actual amount to be claimed is finalised after completion of the current year's financial report and preparation of the Group's income tax return.

8. SEGMENT REVENUES AND RESULTS

8.1 PRODUCTS AND SERVICES FROM WHICH REPORTABLE SEGMENTS DERIVE THEIR REVENUES

The Group operates predominately in three business segments, defined by the Groups different product and service offerings.

The groups reportable segments under AASB 8 are therefore as follows:

- School messaging services
- Spacetalk proprietary
- Other

This is the basis by which management controls and reviews the operations of the Group. Segment results are routinely reported to the chief operating decision maker for the purposes of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance on the same basis. No operating segments have been aggregated in arriving at the reportable segments of the group.

8.2 SEGMENT REVENUES AND RESULTS

The following is an analysis of the Group's revenue and results from continuing operations by reportable segment:

	Segment revenue		Segment profit / (loss)
	30/06/2022	30/06/2021	30/06/2022	30/06/2021

Segment revenue reported above represents revenue generated from external customers by each service or product. There were no inter-segment sales in the current year (2021: nil).

The school messaging reportable segment provides school messaging services and licence fees to various schools.

Spacetalk proprietary segment supply the 'Spacetalk' smartwatches and applications through retail distribution networks and online sales and this segment has grown over the years. In line with the growth of this segment, the management has realigned the allocation of asset and liabilities to better reflect the use of the assets. This is reflected in the tables below.

'Other' is the aggregation of the Group's other various sundry income and expenses.

Information regarding these segments is presented below. The accounting policies of the reportable segments are the same as the Group's accounting policies described in note 3.

No operations were discontinued during the current financial year.

Loss allowance	(67,252)	(69,048)
	3,590,951	2,218,826

The average credit period on sales of goods is 30 days. No interest is charged on outstanding trade receivables. The Group always measures the loss allowance for trade receivables at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. As noted within Note 2.1, the Group has measured the expected credit losses based on default experience of the debtor and an analysis of the debtor's current financial position, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions of the industry in which the debtors operate and an assessment of both the current as well as the forecast direction of conditions at the reporting date.

The Group has assessed the application of AASB 9 - Financial Instruments and concluded that there has been no significant impact on the financial position and/or financial performance of the Group.

Terms and conditions relating to the above financial instruments:

- Trade receivables are non-interest bearing and generally repayable in the range within 30-180 days.
- Due to the short term nature of these receivables, their carrying value is assumed to approximate their fair value.

10.2 TRADE RECEIVABLES - PAST DUE

24. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT24.1 CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Management controls the capital of the Group in order to maximise the return to shareholders and ensure that the group can fund its operations and continue as a going concern.

Management effectively manages the group's capital by assessing the group's financial risks and adjusting its capital structure in response to changes in these risks and in the market. These responses include the management of expenditure and debt levels and share and option issues.

There have been no changes in the strategy adopted by management to control capital of the group since the prior year.

25. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial risk management

The Group's principal financial instruments comprise receivables, payables, cash and short-term deposits. The Group manages its exposure to key financial risks in accordance with the Group's financial risk management policy. The objective of the policy is to support the delivery of the Group's financial targets while protecting future financial security.

The main risks arising from the Group's financial instruments are interest rate risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and foreign currency risk. The Group does not speculate in the trading of derivative instruments. The Group uses different methods to measure and manage different types of risks to which it is exposed. These include monitoring levels of exposure to interest rates and assessments of market forecasts for interest rates. Ageing analysis of and monitoring of receivables are undertaken to manage credit risk, liquidity risk is monitored through the development of future rolling cash flow forecasts.

The Board reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks as summarised below.

Primary responsibility for identification and control of financial risks rests with the Board. The Board reviews and agrees policies for managing each of the risks identified below, including for interest rate risk, credit allowances and cash flow forecast projections.

Interest rate risk

The Company's exposure to risks of changes in market interest rates relates primarily to the Company's cash balances. The Company constantly analyses its interest rate exposure. Within this analysis consideration is given to potential renewals of existing positions, alternative financing positions and the mix of fixed and variable interest rates.

Its exposure to interest rate movements is limited to the amount of interest income it can potentially earn on surplus cash deposits. The following sensitivity analysis is based on the interest rate risk exposures in existence at the balance sheet date.

	Group Year Ending
	30/06/2022	30/06/2021
Cash and cash equivalents (interest-bearing accounts)	$ 5,577,088	$ 4,158,033
Net exposure	5,577,088	4,158,033

The sensitivity analysis has been determined based on the exposure to interest rates for non-derivative instruments at the end of the reporting period. A 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the table below illustrates the effect on post tax profit and equity of the change in cost relevant to the financial assets of the Group:

	Group Year Ending
	30/06/2022	30/06/2021
Post tax profit - higher/(lower)	5,460	861
	(5,460)	(861)
Equity - higher/(lower)	5,460	861
	(5,460)	(861)

Liquidity risk

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Board of Directors, which has established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Group's short- medium- and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Group manages liquidity risk by;

- monitoring immediate and forecast cash requirements and ensuring adequate cash reserves are maintained,
- continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and
- matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities based on management's expectations.

The risk implied from the values shown in the table below reflects a balanced view of cash inflows and outflows within the 2022 financial period.

The directors consider that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recognised in the consolidated financial statements approximate their fair values.

Credit risk

Credit risk arises from the financial assets of the Company, which comprise deposits with banks and trade and other receivables. The Company's exposure to credit risk arises from potential default of the counter party, with the maximum exposure equal to the carrying amount of these instruments. The carrying amount of financial assets included in the Statement of Financial Position represents the Company's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to those assets.

The Company does not hold any credit derivatives to offset its credit exposure.

The Company trades only with recognised, credit worthy third parties and as such collateral is not requested nor is it the Company's policy to securitise its trade and other receivables.

Receivable balances are monitored on an ongoing basis with the result that the Company does not have a significant exposure to bad debts. Trade and other receivables are expected to have a maturity of less than 12 months, for both year-ends.

There are no significant concentrations of credit risk within the Company.

Foreign currency risk

As a result of operations in the USA, being denominated in USD, operations in New Zealand being denominated in NZD, and Operations in the United Kingdom being denominated in GBP, the Group's balance sheet can be affected by movements in the respective AUD exchange rates. The Company does not hedge this exposure.

In the reporting period the Groups volume of transactions in USD, NZ and GBP currency was low and immaterial for the year ended 30 June 2022.

The Group manages its foreign exchange risk by constantly reviewing its exposure to commitments payable in foreign currency and ensuring appropriate cash balances are maintained in USD, NZD and GBP, to meet current operational commitments.

Management believes the balance date risk exposures are representative of the risk exposure inherent in financial instruments.

Fair value

The methods of estimating fair value are outlined in the relevant notes to the financial statements. All financial assets and liabilities recognised in the Statement of financial position, whether they are carried at cost or fair value, are recognised at amounts that represent a reasonable approximation of fair values unless otherwise stated in the applicable notes.

FINANCIAL REPORT

27.3 Tax consolidation

The company and its wholly-owned Australian resident entities are members of a tax consolidated group under Australian tax law. The company is the head entity within the tax consolidated group. In addition to its own current and deferred tax amounts, the company also recognises the current tax liabilities and assets and deferred tax assets arising from unused tax losses and relevant tax credits of the members of the tax-consolidated group.

Amounts payable or receivable under the tax-funding arrangement between the company and the entities in the tax consolidated group are determined using a 'separate taxpayer within group' approach to determine the tax contribution amounts payable or receivable by each member of the tax-consolidated group. This approach results in the tax effect of transactions being recognised in the legal entity where that transaction occurred, and does not tax effect transactions that have no tax consequences to the group. The same basis is used for tax allocation within the tax-consolidated group.

27.4 Key management personnel

Disclosures relating to key management personnel are set out in Note 28.

27.5 Other equity interests

During the 2022 financial year nil was paid to Martin Pretty for consulting fees (2021: $4,797). Equatable Investors is a related entity of Martin Pretty.

The terms and conditions of the transactions with Directors and Director-related entities were no more favourable than those available, or which might reasonably be expected to be available, on similar transactions to non-Director related entities on an arm's length basis.

31. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

The Pure Asset Management loan agreement is subject to covenant clauses, whereby the Company is required to meet certain key financial ratios as at December 31, 2022. Given this requirement, the Company has concluded it does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the balance date. Advice has been received from the financier that it intends to discuss with the Board the restructuring of the existing covenants well ahead of any potential 31 December 2022 breach. Notwithstanding this, Australian Accounting Standard AASB 101 requires the borrowing to be reclassified from non-current to current. Refer to Note 19 for details on borrowings.
