Chairman's Address

Good Morning,

My name is Peter Lancken and I am the Chairman of Acrow Formwork and Construction Services Limited. On behalf of the Board, I welcome you to the 2022 Annual General Meeting.

Over the last four years, Acrow has transformed into a leading national provider of advanced formwork, perimeter screens and scaffolding systems for the civil infrastructure, industrial and commercial construction sectors. Our clearly defined strategy of building a national presence, supplying high quality equipment, focusing on safety and developing expertise in providing engineered solutions to our clients is paying dividends.

Today, we play a key role in the booming Australian infrastructure sector through these unique product and service offerings that has enabled us to secure large packages of work on marquee transport and civil infrastructure projects along the east coast of Australia. Similarly, in the industrial services sector our growing reputation is driving market share gains and developing the business into a sizeable contributor to the group.

Financial year 2022 was a remarkable year for Acrow. The outstanding performance is even more commendable as it was solely generated from delivering on organic growth opportunities. Confirming that our prudent strategy of investing in the platforms of our business – our people, products and systems – are bearing fruit.

To recap the year, we reported record results across all financial metrics with revenue growing by 40% to $148.3 million, earnings before interest and tax increasing by 49% to $36.3m million and statutory net profit after tax of $15.7 million, an increase of 296% on the previous year. Over five years, we have reported equally impressive results with revenue growing at an average 49% per annum, earnings before interest and tax at 39% per annum and earnings per share at 57% per annum. Shortly, Managing Director, Steven Boland will provide you with more details on how we achieved these impressive results.

During the year we raised $10.5 million through a placement to institutional and sophisticated investors at a price of $0.38 per share. We were delighted with the strong support and thank our existing shareholders and welcome new shareholders that participated in the capital raise. These proceeds have helped fund the successful growth in our industrial services and civil formwork businesses.

Acrow remains well capitalised. At June 30, our balance sheet remained strong with net gearing at 28% and interest cover at 15 times. During the year, we increased our debt headroom by $4.6 million to $13.2 million to provide further balance sheet flexibility for future growth opportunities. But as always, we will manage our growth prudently, whilst maintaining our criteria for superior investment returns.

Following the June balance date, Acrow took the opportunity to enter a new market. Through a ten-year exclusive licensing arrangement with New Zealand company Jacking Systems, we have now entered the jump form market. These systems are used to construct the lift shaft core of a building, which is a leading activity on multi-floored construction, and will complement our formwork and screens systems, providing our clients with a broader, one-stop offering. This system is currently being deployed on the Cross River Rail Albert St station project in Brisbane, and Monaco Gold Coast apartment development.

The Board has always sought to reward shareholders with a combination of capital appreciation and dividends. Since listing, and subject to the funding required to service growth opportunities, the Company's dividend policy has been to pay between 30% and 50% of operating cash profit. During the year Acrow's strong earnings growth resulted in dividends increasing by 42% on the previous year, to 2.7 cents per share (42% franked), and representing a 30% payout on operating cash profits.

In-line with our process of Board renewal, we welcomed during the year the appointment of two non-executive directors, Melanie Allibon, appointed Chair of the Remuneration and Nomination Committee and Laurie Lefcourt, appointed Chair of the Risk and Audit Committee. Both highly qualified individuals with the relevant skills and experience to help guide the evolving needs of our Company. Again, I welcome you both to the Board, and appreciate your contributions to the Board and committee meetings to-date.

In closing, I would like to thank the entire Board for its contribution and guidance as we enter our next phase of growth. I would also like to thank Steven Boland and his leadership team as well as all Acrow employees for their ongoing dedication and commitment. Significant progress has been made to provide a strong platform for the future. We are building the business in a structured way, nurturing our growth engines while investing in our people, equipment, and technology to ensure that we are well positioned to support future expansion and opportunities that are generated from the tailwinds in our industry.
