Hydration solutions company The Hydration Pharmaceuticals Company Limited (ASX: HPC) (“Hydralyte North America” or “the Company”) is pleased to report on its financial and operational performance for the 12-month period ended 31 December 2022 (“FY2022”), as well as provide an update on activities for Q1 FY2023.

FY2022 results summary:

The Company generated US$9,099,968 in revenue during FY2022, which marked a 49% or US$3m increase on the previous corresponding period (PCP) (FY2021: US$6,127,177). The significant surge in revenue is attributed to Canadian retail sales rising by 49% on the PCP, a 54% increase in Amazon US sales, ongoing subscription growth through Amazon US channels and the addition of multiple retail sales outlets with considerably higher penetration rates.

Trailing 12 Months Net Sales

Gross margin for the period improved by six percentage points, from 46% in FY2021 to 52% in FY2022. The upturn in gross margin for the period follows ongoing product innovation, which led to the introduction of multiple stockkeeping units (SKU) designed for ecommerce sales, pricing increases accepted by major North American retail outlets, marketing of higher margin SKUs, reduced airfreight costs and ongoing optimisation of the Company's manufacturing processes.

During FY2022, HydraLyte North America continued to invest heavily in marketing to create strong brand awareness in its key markets. Marketing initiatives during the period included securing prominent North American actress and entrepreneur, Ms Shay Mitchell as a brand ambassador (refer ASX announcement: 29 March 2022), work associated with the development and launch of the co-branded SKU with Ms Mitchell (refer ASX announcement: 2 December 2022), and a rebrand and optimisation of the Company's wholly-owned ecommerce channels to underpin further sales growth.

The investment in targeted marketing spend has led to a considerable increase in brand awareness in North America, highlighted by ongoing sales growth. As previously advised, HydraLyte North America has implemented a focus on reducing capital. This is expected to allow for the preservation of the Company's existing cash at bank of US$4.7m and strategic deployment of the A$12m two-tranche loan facility from Pure Asset Management (refer ASX announcement: 17 October 2023).

Significant growth achieved in Q1 FY2023 to date:

Following the record revenue achievement in FY2022, HydraLyte North America has continued its strong growth during Q1 FY2023. This is underlined by the Company's highest ever monthly unaudited net sales result of US$1.0m in January 2023.

Sales during January rose 70% on the PCP (January 2022: US$585,000) and were underpinned by strong demand from Canadian retailers that replenished stock, marketing initiatives associated with the launch of Shay Mitchell's co-branded SKU in the US and higher product demand from a pronounced cough and cold season in Canada.

Importantly, the record monthly sales in January 2023 were achieved outside of the seasonal peak sales period of the North American summer months. Further, the material sales uplift was achieved with a reduction in marketing spend - down 5% on the PCP and 4% on December 2022.

HydraLyte North America is confident that it can maintain that trend in February and March 2023, with additional sales growth alongside a decrease in marketing spend and overall cash expenditure.

Management commentary:

HydraLyte North America CEO Oliver Baker said: "HydraLyte North America has achieved a considerable amount in FY2022, from both an operational and financial perspective. The Company has delivered a record revenue result, growth in sales across both online and traditional retail channels, as well as improvements to gross margin.

"The Company also continued to focus on growing brand awareness during FY2022, which was led by an increased focus on marketing spend. This has allowed HydraLyte North America to achieve a dominant brand position in Canada, while unlocking stronger awareness in North America.

"The work undertaken during FY2022 has laid a strong foundation for the Company's growth trajectory in FY2023. This has been demonstrated by a record month in January 2023, achieved outside of peak summer months, with a reduced marketing spend. We look forward to providing further updates over the coming months."
