ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

IMEXHS wins new radiology services contract

Highlights

- IMEXHS wins new contract with Annual Recurring Revenue (ARR) of ~A$1.1m
- First contract with Colombia's 5th largest insurance provider

IMEXHS Limited (ASX: IME) ("IMEXHS" or "the Company") today announces that RIMAB, the Company's wholly owned subsidiary, has won its first contract with Famisanar. The deal is expected to contribute an estimated A$1.1m in Annual Recurring Revenue (ARR).

Famisanar is Colombia's 5th largest insurance provider which currently caters to over 2.4m patients across 16 departments in Colombia.

The initial contract is for four months with automatic four-month renewals thereafter. Under the terms of the agreement, RIMAB will perform Famisanar's MRI studies for the customers patients across the Cundinamarca region, including those in the capital city of Bogota.

The agreement includes a fixed monthly package of 1,500 MRI studies with an option to increase this volume. The new deal requires no capital expenditure and the Company will make use of the medical facilities across RIMAB's network of partners. RIMAB will use the IMEXHS Enterprise Software which is priced into the contract.

The Company has already commenced operations and billing of this contract during February 2023.

IMEXHS Co-Founder and CEO Dr Germán Arango said, "We are delighted to partner with one of Colombia's most important insurance providers. Our ability to provide high-tech medical imaging technology as well as patient-centric radiology services thanks to our 150 plus highly trained radiologists makes our offering unique across Latin America and most parts of the globe."

Authorised for release by the Board of Directors of IMEXHS Limited.
