

POINTS BET

PointsBet US To Be Sold to Fanatics Betting and Gaming for US$150 million (~A$222 million¹). Intention to distribute net sale proceeds and majority of corporate cash to shareholders

Key Highlights

- PointsBet Holdings Limited has entered into a binding agreement with Fanatics Betting and Gaming (“FBG”) for the sale of PointsBet’s US Business.
- The Proposed Transaction is subject to a number of conditions including PointsBet shareholder approval and regulatory approvals.
- Headline cash consideration of US$150 million² (~A$222 million¹).
- The Proposed Transaction follows the detailed review of a range of strategic options for the North American business.
- PointsBet will retain:
 - its leading Australian Trading Business and growing Canadian Trading Business; and
 - ownership of PointsBet’s proprietary sports wagering, racing, and iGaming platform and a perpetual, royalty-free license to exploit the Company’s Banach technology assets, with optionality to utilise these assets into geographic regions outside the US.
- PointsBet shareholders to vote on the Proposed Transaction at a Shareholder Meeting expected to be held in late June 2023.
- PointsBet’s funding requirement for the US Business will be capped at approximately US$21 million from the conclusion of the Shareholder Meeting to final completion of the Proposed Transaction. As part of the arrangements agreed, PointsBet will provide services to FBG prior to the final closing of the deal and be reimbursed for the cost of these services by FBG.
- Following the sale of the US Business, it is currently anticipated the remaining business being the Australian and Canadian Trading businesses, will be at or around EBITDA breakeven on a stand-alone basis.
- PointsBet intends to distribute to shareholders the net sale proceeds (after applicable taxes and transaction costs) together with the majority of its corporate cash reserves. The Board currently estimates this distribution of capital to be approximately A$1.07 to A$1.10 per share³, in total. The distribution of capital is expected to be made over two tranches in-line with the two-stage completion process (refer Annexure A).
- A Notice of Meeting including further information about the Proposed Transaction is expected to be made available to shareholders as soon as possible.
- The PointsBet Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote in favour of the Proposed Transaction at the Shareholder Meeting, in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

² Subject to purchase price adjustments

³ The final amount of the Proposed Distribution will be determined by the Board following each completion of the Proposed Transaction and will, in part, depend on the final number of shares outstanding post the relevant completion and the finalisation of the net proceeds received or paid following the purchase price adjustments. At the date of this announcement there are 306.9 million ordinary shares outstanding and the maximum number of ordinary shares outstanding post the vesting and exercise of the Company’s performance share rights and employee share options is approximately 328.2 million. The estimated distribution of A$1.07 to A$1.10 per share has been calculated based on assumptions made regarding: (a) the number of employee options that are likely to be exercised between the date of this announcement and the books close date for the Proposed Distribution; and (b) the number of performance share rights that will vest prior to the Proposed Distribution. The vesting of performance share rights will be determined at the discretion of the Company’s Remuneration Committee, as is customary each year.

Melbourne, Australia, 15 May 2023 – PointsBet Holdings Limited (ASX: PBH; OTCQX: PBTHF) (the Company or PointsBet) is pleased to announce that it has entered into a Stock and Equity Sale Agreement (Sale Agreement) for the sale of its United States sports wagering, advanced-deposit wagering (ADW) and iGaming operations, Banach technology, and a copy of the software for, and a licence to use, the Company's proprietary technology platform (US Business), to FBG Enterprises Opco, LLC d/b/a Fanatics Betting and Gaming (FBG) for headline cash consideration of US$150 million⁴ (~A$222 million⁵) on a "cash free, debt free" basis (Purchase Price), subject to shareholder approval and certain regulatory and other conditions (Proposed Transaction).

The Company will retain its Australian business and operations (Australian Trading Business) and its Canadian business and operations (Canadian Trading Business). The Company will also retain its proprietary sports wagering, racing and iGaming platform and be granted a perpetual, royalty-free licence to exploit the Banach technology assets (including the underlying source code driving OddsFactory). On completion the Company will be able to continue to exploit both platforms in all geographic regions, except in the US for an 18-month period.

The Company will retain its outstanding teams in Australia, Canada and India including importantly its leading team of Australian-based technologists, traders and quants that will provide the backbone to efficiently grow the Australian and Canadian Trading Businesses.

PointsBet's funding requirement for the US Business will be capped at approximately US$21 million from the conclusion of the Shareholder Meeting to final completion of the Proposed Transaction. As part of the arrangements agreed, PointsBet will provide services to FBG prior to the final closing of the deal and be reimbursed for the cost of these services by FBG.

For the avoidance of doubt, PointsBet's commercial commitments to NBCUniversal are to be transferred in full to FBG as part of the proposed transaction.

PointsBet's final payment to NBCUniversal is included as part of its capped funding requirement. NBCUniversal has also released PointsBet Holdings Limited from its guarantee obligations under its Media Services Agreement from final Completion, and has irrevocably waived its right to exercise the equity options previously issued. These options have been terminated today.

If the Proposed Transaction completes, the Company intends to distribute to shareholders the net sale proceeds (after applicable taxes and transaction costs) together with the majority of the Company's corporate cash reserves that will be surplus to the needs of the remaining business. The Board currently estimates this distribution of capital to be approximately A$1.07 to A$1.10 per share⁶, in total. The distribution of capital is expected to be made over two tranches in-line with the two-stage completion process (refer Annexure A).

PointsBet shareholders will vote on the Proposed Transaction at a Shareholder Meeting expected to be held in late June 2023.

The PointsBet Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote in favour of the Proposed Transaction at the Shareholder Meeting, in the absence of a Superior Proposal.

PointsBet Chairman Brett Paton said:

“In view of the US market in which the company has significant operations, the Board has explored and considered a wide range of strategic alternatives over an extended period of time. Having considered all of the options potentially available to the Company, the Board believes the Fanatics Betting and Gaming proposal optimises value for shareholders.”

“The acquisition by Fanatics Betting and Gaming of our US Business will enable PointsBet to return significant capital to shareholders, while retaining strong Australian and Canadian businesses supported by our leading proprietary technology in a capital light setting.”

PointsBet Managing Director and Group CEO Sam Swanell said:

“Despite the strategic success building a valuable asset in the US, the costs of operating in a state-by-state environment, together with the requirement to build significant scale to compete against well capitalised operators, led us to explore a number of options.”

“The sale of the US Business to Fanatics Betting and Gaming delivers the most attractive risk-adjusted value outcome for shareholders compared to the risks and benefits of other options including the status quo.”

“Fanatics Betting and Gaming has recognised our strategy, technology and team, as a platform for their own expansion in the online sports betting and iGaming market.”

“Given Fanatics significant presence in the US sports market, we consider them to be a natural acquirer of our US Business”

“I would like to thank Fanatics Betting and Gaming’s CEO Matt King and his team for working with the PointsBet team on the significant amount of constructive diligence that has been done leading to this proposed transaction.

“Importantly the proposed transaction removes the risks and capital requirements associated with executing the Company’s United States strategy.”

Key Terms and Conditions

A summary of the key terms and conditions of the Sale Agreement and related transaction documents is set out in the Annexures, including details regarding exclusivity arrangements and the completion mechanism.

The Proposed Transaction will constitute a disposal of PointsBet's main undertaking. Accordingly, the Company will convene an extraordinary general meeting of PointsBet shareholders (Shareholder Meeting) to seek approval of the Proposed Transaction for the purposes of ASX Listing Rule 11.2. This will be held as soon as possible, currently expected to be held in late June 2023.

Further details about the Proposed Transaction will be provided in the Shareholder Meeting notice of meeting and accompanying explanatory memorandum (Notice of Meeting).

Rationale for the Proposed Transaction

PointsBet is currently the seventh largest online operator out of over 60 licensed online operators in the US. The PointsBet app, which is powered by PointsBet's proprietary technology stack, is independently ranked as Top 3⁷ in the US market.

Despite the strategic success building a valuable asset in the US, there are a number of risks and significant capital requirements to execute on the US Business' sports betting and iGaming strategy and it is not expected to be cash flow positive in the near term. This reflects the structurally high cost of operating in a state-by-state regulated environment, the requirement to pay partner fees in most US States and continued competition from well capitalised operators.

In view of the significant capital requirements associated with the US Business, the Company has explored a range of strategic alternatives to alleviate the demands on the PointsBet balance sheet. PointsBet has also considered a range of operational initiatives intended to reduce the cash requirements of the US Business and the Company has already implemented a number of these initiatives. Notwithstanding this, PointsBet's current corporate cash balance is insufficient to fund the US Business through to profitability, and as such, should the Proposed Transaction not proceed, the Company would need to raise additional capital in the near term.

Whilst the Company has successfully raised capital on several occasions since it was first listed on the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX) in June 2019, market conditions are presently very challenging for emerging companies that are yet to become cash flow positive, with the consequence that any equity capital that might be otherwise raised by the Company would likely need to be raised at a substantial discount to recent market prices.

⁷ Per Eilers & Krejcik

Moreover, there can be no guarantee that additional capital could be raised at all in the near term.

The Proposed Transaction therefore addresses a key uncertainty currently facing the Company through removing the need to raise the capital required to fund the US Business through to the point at which it becomes cash flow positive.

PointsBet Australia and Canada

If the Proposed Transaction completes, PointsBet Holdings Limited will continue as an ASX listed company and pursue its successful business in Australia and its growing Canadian business.

PointsBet's Australian Trading Business has a strategically important place in the Australian wagering market, a point that has been validated by various unsolicited third-party proposals to acquire the business received during the last six months. The Company intends to continue to grow its market share in this market, with the benefit of a more focused approach given the streamlined business that will remain.

The Company will also retain exposure to an early stage North American market via the Canadian Trading Business. In Canada, PointsBet is live in the sports wagering and iGaming market in Ontario. The Ontario market structure is attractive for sports and iGaming operators, including no requirement to be tethered to a casino, racetrack or retail footprint to operate (i.e., no partner revenue share agreements, unlike most US states), nominal license fees and an acceptable effective tax rate of 18% of Gross Gaming Revenue. The lower capital requirements and higher operating margins relative to most US states create strong prospects for attractive future economics.

Following the sale of the US Business, the remaining business is currently expected to be at or around EBITDA breakeven on a standalone basis, with the profitability of the Australian Trading Business expected to significantly offset the expected near-term losses of the Canadian Trading Business as the latter builds scale.

Proposed Distribution of Sale Proceeds and Surplus Corporate Cash

Following completion of the sale of the US Business, the Company intends to distribute to shareholders the net sale proceeds (after applicable taxes and transaction costs) together with the majority of the Company's current corporate cash reserves that will be surplus to the needs of the remaining business.

The Board currently estimates this distribution of capital to be approximately A$1.07 to A$1.10 per share⁸, in total. The distribution is expected to be made over two tranches in-line with the two-stage completion process (together, the Proposed Distribution) (refer Annexure A).

⁸ The final amount of the Proposed Distribution will be determined by the Board following each completion of the Proposed Transaction and will, in part, depend on the final number of shares outstanding post the relevant completion and the finalisation of the net proceeds received or paid following the purchase price adjustments. At the date of this announcement there are 306.9 million ordinary shares outstanding and the maximum number of ordinary shares outstanding post the vesting and exercise of the Company's performance share rights and employee share options is approximately 328.2 million. The estimated distribution of A$1.07 to A$1.10 per share has been calculated based on assumptions made regarding: (a) the number of employee options that are likely to be exercised between the date of this announcement and the books close date for the Proposed Distribution; and (b) the number of performance share rights that will vest prior to the Proposed Distribution. The vesting of performance share rights will be determined at the discretion of the Company's Remuneration Committee, as is customary each year.

The final amount and structure of the Proposed Distribution will be determined by the Board following completion of the Proposed Transaction, and will depend on the following factors:

- finalisation of the proceeds received or paid by PointsBet following the purchase price adjustments;
- finalisation of the quantum of applicable taxes and transaction and restructure costs payable on the Proposed Transaction;
- provision for future liabilities associated with the Proposed Transaction (if any);
- conversion of the net sale proceeds and corporate cash (as applicable) from US dollars to Australian dollars;
- the number of fully paid ordinary shares on issue at the record date of the Proposed Distribution; and
- receipt of final advice pertaining to the Proposed Distribution, and receipt of a draft Class Ruling from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Unanimous Recommendation of PointsBet Board

The Board, in close consultation with key management personnel and its financial and legal advisers, has formed the view that the sale of the US Business to FBG delivers the most attractive risk-adjusted value outcome for shareholders, compared to the risks and benefits of PointsBet pursuing other potential options including the status quo, and accordingly considers the Proposed Transaction to be in the best interests of PointsBet shareholders.

In making its assessment, the Board had regard to the fact that the Company has received a number of confidential and incomplete inbound approaches in relation to the US Business and engaged in a number of confidential discussions with significant industry participants regarding potential strategic relationships. Amongst other things, these discussions have provided the Board with valuable reference points as to the value of the US Business.

Each of the Directors intends to vote all PointsBet shares held or controlled by them in favour of the Proposed Transaction at the Shareholder Meeting, and will also recommend that shareholders vote in favour of the Proposed Transaction at the Shareholder Meeting, in each case subject to no Superior Proposal emerging.

Indicative Timetable and Next Steps

PointsBet shareholders do not need to take any action at this time.

A Notice of Meeting containing information relating to the Proposed Transaction is expected to be distributed to the Company's shareholders as soon as possible.

Shareholders will then have an opportunity to vote on the Proposed Transaction at the Shareholder Meeting, currently expected to be held in late June 2023.
