Market and industry overview

IP Industry Overview

Continued Industry Resilience

The need for clients to continually protect their most important asset, intellectual property, persists irrespective of ongoing market conditions

R&D budgets are often protected, or in some sectors increased, during volatile periods to seize on market opportunities

Innovation that results from volatility also plays strongly in the favour of the IP sector

The global IP sector has continued to show resilience, evident in the growth experienced in patents and trade marks

Total patent applications filed in Australia (FY19-23)

Notes:

1. Excludes innovation filings. Innovation patents are excluded from the above analysis – they were phased out from August 2021 and accelerated filings prior to the phase out had distorted the patent filings market when viewed inclusive of innovation filings.
2. Based on IP Australia data at conclusion of each filing period.
3. The FY22 market increase includes filings from applicants who may have previously utilised the innovation patent system (market otherwise remained largely flat)

IP lifecycle supports resilience

- Revenue generation at various stages of maintaining and enforcement of IP rights
- Client relationships tend to be long term and stable – 18 months – 20 years+
- Client arrangements can be national, regional, multi-national
- Reciprocal arrangements internationally generate additional revenue streams

In an increasingly volatile world, intellectual property remains a critical asset – the IP industry has demonstrated great resilience
