Market validation of unique Node-to-Spoke strategy

Spenda's strategy is to deliver a portfolio of software and payments infrastructure that harness the network effect (Node-to-Spoke), where Nodes are the hub that bring people or businesses together (the Spokes) in an interconnected digital network. Spenda's unique solutions are ideal for trading networks and distributed marketplaces, as they can improve transparency and operational efficiency throughout the supply chain. In the past quarter, this unique model was validated by several large commercial deals with Carpet Court, Capricorn and AgriChain.

Layering the recurring revenue streams through new commercial partnerships

In Q1 FY24, Spenda announced a five-year exclusive agreement with Carpet Court to offer lending services, following the successful roll-out of Spenda's payments infrastructure between head office and the network of 205 franchise stores. Total payments between head office and the store network are approximately $240m per year.

In October, Spenda announced the signing of a binding term sheet for a 10-year service agreement with Capricorn for the provision of software and ecommerce payments infrastructure, subject to the successful completion of the final phase of the Digital Service Delivery ('DSD') initiative, expected in late 2023. Spenda's potential to benefit from increased ecommerce volumes on its payments infrastructure, through Capricorn's 26,000 Members and 2,000 preferred Suppliers is significant. Capricorn's Members purchase ~$270m per month in parts from the approved Supplier network.

In October, Spenda also announced a binding agreement with AgriChain to integrate early payment services to grain growers on the AgriChain platform. AgriChain provides an Enterprise Resource Planning ('ERP') system that connects buyers and sellers in the agricultural supply chain. The AgriChain network consists of ~10,000 users who are traders, producers, manufacturers, retailers, farmers and grain storers. AgriChain has ~$2.2b in grain on their supply chain platform at any given points in time and these transactions are expected to run through Spenda's payment platform over time.

These commercial partnerships provide market validation of the Node-to-Spoke model with applications across multiple industry verticals and are expected to generate long-term sustainable, recurring revenue at attractive margins, which will be transformational for Spenda.

Continued growth in payments and lending volumes

Total payments volume in Q1 FY24 of $61.8m, up from $44.9m in Q4 FY23. Payments volumes have increased four-fold over the past year, from $5.2m in September 2022 to $21.2m in September 2023, driven primarily by increased payments volumes through the Carpet Court network, following the successful rollout of Spenda's payments infrastructure to the network of 205 franchise retail stores.

The loan book peaked at $15m in Q1 FY24, with an additional $1m in drawdown borrowings throughout the quarter, with an overall average portfolio yield of 21.2%. There is significant variation in the Invoice Finance loan book throughout the month as invoices are received and paid, so the increase in peak volumes over time, reflects overall growth in the loan book.

In Q1 FY24, Spenda continued to expand its Invoice Finance portfolio, signing $3.7m in new facility limits to a total of $28.8m.

Product Development Update

During the quarter, the development team focused on the scalability of the Spenda solutions with their efforts on four key areas:

- Spenda Wallet for Android: Developed an Android version of Spenda Wallet with comparable features and functionality to the iOS version. Spenda Wallet for Android is a companion app to the Accounts Payable software and doubles the potential addressable market.
- Tenant-to-Tenant Evolution: Extended the capability of Tenant-to-Tenant document translation service to support additional account systems and more complex accounting practices, saving Spenda users hours of data entry per week.
- Embedded Buyer Finance: Released embedded closed loop of demand finance payments within Spenda's Pay-Statement-By-Link web application, which enables buyers to make invoice payments quickly and easily, without being redirected to an external payment portal.
- Claims and Returns: Embedded Claims and Returns within Pay Statement by Link, which allows buyers to raise an issue with their supplier and have a credit note issued in real time. This credit note can then be consumed and applied directly by the buyer and applied during the statement payment process.

Financial position

Cash receipts from customers for the quarter totaled $749k, which represents a 38% decline when compared to the prior quarter. The record quarterly cash receipts from customers of $1.2m in Q4 FY23 included implementation fees of $417k from the Capricorn DSD Project. The Company expects to receive additional implementation fees for the successful completion of the DSD Project in Q2 FY24 as per ASX announcement on 17th of October 2023.
