1. Assuming a floor price of $3.55 for the Placement Price.

2. For this purpose, an eligible institutional shareholder's 'pro rata' share of Placement Shares will be estimated by reference to Aussie Broadband's beneficial register on Tuesday, 31 October 2023, but without undertaking any reconciliation processes and ignoring shares that may be issued under the SPP. Unlike in a rights issue, this may not truly reflect the participating shareholder's actual 'pro rata' share of Placement Shares. Nothing in this Presentation gives a shareholder a right or entitlement to participate in the Placement and Aussie Broadband has no obligation to reconcile assumed holdings (e.g. for recent trading or swap positions) when determining a shareholder's 'pro rata' share of Placement Shares. Institutional shareholders who do not reside in Australia or other eligible jurisdictions will not be able to participate in the Placement – refer to Appendix 2 "Key Selling Restrictions" for the eligible jurisdictions and relevant selling restrictions. Aussie Broadband and the Underwriters disclaim any duty or liability (including for negligence) in respect of the determination of a shareholder's 'pro rata' share of Placement Shares

Appendix 1 – Key Risks

Aussie
Broadband

THE ACTUAL AUSSIE WAY

Key risks

This section outlines some of the key risks associated with an investment in Aussie Broadband shares. This is not an exhaustive list of the relevant risks and the risks set out below are not in order of importance.

Additional risks not presently known to Aussie Broadband, or that are not presently considered by Aussie Broadband to be material, may also become important factors that adversely affect Aussie Broadband. If any of the following risks materialise, Aussie Broadband's business, financial condition and financial performance, and the price of its shares may be adversely affected. Investors should note that the occurrence or consequences of some of the risks described in this section are partially or completely outside of the control of Aussie Broadband, its directors and senior management.

Before making any investment decision, potential investors should read this presentation in its entirety and carefully consider the risks outlined in this section. You should also read this presentation in conjunction with Aussie Broadband's other periodic and continuous disclosure announcements lodged with the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX), which are available at (ASX:ABB). You should also have regard to your own investment objectives, financial situation and particular needs, and consider consulting your financial or legal adviser for professional guidance.

The risks are categorised as follows:

1. Key Business Risks; 2. Risks relating to the acquisition of all of the issued share capital in Symbio (Acquisition Risks) and 3. General Risks and Offer Risks.

References to Aussie Broadband in the key risks section of this presentation include Aussie Broadband and its related bodies corporate (as defined in the Corporations Act), where the context requires.

Key Business Risks

Industry risks

Aussie Broadband operates predominantly in the highly competitive NBN landscape. There is currently a significant period of change in the sector with the implementation of a new NBN Special Access Undertaking which determines the wholesale pricing of the industry. This represents a significant alteration to the prevailing arrangements and commences on 1 December 2023. The impact of these changes are uncertain with widespread retail prices likely and the competitive dynamics to emerge over the next few months and represents potential risk to Aussie Broadband's growth profile.

Population growth and new dwelling construction

The future growth and performance of Aussie Broadband and for its services will in part, be influenced by the level of population growth, housing construction and home relocations.

Product development risks

There is a risk that any initiatives undertaken by Aussie Broadband to introduce new products, services or functionality may result in unforeseen costs or risks, may not perform as intended or may not deliver the expected growth in customers.

Bandwidth and network requirements

A key aspect of the delivery of Aussie Broadband's services is providing sufficient fixed line broadband bandwidth for customers. If Aussie Broadband were unable to deploy sufficient network infrastructure then its financial and operating performance may be adversely affected.

Data security risk

Protection of company, customer, employee and third-party data is critical to Aussie Broadband's ongoing business and Aussie Broadband has adopted robust data protection systems for this purpose.

However, any failure of such systems may result in reputational damage, regulatory impositions (such as for breaches of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth)) and financial loss, including claims for compensation by customers or penalties by telecommunications regulators or other authorities.

Brand maintenance

Aussie Broadband's reputation and the value of its brand may be damaged as a result of negative customer or end-user experiences due to poor product performance or product failures, adverse media coverage or other publicity or disputes with customers, suppliers or employees. Erosion of Aussie Broadband's reputation as a result of one or a combination of these factors may adversely impact Aussie Broadband's ability to attract and retain customers, thereby affecting revenue performance and profitability.

Network infrastructure

Various aspects of Aussie Broadband's operations depend on the performance, reliability and availability of its infrastructure technology. There is a risk that these technologies, platforms and systems may be adversely affected by a number of factors, including damage, equipment, power failure, computer viruses, misuse by employees or contractors, or external or malicious interventions, such as hacking, fire, natural disasters or weather interventions.

Growth strategies

Aussie Broadband has a number of strategies in place to generate future growth and earnings, including the ongoing construction of an internally owned and operated fibre optic network. There is a risk that the implementation of these strategies will be subject to delays or cost overruns and there is no guarantee that these strategies will generate the customer demand, sales and earnings growth and may not deliver a return on investment.

Design, construction and development risk

As Aussie Broadband continues to construct its own backhaul fibre optic network, any major capital expenditure, project delays or unexpected costs associated with the design, construction and development may adversely impact its operating results.

Acquisitions

Aussie Broadband's past and future acquisitions may be subject to unanticipated risks and liabilities, or may disrupt its operations. There is also a risk that the expected benefit of any acquisition will not be realised due to an inability to successfully integrate any acquired business. These types of integration risks may detract from the expected benefits contemplated by Aussie Broadband and affect the financial performance and growth of Aussie Broadband or damage the reputation and branding of Aussie Broadband.

This may divert management's attention and resources from Aussie Broadband's day to day operations.

Telecommunications regulation

Aussie Broadband participates in a heavily regulated sector and there is a risk that Aussie Broadband will breach its obligations resulting in potential penalties and reputational damage.

There is also that risk that new legislation is introduced that may increase the operating costs of the business.

Supply chain risk

Aussie Broadband's hardware requirements are dependent on componentry that can from time to time be in short supply. While Aussie Broadband maintains significant advance stock levels there is a risk that there may be shortages.

Key risks

Labour cost risk

Like all businesses currently Aussie Broadband is not immune to wage inflation and a challenging recruitment market. There is a risk that wage inflation will continue at high levels and the market for talent will remain competitive.

Key customer and supplier risks

Aussie Broadband relies on a number of key customer and supplier contracts and arrangements and there is no assurance that such contracts will continue or will be renewed upon their expiration or that the terms of any renewal will be as favourable to Aussie Broadband.

Investigations, disputes and litigation risk

Aussie Broadband may, from time to time, be subject to regulatory reviews, audits and investigations which divert management's attention away from Aussie Broadband's operations and may be costly. There is a risk that enforcement action may follow any such review and that such activities also adversely affect Aussie Broadband's reputation.

Exposure to disputes or litigation with third parties, such as customers, regulators (e.g. the ACCC), employees, business associates, suppliers (including as to the terms of supply arrangements), or contract counterparties could negatively impact on the Company's financial performance through increased costs, settlement payments, concessions made in contract negotiations, damages payments and reputational damage.

Acquisition Risks

Transaction due diligence and reliance on information provided by Symbio

Aussie Broadband has undertaken financial, operational, business and other analysis in respect of Symbio in order to determine its attractiveness to Aussie Broadband and whether to pursue the Proposed Transaction.

Risks may exist in relation to Symbio of which Aussie Broadband may be unaware, including latent, future or otherwise unknown claims or liabilities. The analysis undertaken by Aussie Broadband may draw conclusions and forecasts that are inaccurate or which are not realised in due course. There is no assurance that the due diligence conducted was conclusive and that all material issues and risks in respect of the Proposed Transaction have been identified.

To the extent a risk was identified there is no assurance that the materiality of the risk has been accurately assessed or, to the extent that a material risk has been identified, that it is effectively mitigated. To the extent that the actual results achieved by the Proposed Transaction are weaker than those indicated by Aussie Broadband's analysis, there is a risk that there may be an adverse impact on the financial position and performance of Aussie Broadband, and therefore on the return Aussie Broadband receives from its ownership of Symbio.

The due diligence undertaken by Aussie Broadband relied partly on the review of financial and other information provided by Symbio. Aussie Broadband has not been able to verify the accuracy, reliability or completeness of all the information which was provided to it against independent data.

Completion risk

There is a risk that the proposed acquisition of all the issued share capital in Symbio may not complete on the current terms and expected timing. As completion of the Proposed Transaction will occur only after completion of the Offer, there is a risk that Aussie Broadband will have raised the proceeds of the Offer and the Proposed Transaction will be terminated. If this occurs, Aussie Broadband will utilise the proceeds of the Offer by way of general working capital. If completion of the Proposed Transaction is delayed, Aussie Broadband may incur additional costs and it may take longer than anticipated for Aussie Broadband to realise the benefits of the Proposed Transaction.

Any failure to complete, or delay in completing the Proposed Transaction may have a material adverse effect on Aussie Broadband's operations, financial position and performance and the price of its shares.

Transition risk

The transition of ownership brings with it a range of risks that need to be managed. These risks include:

- possible loss of key Symbio personnel or corporate knowledge;
- reduced employee productivity due to uncertainty arising as a result of the Proposed Transaction;
- possible difficulties in bringing together the cultures and management styles of both organisations in an effective manner;
- disruption to the ongoing operations of both businesses;
- impacts to the existing business of Aussie Broadband from the increase in scale of the business upon implementation of the Proposed Transaction; and
- unanticipated costs arising from unforeseen issues, litigation or regulatory actions
- higher than anticipated costs, delays or failures relating to integration of businesses, IT, accounting or other systems;
- impacts to the existing business of Aussie Broadband from the increase in scale of the business upon implementation of the Proposed Transaction; and
- unanticipated costs arising from unforeseen litigation or regulatory actions.

Arrangements with key customers and suppliers

Symbio's business relies on a number of key customer and supplier contracts and arrangements. There can be no assurance that key customer and supplier contracts or arrangements will continue, or where formal contracts exist, will be renewed upon their expiration or that the terms of any renewal will be as favourable to Symbio as the terms of the current arrangements.

Aussie
Broadband

THE ACTUAL AUSSIE WAY

The loss of a significant portion of these customers and suppliers, a significant reduction in sales to customers, or a significant change in the commercial terms of the relationships with these customers and suppliers could have a material adverse impact on Symbio's financial performance and prospects.

Legal risk

The Proposed Transaction will involve Aussie Broadband and its related bodies corporate entering into a number of transaction documents. While the documents contain some protections in respect of certain historical liabilities of Symbio, there is always a risk that potential liabilities or risks in relation to Symbio's business or other costs are not matters for which Aussie Broadband has protection under those transaction documents, potentially exposing Aussie Broadband to the risk of future costs or disputes arising in relation to the Proposed Transaction.

Funding risk

The Proposed Transaction is not subject to any financing condition. However, Aussie Broadband has obtained new debt facilities to fund the cash component of the Proposed Transaction on a customary certain funds basis (New Debt Facilities). Aussie Broadband has received legally binding commitments from certain financiers to provide the New Debt Facilities subject to certain conditions. If certain events occur, the financiers may terminate their commitment to provide the New Debt Facilities. If so, Aussie Broadband would need to secure alternative sources of funding. Failure to source alternative funding could result in Aussie Broadband being unable to perform its obligations to complete the Proposed Transaction.

If the Proposed Transaction occurs, there will be an increase in Aussie Broadband's debt levels. The use of the New Debt Facilities to partially fund the Proposed Transaction means that Aussie Broadband will be exposed to risks associated with higher interest costs and insolvency.

Key risks

In addition, Aussie Broadband will be more exposed to general risks relating to any refinancing of its debt facilities. An inability to refinance debt facilities in the future or the risk of increased financing costs on refinancing may adversely affect the financial performance of ABB.

Future earnings

To the extent that the actual financial performance achieved by Symbio is weaker than anticipated by Aussie Broadband in its analysis of whether to pursue the Proposed Transaction, there are difficulties in integrating the operations of Symbio with Aussie Broadband or operating costs are higher than anticipated, the profitability and future earnings of Symbio may be materially less favourable than the pro-forma financial performance presented in this presentation.

Foreign jurisdiction compliance risk

Symbio has significant operations in New Zealand and Singapore, as well as operations in the United Kingdom, United States of America and Malaysia, through its subsidiaries. The operations of the Symbio business in each of these jurisdictions is subject to extensive laws, regulatory requirements and industry standards and codes. A failure by the Symbio group to hold relevant licences or approvals could, if not rectified, result in the relevant Symbio entities being liable to fines, penalties and requirements to pay compensation for damages as well as reputational damage and the possibility, ultimately, of revocation of licences or approvals which could have a material adverse impact on the business carried out in those jurisdictions. If Aussie Broadband or Symbio do not have appropriate systems and procedures in place to manage its regulatory compliance, Symbio could be subject to fines, penalties and requirements to pay compensation for damages as well as reputational damage and the possibility of revocation of licences.

Economic, political and social conditions in foreign jurisdictions

Due to foreign operations through its subsidiaries incorporated in New Zealand, Singapore, the United Kingdom, the United States of America and Malaysia, Symbio's business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be influenced to a significant degree by economic, political, social and legal conditions in those countries.

Symbio's operations in foreign jurisdictions are also governed by local laws and regulations in the relevant countries which may differ from the jurisdictions in which Aussie Broadband currently operates.

Regulatory risk

Regulatory action against Aussie Broadband in respect of the Proposed Transaction, under legislation and government policy may adversely affect Aussie Broadband. For example, Australia's competition regulator may determine that a public merger review of the Proposed Transaction is required. Any media attention, regulatory scrutiny or other action taken against Aussie Broadband or any of its Related Bodies Corporate may have adverse effects on the Proposed Transaction, reputation of Aussie Broadband or on Aussie Broadband's operating and financial performance.

General Risks and Offer Risks

Macroeconomic and Socioeconomic factors

The performance of Aussie Broadband will continue to be influenced by the overall condition of the economy in Australia and any deterioration in employment or economic growth could adversely affect Aussie Broadband's business. In light of recent Australian and global macroeconomic events, Australia may experience an economic recession or downturn of uncertain severity and duration which will continue to impact on the operating and financial performance and prospects of Aussie Broadband.

Other socioeconomic and macroeconomic factors that could have a material adverse impact on Aussie Broadband's business and financial performance, include higher unemployment rates, lower household income levels and lower birth rates.

General market and share price risks

There are general risks associated with any investment in the share market. The price of Aussie Broadband shares may increase or decrease due to a number of factors. These factors include fluctuations in domestic or global financial markets and general economic conditions, including interest rates, inflation rates, exchange rates, commodity and oil prices, changes to government fiscal, monetary or regulatory policies, legislation or regulation, the removal or inclusion of Aussie Broadband from market indices, and the nature of markets in which Aussie Broadband operates.

Tax and accounting

Australian accounting standards and tax laws (including GST and stamp duty taxes), or the way they are interpreted, are subject to change from time to time, which may impact Aussie Broadband's financial position or performance.

Dividends

There are a range of factors that determine the payment of dividends on Aussie Broadband's shares. These include the profitability of the business, its cash reserves, future capital requirements and obligations under debt facilities. Aussie Broadband's Board will determine any future dividend levels based upon Aussie Broadband's operating results and financial standing at the time. There is no guarantee that any dividend will be paid by Aussie Broadband, or guarantee that future dividends will equal or exceed previous payments.

Aussie
Broadband

Litigation

Legal proceedings and claims may arise from time to time in the ordinary course of Aussie Broadband's business and may result in high legal costs, adverse monetary judgments and / or damage to Aussie Broadband's reputation which could have an adverse impact on Aussie Broadband's financial position or performance and the price of its shares.

Underwriting risk

Aussie Broadband has entered into a placement agreement with the Underwriters under which the Underwriters have agreed to fully underwrite the Placement component of the Offer, subject to the terms and conditions of the placement agreement (Placement Agreement). Aussie Broadband has given certain representations, warranties, undertakings and indemnities in favour of the Underwriters.

If the Placement Agreement is terminated by an Underwriter for any reason, that Underwriter will not be obliged to perform any of its obligations that remain to be performed. Termination of the Placement Agreement may result in ABB not receiving the full amount of the proceeds expected under the Placement, which could have an adverse effect on its financial position and Aussie Broadband might need to take other steps to raise capital, including by raising additional debt.

Aussie Broadband will pay the Underwriters, in their respective proportions, an underwriting and management fee of 3.25% of the monies raised under the Placement. Aussie Broadband will also pay or reimburse the Underwriters for all their reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the Placement, including, without limitation, the fees and disbursements of the Underwriters' external legal counsel, travel expenses, incidental travel expenses, Net roadshow expenses and Deal Axis expenses, CHESS allocation interest, DvP settlement service expenses and communications and printing costs incurred by the Underwriters.

Dilution

The Placement will dilute current Shareholders' percentage shareholding in Aussie Broadband. Investors may also have their investment diluted by future capital raisings or issues of new equity securities Aussie Broadband. Aussie Broadband may issue new equity securities in the future to, among other things, finance acquisitions or pay down debt which may, under certain circumstances, dilute the value of a Shareholder's interest in Aussie Broadband.

SPP

The SPP proportion of the Offer is not being underwritten, which may result in a shortfall in the proceeds expected under the SPP. Should such a shortfall occur, Aussie Broadband may need to limit the use of the funds raised under the Offer accordingly. See above "Underwriting risk" for further explanation of the risks associated with the underwriting of the Placement.
