Expanding Our Capability Across the Value Chain

OpenLearning is set to expand into the Learner Discovery segment of the Edtech market with the acquisition of 3 leading student marketplaces at the start of Q1, 2024¹.

Annually, these marketplaces attract over 800,000 users and list over 15,000 courses and degrees from 70 institutions.

This acquisition enhances the value proposition of existing platform by expanding learner acquisition capability and opens up attractive cross-selling opportunities in the higher education sector.
