Risk Factors

Potential investors should be aware that subscribing for Securities in the Company involves a number of risks. The key risk factors of which investors should be aware are set out in Section 5, including (but not limited to) risks in respect of:

- (a) Future capital requirements: The Company has no operating revenue and is unlikely to generate any operating revenue unless and until the Projects are successfully developed and production commences. The future capital requirements of the Company will depend on many factors including its business development activities.

In order to successfully develop the Projects and for production to commence, the Company will require further financing in the future, in addition to amounts raised pursuant to the Entitlement Offer. Any additional equity financing may be dilutive to Shareholders, may be undertaken at lower prices than the then market price or may involve restrictive covenants which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. Debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities or the registering of security interests over the Company's assets.

- (b) Contractual risk: The ability of the Company to achieve its stated objectives may be materially affected by the performance by the parties of its obligations under certain agreements. If any party defaults in the performance of its obligations, it may be necessary for the Company to approach a court to seek a legal remedy, which can be costly.

- (c) Completion Risk: As at the date of this Prospectus, the Company's interest in Flash Metals, the WA REE Tenements and the FJH Option is limited to a conditional contractual right to acquire Flash Metals pursuant to the Flash Agreement and the exercise of the PEPL Option and EAPL Option agreements. Completion is subject to the satisfaction of several conditions precedent, some of which are outside of the control of the Company and/or the Vendors.

There is a risk that the conditions precedent for the Flash Agreement will not be fulfilled and, in turn, that the transactions contemplated by the Flash Agreement will not be completed. If Completion does not occur, the Company will not acquire any interest in Flash Metals, the WA REE Tenements or the FJH Option. There is also a risk that the Flash Agreement completes but the transactions contemplated by the Flash Agreement do not complete. There can be no certainty, nor can the parties provide any assurance, that all conditions precedent to the Flash Agreement will be satisfied or waived, nor can there be any certainty of the timing of their satisfaction or waiver. If the Acquisition and Offers are not completed for any reason, there are risks that the announcement of the Acquisition and the dedication of substantial resources of the Company to the completion thereof could have a negative impact on the Company's current business relationships (including with future and prospective employees and suppliers) and could have a material adverse effect on the current and future operations, financial condition and prospects of the Company. In addition, failure to complete the Acquisition for any reason could materially negatively impact the market price of the Shares and Quoted Options.

- (d) Development, commercialisation and marketing of the FJH Technology: The success of the Company post-completion of the Acquisition will partially depend upon the Company's ability to develop and commercialise the FJH Technology. A failure to successfully develop and commercialise the FJH Technology could lead to a loss of opportunities and materially adversely impact on the Company's operating results and financial position.

If the Company is successful in developing the FJH Technology, there may be further additional risks associated with how the technology fits within industry standards and issues faced with production which may affect yields.

- (e) Protection of intellectual property rights: If the Company fails to protect its intellectual property rights adequately, competitors may gain access to the FJH Technology which may harm its business. Securing rights to intellectual property, and in particular patents, is an integral part of securing potential product value from the development of technology such as the FJH Technology. Competition in retaining and sustaining protection of intellectual property and the complex nature of intellectual property can lead to expensive and lengthy patents disputes for which there can be no guaranteed outcome.

Legal standards relating to the validity, enforceability and scope of protection of intellectual property rights are uncertain. Effective patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret protection may not be available to the Company in all countries where the FJH Technology may eventually be sold. Accordingly, despite its efforts, the Company may not be able to prevent third parties from infringing upon or misappropriating the intellectual property.

- (f) Exploration and development risks: Mineral exploration and development is a high-risk undertaking. There can be no assurance that exploration of the Projects or any other exploration properties that may be acquired in the future will result in the discovery of an economic resource.

Exploration in terrains with existing mineralisation endowments and known occurrences may slightly mitigate this risk.

- (g) Tenure and land access risk: Land access is critical for exploration and/or exploitation to succeed. It requires both access to the mineral rights and access to the surface rights. Minerals rights may be negotiated and acquired. In all cases the acquisition of prospective exploration and mining licences is a competitive business, in which proprietary knowledge or information is critical and the ability to negotiate satisfactory commercial arrangements with other parties is often essential. The Company may not be successful in acquiring or obtaining the necessary licences to conduct exploration or evaluation activities outside of the mineral tenements.

As the Company's rights in the Tenements may be obtained by grant by regulatory authorities or be subject to contracts with third parties, any third party may terminate or rescind the relevant agreement whether lawfully or not and, accordingly, the Company

may lose its rights to exclusive use of, and access to any, or all, of the Tenements. (h) Market conditions: The market price of the Shares and Quoted Options can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resource exploration stocks in particular. Further, market conditions may affect the value of the Company's Shares and Quoted Options regardless of the Company's operating performance. Market conditions are affected by many factors such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) general economic outlook; (ii) interest rates and inflation rates; (iii) currency fluctuations; (iv) changes in investor sentiment; (v) the demand for, and supply of, capital; and (vi) terrorism or other hostilities.

An additional US$250,000 (A$403,000) is payable to Rice University as a technology research fee. A further US$500,000 (A$806,000) has been estimated as expenditure that may be required to advance the FJH Technology towards commercialisation.
5. Working capital includes the general costs associated with the management and operation of the Company's business including administration expenses and operating costs.
6. Includes third party adviser fees, legal and accounting fees and associated due diligence costs in respect to the Acquisition, Entitlement Offer and Placement. Expenses paid or payable by the Company in relation to the Offers are set out in Section 6.16.

Includes broker fees paid or payable to comprise the following:

- (a) $300,000 in connection with the Placement; and
- (b) up to $149,156 in connection with the Entitlement Offer assuming that none of the Entitlement Offer is taken up and 100% of the Entitlement Offer is allocated by the Lead Manager.

The above is a statement of current intentions at the date of this Prospectus. Intervening events and new circumstances have the potential to affect the manner in which the funds are ultimately applied. The Board reserves the right to alter the way the funds are applied on this basis.

The amounts and timing of the actual expenditures and investments may vary significantly and will depend on a number of factors, including market conditions, the development of new opportunities and/or any number of other factors (including the risk factors summarised in Section 5), and actual expenditure levels, may differ significantly from the above estimates.

4.3 Substantial Shareholders

Based on the information available to the Company, those Shareholders holding an interest in 5% or more of the Shares on issue as at the date of this Prospectus are as follows:

Shareholder	Shares	Voting power ¹
Mr David Izzard (and associated entities) ²	7,014,287	5.6%

Notes:

1. Voting power does not include any Securities to be issued pursuant to the Offers or Placement.
2. Refer to Section 6.13(b) for further information about the Securities held by Mr Izzard and his associated entities.

4.4 Diluting effect of the Offers

(a) All Shares under the Entitlement Offer are issued

On the assumption that:

- (i) all of the Shares offered under the Entitlement Offer are issued; and
- (ii) no other Securities are issued or exercised,

the number of Shares on issue would increase to 155,370,445 and the diluting effect on the percentage interest of existing Shareholders would be 25.0%.

(b) All Shares under the Offers are issued, all of the Tranche 2 Placement Shares are issued and all of the Tranche 2 Conversion Shares are issued

On the assumption that:

- (i) all of the Shares offered under the Offers are issued;
- (ii) all of the Tranche 2 Placement Shares are issued;
- (iii) all of the Tranche 2 Conversion Shares are issued; and
- (iv) no other Securities are issued or exercised,

the number of Shares on issue would increase to 308,636,175 and the diluting effect on the percentage interest of existing Shareholders would be 148.3%.

(c) All Securities under the Offers are issued, all Placement Securities are issued and all Conversion Securities are issued

On the assumption that:

- (i) all of the Securities offered under the Offers are issued, exercised and converted to Shares;
- (ii) all of the Placement Shares are issued;
- (iii) all of the Placement Options are issued, exercised and converted to Shares;
- (iv) all of the Conversion Shares are issued;
- (v) all of the Conversion Options are issued, exercised and converted to Shares; and
- (vi) no other Securities are issued or exercised,

the number of Shares on issue would increase to 498,735,720 and the diluting effect on the percentage interest of existing Shareholders would be 301.2%.

4.5 Potential dilution of the Entitlement Offer

Shareholders should note that if they do not participate in the Entitlement Offer, their holdings are likely to be diluted (as compared to their holdings and number of Shares on issue as at the date of the Prospectus). Examples of how the dilution may impact Shareholders are set out in the table below:

Holder	Holding as at Record Date	% at Record Date	Entitlement to Shares	% holding if Entitlement taken up	% holding if Entitlement not taken up
Shareholder 1	6,214,818	5.0%	1,553,704	5.0%	4.0%
Shareholder 2	4,971,855	4.0%	1,242,963	4.0%	3.2%
Shareholder 3	3,728,891	3.0%	932,222	3.0%	2.4%
Shareholder 4	2,485,928	2.0%	621,482	2.0%	1.6%
Shareholder 5	1,242,964	1.0%	310,741	1.0%	0.8%

The dilution effect shown in the table above is the maximum percentage on the assumption that those Entitlements not accepted are subscribed for under the Top-Up Offer.

The above table assumes that no other Securities are issued or equity securities converted into Shares prior to the Record Date (including the existing Quoted Options prior to the Record Date).

4.6 Effect of the Offers on the Company's financial position

A pro-forma statement of financial position has been provided in Section 8 below to demonstrate the indicative impact of the Offers and Placement on the financial position of the Company. The Company's unaudited statement of financial position as at 30 June 2023 has been used for the purposes of preparing the unaudited pro-forma statement of financial position and adjusted to reflect pro-forma assets and liabilities of the Company as if completion of the Offers, Placement and Flash Acquisition had occurred by 30 June 2023.

The unaudited pro-forma statement of financial position is presented in an abbreviated form. It does not include all of the disclosures required by the Australian Accounting Standards applicable to annual financial statements.

4.7 Effect of the Offers on control of the Company

Section 606(1) of the Corporations Act prohibits a person, unless an exception applies, from increasing their voting power in the Company:

- (a) from 20% or below to above 20%; or
- (b) from a starting point of above 20% and below 90%.

The issue of Shares on exercise of the Consideration Performance Rights is subject to and conditional upon the issue of the relevant Shares not resulting in any person being in breach of section 606(1) of the Corporations Act and the Company will not be required to seek the approval of its members for the purposes of item 7 of section 611 of the Corporations Act to permit the issue of any Shares on exercise of the Consideration Performance Rights (Takeovers Prohibition Clause).

Notwithstanding the above, assuming:

- (a) Sandton receives all of the Consideration Securities it is entitled to receive under the Consideration Offer;
- (b) all Placement Shares are issued;

- For personal use only
- (c) all Conversion Shares are issued;
 - (d) no Securities are issued to Eligible Shareholders under the Entitlement Offer due to zero participation by Eligible Shareholders and accordingly all of the Shortfall Securities are placed by Sandton;
 - (e) all Lead Manager Options are issued to Sandton, exercised and convert to Shares;
 - (f) all Consideration Securities are issued;
 - (g) all of the Unquoted Consideration Options and Consideration Performance Rights to be issued to Sandton under the Consideration Offer vest, are exercised and convert to Shares;
 - (h) the 4,562,296 Quoted Consideration Options to be issued to Sandton under the Consideration Offer are exercised and convert to Shares;
 - (i) all of the Adviser Options to be issued to Sandton under the Adviser Offer are exercised and convert to Shares; and
 - (j) no other Securities are issued,

Sandton would hold 88,186,887 Shares, representing approximately 23.3% of Shares on issue.

In light of the above and in particular the Takeovers Prohibition Clause, the Company is of the view that the Offers will not affect the control (as defined by section 50AA of the Corporations Act) of the Company. So far as the Company is aware, no new investor or existing Shareholder will have a voting power greater than 20% as a result of the completion of the Offers.

5. Risk Factors

As with any investment in securities, there are risks involved. This Section identifies the major areas of risk associated with an investment in the Company but should not be taken as an exhaustive list of the potential risk factors to which the Company and its security holders are exposed. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to management of the Company may also have an adverse effect on the Company's business. If any of these risks actually occur, the Company's business, financial condition, capital resources, results of operations and/or future operations could be materially adversely affected. Potential investors should read the entire Prospectus and consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for the Securities offered under this Prospectus.

The Directors consider that the following summary represents some of the major risk factors which Shareholders need to be aware of in evaluating the Company's business and risks of increasing your investment in the Company. Investors should carefully consider the following factors in addition to the other information presented in this Prospectus.

The principal risks include, but are not limited to, the following:

5.1 Risks specific to the Company

(a) Future capital requirements

The Company has no operating revenue and is unlikely to generate any operating revenue unless and until the Projects are successfully developed and production commences. The future capital requirements of the Company will depend on many factors including its business development activities.

In order to successfully develop the Projects and for production to commence, the Company will require further financing in the future, in addition to amounts raised pursuant to the Entitlement Offer. Any additional equity financing may be dilutive to Shareholders, may be undertaken at lower prices than the then market price or may involve restrictive covenants which limit the Company's operations and business strategy. Debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities or the registering of security interests over the Company's assets.

Although the Directors believe that additional capital can be obtained, no assurances can be made that appropriate capital or funding, if and when needed, will be available on terms favourable to the Company or at all. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing as needed, it may be required to reduce the scope of its activities and this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's activities including resulting in its Tenements being subject to forfeiture, technology development projects to be scaled back and could affect the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company may undertake additional offerings of Securities in the future. The increase in the number of Shares and Quoted Options issued and outstanding and the possibility of sales of such Shares and Quoted Options may have a depressive effect on the price of Shares and Quoted Options. In addition, as a result of such additional Shares, the voting power of the Company's existing Shareholders will be diluted.

(b) Contractual risk

The ability of the Company to achieve its stated objectives may be materially affected by the performance by the parties of its obligations under certain agreements. If any party defaults in the performance of its obligations, it may be necessary for the Company to approach a court to seek a legal remedy, which can be costly.

If the Company enters into agreements with third parties for the acquisition or divestment of equity interests in mineral exploration and mining projects there are no guarantees that any such contractual obligations will be satisfied in part or in full.

(c) Potential for dilution

On completion of the Entitlement Offer and the subsequent issue of Securities pursuant to the Entitlement Offer (assuming that no other Securities are issued or are exercised and converted to Shares), the number of:

- (i) Shares on issue will increase from 124,296,356 to 155,370,445; and
- (ii) Quoted Options on issue will increase from 52,830,875 to 68,367,920.

On an undiluted basis, the number of Shares on issue would increase by 25.0%.

On a fully diluted basis (i.e. all of the Quoted Options issued under the Entitlement Offer are exercised and converted to Shares), the number of Shares on issue would increase by 37.5%.

On this basis, existing Shareholders should note that even if they do participate in the Entitlement Offer, their holdings may be considerably diluted (as compared to their holdings and number of Shares on issue as at the date of this Prospectus).

(d) New projects and acquisitions

The Company will actively pursue and assess other new business opportunities in the resources sector. These new business opportunities may take the form of direct project acquisitions, joint ventures, farm-ins, acquisition of tenements/permits, and/or direct equity participation.

The acquisition of projects (whether completed or not) may require the payment of monies (as a deposit and/or exclusivity fee) after only limited due diligence or prior to the completion of comprehensive due diligence. There can be no guarantee that any proposed acquisition will be completed or be successful. If the proposed acquisition is not completed, monies advanced may not be recoverable, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company.

If an acquisition is completed, the Directors will need to reassess at that time, the funding allocated to current Projects and new projects, which may result in the Company reallocating funds from the Projects and/or raising additional capital (if available). Furthermore, notwithstanding that an acquisition may proceed upon the completion of due diligence, the usual risks associated with the new project/business activities will remain.

(e) Completion Risk

As at the date of this Prospectus, the Company's interest in Flash Metals, the WA REE Tenements and the FJH Option is limited to a conditional contractual right to acquire Flash Metals pursuant to the Flash Agreement and the exercise of the PEPL Option and EAPL Option agreements. Completion is subject to the satisfaction of several conditions precedent, some of which are outside of the control of the Company and/or the Vendors, including:

- (i) receipt of Shareholder approval to issue the Consideration Securities;

- (ii) Flash Metals completing the acquisition of the WA REE Tenements under the relevant option agreements; and
- (iii) receipt of any necessary third party consents.

There is a risk that the conditions precedent for the Flash Agreement will not be fulfilled and, in turn, that the transactions contemplated by the Flash Agreement will not be completed. If Completion does not occur, the Company will not acquire any interest in Flash Metals, the WA REE Tenements or the FJH Option. There is also a risk that the Flash Agreement completes but the transactions contemplated by the Flash Agreement do not complete. There can be no certainty, nor can the parties provide any assurance, that all conditions precedent to the Flash Agreement will be satisfied or waived, nor can there be any certainty of the timing of their satisfaction or waiver. If the Acquisition and Offers are not completed for any reason, there are risks that the announcement of the Acquisition and the dedication of substantial resources of the Company to the completion thereof could have a negative impact on the Company's current business relationships (including with future and prospective employees and suppliers) and could have a material adverse effect on the current and future operations, financial condition and prospects of the Company. In addition, failure to complete the Acquisition for any reason could materially negatively impact the market price of the Shares and Quoted Options.

(f) Development, commercialisation and marketing of the FJH Technology

The success of the Company post-completion of the Acquisition will partially depend upon the Company's ability to develop and commercialise the FJH Technology. A failure to successfully develop and commercialise the FJH Technology could lead to a loss of opportunities and materially adversely impact on the Company's operating results and financial position.

If the Company is successful in developing the FJH Technology, there may be further additional risks associated with how the technology fits within industry standards and issues faced with production which may affect yields.

The global marketplace for most products is ever-changing due to new technologies, new products, changes in preferences, changes in regulation and other factors influencing market acceptance or market rejection. This market volatility and risk exists despite the best endeavours of market research, promotion and sales and licensing campaigns. There is a risk that if the FJH Technology is not accepted by the market, the Company will not be able to commercialise its products, which could materially adversely impact the Company's operations.

The FJH Option can be exercised anytime until 16 March 2024 (FJH Option Expiry Date). If the FJH Option is not exercised, or the fees set out in note 4 of Section 4.2 are not paid, before the FJH Option Expiry Date, the Company will not have any interest in the FJH Technology.

By its nature, there is no guarantee that the FJH Technology development and marketing campaign will be successful. In the event that it is not, the Company may encounter difficulty creating market awareness of the FJH Technology. This may have an adverse impact on the Company's potential to generate revenue. Even if the Company does successfully commercialise the FJH Technology, there is a risk the Company will not achieve a commercial return. For example, new technology may overtake the Company's technology.

(g) Protection of intellectual property rights

If the Company fails to protect its intellectual property rights adequately, competitors may gain access to the FJH Technology which may harm its business. Securing rights to intellectual property, and in particular patents, is an integral part of securing potential product value from the development of technology such as the FJH Technology. Competition in retaining and sustaining protection of intellectual property and the complex nature of intellectual property can lead to expensive and lengthy patents disputes for which there can be no guaranteed outcome.

Legal standards relating to the validity, enforceability and scope of protection of intellectual property rights are uncertain. Effective patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret protection may not be available to the Company in all countries where the FJH Technology may eventually be sold. Accordingly, despite its efforts, the Company may not be able to prevent third parties from infringing upon or misappropriating the intellectual property.

Market conditions depending, the Company may be required to incur significant expenses in monitoring and protecting future intellectual property rights. It may initiate or otherwise be involved in litigation against third parties for infringement, or to establish the validity, of its rights. Any litigation, whether or not it is successful, could result in significant expense to the Company and cause a distraction to management.

As the FJH Technology will be licenced from Rice University, there is an additional risk that Rice University fails to maintain valid intellectual property protections in respect of the FJH Technology, which may result in competitors being entitled to apply for patents in the same area. In addition, unauthorised use of the FJH Technology in counterfeit products or services may not only result in potential revenue loss, but also have an adverse impact on its brand value and perceptions of its product qualities.

5.2 Mining industry risks

(a) Title and grant risk

There can be no guarantee that the Company's tenement applications will be granted, or if they are granted, that they will be granted in their entirety. If the tenement applications are not granted, the Company will not acquire an interest in these tenements. The tenement applications therefore should not be considered as assets or projects of the Company. Unless and until these tenements are granted and transferred to the Company, the Company has limited rights and can undertake only preliminary exploration work on those tenements.

Interests in all tenements in Western Australia and Canada are governed by state legislation and are evidenced by the granting of licenses or leases. Each license or lease is for a specific term and carries with it annual expenditure and reporting commitments, as well as other conditions requiring compliance. Consequently, the Company could be exposed to additional costs, have its ability to explore or mine the Tenements reduced or lose title to or its interest in the Tenements if license conditions are not met or if insufficient funds are available to meet expenditure commitments.

(b) Exploration and development risks

Mineral exploration and development is a high-risk undertaking. There can be no assurance that exploration of the Projects or any other exploration properties that may be acquired in the future will result in the discovery of an economic resource.

Exploration in terrains with existing mineralisation endowments and known occurrences may slightly mitigate this risk.

Even if an apparently viable resource is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be economically exploited due to various issues including lack of ongoing funding, adverse government policy, geological conditions, commodity prices or other technical difficulties.

The future exploration activities of the Company may be affected by a range of factors including geological conditions, limitations on activities due to seasonal weather patterns, unanticipated operational and technical difficulties, industrial and environmental accidents, native title process, changing government regulations and many other factors beyond the control of the Company.

The success of the Company will also depend upon the Company having access to sufficient development capital, being able to maintain title to its Projects and obtaining all required approvals for its activities. In the event that exploration programs are unsuccessful this could lead to a diminution in the value of its Projects, a reduction in the cash reserves of the Company and possible relinquishment of part or all of its Projects.

(c) Operating risk

There are significant risks in developing a mine and there is no guarantee that the Company will be able to achieve economic production from any of the Tenements. In addition, the operations of the Company may be affected by various factors, including failure to locate or identify mineral deposits, failure to achieve predicted grades in exploration and mining, operational and technical difficulties encountered in mining, difficulties in commissioning and operating plant and equipment, mechanical failure or plant breakdown, unanticipated metallurgical problems which may affect extraction costs, adverse weather conditions, industrial and environmental accidents, industrial disputes and unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant and equipment.

No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the successful exploration and/or mining of its Projects. Unless and until the Company is able to realise value from its Projects, it is likely to incur ongoing operating losses.

(d) Metallurgy

Metal and/or mineral recoveries are dependent upon the metallurgical process that is required to liberate economic minerals and produce a saleable product and by nature contain elements of significant risk such as:

- (i) identifying a metallurgical process through test work to produce a saleable metal and/or concentrate;
- (ii) developing an economic process route to produce a metal and/or concentrate; and
- (iii) changes in mineralogy in the ore deposit can result in inconsistent metal recovery, affecting the economic viability of the project.

(e) Resource estimation risks

Whilst the Company intends to undertake exploration activities with the aim of defining a resource, no assurances can be given that the exploration will result in the determination of a resource. Even if a resource is identified, no assurance can be provided that this can be economically extracted.

(f) Payment obligations

Pursuant to the licences comprising the Company's Projects, the Company will become subject to payment and other obligations. In particular, holders are required to expend the funds necessary to meet the minimum work commitments attaching to the Tenements. Failure to meet these work commitments may render the Tenements subject to forfeiture or result in the holders being liable for fees. Further, if any contractual obligations are not complied with when due, in addition to any other remedies that may be available to other parties, this could result in dilution or forfeiture of the Company's interest in the Projects.

(g) Metals and currency price volatility

The Company's ability to proceed with the development of its Projects and benefit from any future mining operations will depend on market factors, some of which may be beyond its control. It is anticipated that any revenues derived from mining will primarily be derived from the sale of Rare Earth Elements (REE) and other metals. Consequently, any future earnings are likely to be closely related to the price of individual REE's (predominantly Neodymium and Praseodymium) and other mined commodities and the terms of any off-take agreements that the Company enters into.

The world market for minerals is subject to many variables and may fluctuate markedly. These variables include world demand for metals that may be mined commercially in the future from the Company's project areas, technological advancements, forward selling activities and production cost levels in major mineral-producing regions. Mineral prices are also affected by macroeconomic factors such as general global economic conditions and expectations regarding inflation and interest rates. These factors may have an adverse effect on the Company's exploration, development and production activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

Furthermore, international prices of various commodities are denominated in United States dollars, whereas the income and expenditure of the Company are and will be taken into account in Australian currency. As a result, the Company is exposed to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the United States dollar and the Australian dollar as determined in international markets, which could have a material effect on the Company's operations, financial position (including revenue and profitability) and performance. The Company may undertake measures, where deemed necessary by the Board to mitigate such risks.

(h) Competition risk

The industry in which the Company is involved is subject to domestic and global competition, including major mineral exploration and production companies. Although the Company will undertake all reasonable due diligence in its business decisions and operations, the Company will have no influence or control over the activities or actions of its competitors, which activities or actions may, positively or negatively, affect the operating and financial performance of the Company's Projects and business.

Some of the Company's competitors have greater financial and other resources than the Company and, as a result, may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities or technical staff. Many of the Company's competitors not only explore for and produce minerals, but also carry out refining operations and other products on a worldwide basis. There can be no assurance that the Company can compete effectively with these companies.

(i) Tenure and land access risk

Land access is critical for exploration and/or exploitation to succeed. It requires both access to the mineral rights and access to the surface rights. Minerals rights may be negotiated and acquired. In all cases the acquisition of prospective exploration and mining licences is a competitive business, in which proprietary knowledge or information is critical and the ability to negotiate satisfactory commercial arrangements with other parties is often essential. The Company may not be successful in acquiring or obtaining the necessary licences to conduct exploration or evaluation activities outside of the mineral tenements.

As the Company's rights in the Tenements may be obtained by grant by regulatory authorities or be subject to contracts with third parties, any third party may terminate or rescind the relevant agreement whether lawfully or not and, accordingly, the Company may lose its rights to exclusive use of, and access to any, or all, of the Tenements. Third parties may also default on their obligations under the contracts which may lead to termination of the contracts. Additionally, the Company may not be able to access the Tenements due to natural disasters or adverse weather conditions, political unrest, hostilities or failure to obtain the relevant approvals and consents.

(j) Farm-in or joint venture risk

The Company operates certain projects with third parties through farm-ins or joint ventures and the Company may be adversely affected by the financial failure, withdrawal or default of a farm-in or joint venture party. This may have an adverse effect on the operations and performance of the Company.

(k) Native title risks

The Company is aware that there are three registered native title determinations (in the names of Ngurrpa, Kiwirrkurra People and Marlinyu Ghoorlie) within the area covered by the Tenements.

Accordingly, there is a risk that, if negotiations with the relevant native title parties are not progressed in a timely manner, or are unsuccessful, the grant of the pending Tenements may be delayed or they may be refused.

There remains a risk that in the future, native title and/or registered native title claims may affect the land the subject of the Tenements or in the vicinity of the Tenements.

The existence of native title claims over the area covered by the Tenements, or a subsequent determination of native title over the area, will not impact the rights or interests of the holder under the Tenements provided the Tenements have been validly granted in accordance with the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) (Native Title Act).

However, if any Tenement was not validly granted in compliance with the Native Title Act, this may have an adverse impact on the Company's activities.

The grant of any future tenure to the Company over areas that are covered by registered claims or determinations will likely require engagement with the relevant claimants or native title holders (as relevant) in accordance with the Native Title Act.

(l) Aboriginal Heritage Risk

The Company is aware that there is a Heritage Survey 18116 which has been either registered or lodged within Tenement ELA80/5875.

Accordingly, there is a risk that the existence of such sites may preclude or limit mining activities in certain areas of the Tenements. However, the location of any 'heritage places' do not interfere with the Company's proposed exploration activities. Heritage surveys will need to be carried out over the remainder of the Tenements before exploration can proceed.

There remains a risk that additional Aboriginal sites may exist on the land the subject of the Tenements. The existence of such sites may further preclude or limit mining activities in certain areas of the Tenements.

(m) Third party risks

Under Western Australian and Commonwealth legislation, the Company may be required to obtain the consent of and/or pay compensation to the holders of third-party interests which overlay areas within the Tenements, including pastoral leases, petroleum tenure and other mining tenure in respect of exploration or mining activities on the Tenements.

Whilst the Company does not presently consider this to be a material risk to its planned exploration, there is a risk that any delays in respect of conflicting third-party rights, obtaining necessary consents, or compensation obligations, may adversely impact the Company's ability to carry out exploration or mining activities within the affected areas.

(n) Environmental risk

The operations and proposed activities of the Company are subject to State and Federal laws and regulations concerning the environment. As with most exploration projects and mining operations, the Company's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment, particularly if advanced exploration or field development proceeds. It is the Company's intention to conduct its activities to the highest standard of environmental obligation, including compliance with all environmental laws.

The cost and complexity of complying with the applicable environmental laws and regulations may prevent the Company from being able to develop potentially economically viable mineral deposits.

Although the Company believes that it is in compliance in all material respects with all applicable environmental laws and regulations, there are certain risks inherent to its activities, such as accidental spills, leakages or other unforeseen circumstances, which could subject the Company to extensive liability.

Government authorities may, from time to time, review the environmental bonds that are placed on permits. The Directors are not in a position to state whether a review is imminent or whether the outcome of such a review would be detrimental to the funding needs of the Company.

(o) Licences, permits and approvals

Many of the mineral rights and interests to be held by the Company are subject to the need for ongoing or new government approvals, licences and permits. These requirements, including work permits and environmental approvals, will change as the Company's operations develop. Delays in obtaining, or the inability to obtain, required authorisations may significantly impact on the Company's operations.

(p) Heritage and sociological risk

Some of the Tenements which the Company proposes to mine may be of significance from a heritage or sociological perspective, including Native Title issues. Some sites of significance may be identified within the Tenements and the Company may be hindered by legal and cultural restrictions on mining those Tenements. The Native Title Act recognises and protects the rights and interests in Australia of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in land and waters, according to their traditional laws and customs. There is significant uncertainty associated with Native Title in Australia and this may impact on the Company's operations and future plans.

(q) Reliance on key personnel

The Company is reliant on a number of key personnel and consultants, including members of the Board. The loss of one or more of these key contributors could have an adverse impact on the business of the Company.

It may be particularly difficult for the Company to attract and retain suitably qualified and experienced people given the current high demand in the industry and relatively small size of the Company, compared with other industry participants.

(r) Conflicts of interest

Certain Directors are also directors and officers of other companies engaged in mineral exploration and development and mineral property acquisitions. Accordingly, mineral exploration opportunities or prospects of which these Directors become aware may not necessarily be made available to the Company in the first instance. Although these Directors have been advised of their fiduciary duties to the situations that could arise in which their obligations to, or interests in, the Company, there exists actual and potential conflicts of interest among these persons.

5.3 General risks

(a) Economic risks

General economic conditions, movements in interest and inflation rates, the prevailing global commodity prices and currency exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Company's exploration, development and production activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

As with any exploration or mining project, the economics are sensitive to metal and commodity prices. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Company. Such factors include supply and demand fluctuations for minerals, technological advances, forward selling activities and other macro-economic factors. These prices may fluctuate to a level where the proposed mining operations are not profitable. Should the Company achieve success leading to mineral production, the revenue it will derive through the sale of commodities also exposes potential income of the Company to commodity price and exchange rate risks.

(b) Market conditions

The market price of the Shares and Quoted Options can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resource exploration stocks in particular.

Further, market conditions may affect the value of the Company's Shares and Quoted Options regardless of the Company's operating performance. Market conditions are affected by many factors such as:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) interest rates and inflation rates;
- (iii) currency fluctuations;
- (iv) changes in investor sentiment;
- (v) the demand for, and supply of, capital; and
- (vi) terrorism or other hostilities.

Neither the Company nor the Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return on an investment in the Company.

(c) Force majeure

The Company's Projects now or in the future may be adversely affected by risks outside the control of the Company including labour unrest, subversive activities or sabotage, fires, floods, explosions or other catastrophes.

(d) Government and legal risk

Changes in government, monetary policies, taxation and other laws can have a significant impact on the Company's assets, operations and ultimately the financial performance of the Company and its Securities. Such changes are likely to be beyond the control of the Company and may affect industry profitability as well as the Company's capacity to explore and mine.

The Company is not aware of any reviews or changes that would affect the Projects. However, changes in community attitudes on matters such as taxation, competition policy and environmental issues may bring about reviews and possibly changes in government policies. There is a risk that such changes may affect the Company's development plans or its rights and obligations in respect of its Projects. Any such government action may also require increased capital or operating expenditures and could prevent or delay certain operations by the Company.

(e) Litigation risks

The Company is exposed to possible litigation risks including native title claims, tenure disputes, environmental claims, occupational health and safety claims and employee claims. Further, the Company may be involved in disputes with other parties in the future which may result in litigation. Any such claim or dispute if proven, may impact adversely on the Company's operations, financial performance and financial position. The Company is not currently engaged in any litigation.

(f) Insurance risks

The Company intends to insure its operations in accordance with industry practice. However, in certain circumstances, the Company's insurance may not be of a nature or level to provide adequate insurance cover. The occurrence of an event that is not covered or fully covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the Company. Insurance against all risks associated with mining exploration and production is not always available and where available the costs can be prohibitive.

(g) Taxation

The acquisition and disposal of Securities will have tax consequences, which will differ depending on the individual financial affairs of each investor. All potential investors in the Company are urged to obtain independent financial advice about the consequences of acquiring Securities from a taxation point of view and generally.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company, its officers and each of their respective advisers accept no liability and responsibility with respect to the taxation consequences of applying for Securities under this Prospectus.

(h) Unforeseen expenditure risk

Expenditure may need to be incurred that has not been taken into account by the Company. Although the Company is not aware of any such additional expenditure requirements, if such expenditure is subsequently incurred, this may adversely affect the expenditure proposals of the Company.

(i) Climate change risks

Climate change is a risk the Company has considered, particularly related to its operations in the mining industry. The climate change risks particularly attributable to the Company include:

- (i) the emergence of new or expanded regulations associated with the transitioning to a lower-carbon economy and market changes related to climate change mitigation. The Company may be impacted by changes to local or international compliance regulations related to climate change mitigation efforts, or by specific taxation or penalties for carbon emissions or environmental damage. These examples sit amongst an array of possible restraints on industry that may further impact the Company and its profitability. While the Company will endeavour to manage these risks and limit any consequential impacts, there can be no guarantee that the Company will not be impacted by these occurrences; and
- (ii) climate change may cause certain physical and environmental risks that cannot be predicted by the Company, including events such as increased severity of weather patterns and incidence of extreme weather events and longer term physical risks such as shifting climate patterns. All these risks associated with climate change may significantly change the industry in which the Company operates.

(j) Infectious diseases

The outbreak of the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) is continuing to impact global economic markets. The price of the Company's Shares and Quoted Options may be adversely affected in the short to medium term by the economic uncertainty caused by COVID-19. Further, any government or industry measures to limit the transmission of the virus (such as travel bans and quarantining) may adversely impact the Company's operations and may interrupt the Company carrying out its contractual obligations or cause disruptions to supply chains.

5.4 Investment speculative

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the Securities offered under this Prospectus.

Therefore, the Securities to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those Securities.

Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is highly speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for Securities pursuant to this Prospectus.

Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution or by the terms of issue of a class of Shares, the rights attached to the Shares in any class may be varied or cancelled only with the written consent of the holders of at least three-quarters of the issued Shares of the affected class, or by special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the issued Shares of the affected class.

(e) Transfer of Shares

Subject to the Constitution, the Corporations Act and the rights of holders of Shares with special rights, on a winding up of the Company, the liquidator may, with the sanction of a special resolution of the Company, divide among the members in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company and may for that purpose set such value as the liquidator considers fair on any property to be so divided and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the members or different classes of members.
