KAVA JUICE SHOTS IN FOCUS

Taki Mai Kava Juice Shots will be on shelves in Coles from March 2024.

This brings together a long R&D project positioning The Calmer Co as the only organisation with a manufacturing process to deliver a cold pressed green kava shot to the consumer market at scale.

The juice shots are vegan, high in potassium and contain only 1g of fat and have less than 5 Calories, making these a compelling health conscious alcohol alternative, either as a shot or as the basis for a “mocktail with a buzz”

Introduction of kava juice shots in partnership with Coles marks our entry into the ready to drink category. Entry into the Fijian tourist market and the USA market for this format will follow over 2024.

CEO's Comment

a.noble@thecalmerco.com

“The latest half-year performance indicates encouraging progress resulting from the strategic initiatives undertaken over the past year.

Rapidly escalating sales have demonstrated the efficacy of kava as both a replacement to alcohol and a supplement to help address stress and anxiety. The rapid adoption of our products in western consumer markets demonstrates the growing awareness of kava in global markets.

Our current challenges revolve around expanding our supply chain and optimizing inventory management, rather than generating demand.

It is a very exciting time for our business as we grow rapidly and launch Taki Mai® cold pressed kava shots into the market and penetrate further into the USA with the support of both Amazon and Walmart. These initiatives along with expansion into the burgeoning kava bar market in Florida and California provide a solid plan to expand in the USA.

The business has been rebased and recapitalised and sales are growing strongly. We see a bright future for shareholders.”
