Cleo Diagnostics Limited (ASX:COV) (Cleo, or the Company) is bringing to market a simple blood test for the accurate and early diagnosis of ovarian cancer, using its novel patented CXCL10 biomarker. Cleo's first test - AdnexaSure™ is designed to distinguish benign from malignant growths and will be compatible with standard diagnostic laboratory workflows worldwide.

The Company successfully completed its listing of shares on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) on 22 August 2023, after an Initial Public Offering (IPO) raising a total of A$12 million (before costs) in capital by issuing 60,000,000 shares at $0.20 per share.

During the half-year ending 31 December 2023, and up to the date of this report, Cleo has already delivered and made material progress against its strategy to make accurate and earlier detection of ovarian cancer a reality, including:

Development

- Early progress delivered against development program with the selection of biomarkers panel for Cleo's ovarian cancer test-kit finalised and completion of a prototype scoring algorithm to accompany the test;
- In-house performance verification of CXCL antibodies completed, increasing confidence for commercial assay development and upscaled manufacturing;
- In-house production of Hybridomas to generate the supporting biomarker antibodies are well progressed

Manufacturing

- Evaluation of four commercial antibody manufacturing partners in late stage as part of a robust tender process;
- Design transfer completed, establishing Cleo's capability to deliver reproducible and reliable results for its ovarian cancer detection test.

Commercial

- U.S. patent granted for key novel ovarian cancer biomarker supporting CLEO's commercialisation pathway into the world's largest diagnostics market;
- Initial documentation for first FDA meeting under review by regulatory consultant;
- First clinical validation study of the Cleo Triage Test, AdnexaSure™ published in the peer-reviewed journal "Cancers", detailing excellent performance for Cleo's ovarian cancer diagnostic:
 - Highly accurate with 95% sensitivity / 95% specificity;
 - Correctly discriminated malignant from benign samples; and
 - Out-performed and was superior to current clinical methods.

Business Development

- European and U.S. clinical validation partners discussions progressed;
- Discussions ongoing with respect to securing U.S. reimbursement and market access partners.

Intellectual Property

- Grant of U.S. Patent No: US 11,725,048, "CXCL10 Binding Proteins and Compositions Thereof" by the U.S. Patents and Trademarks Office (USPTO)
- The granted Patent covers CLEO proprietary biomarkers and antibody formulations, which comprise the core technology of the Company's ovarian cancer diagnostic blood test.

Financial

- The Company ended the half year period with $10.1M cash at bank; and
- Cleo is operating in line with its budgeted plan as outlined in the Company's prospectus, and continues to be appropriately funded to execute on its strategic plan to deliver AdnexaSure™ in CY'25

Corporate

- Board capacity enhanced with Chief Scientific Officer and Executive Director, Dr Andrew Stephens, expanding responsibilities to full-time.

The directors submit herewith the interim Financial Report on Cleo Diagnostics Limited (referred to hereafter as the 'company') for the half-year ended 31 December 2023.

Note 1. Material accounting policy information

These general purpose financial statements for the interim half-year reporting period ended 31 December 2023 have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standard AASB 134 'Interim Financial Reporting' and the Corporations Act 2001, as appropriate for for-profit oriented entities. Compliance with AASB 134 ensures compliance with International Financial Reporting Standard IAS 34 'Interim Financial Reporting'.

These general purpose financial statements do not include all the notes of the type normally included in annual financial statements. Accordingly, these financial statements are to be read in conjunction with the annual report for the year ended 30 June 2023 and any public announcements made by the company during the interim reporting period in accordance with the continuous disclosure requirements of the Corporations Act 2001.

The company has prepared the financial statements on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern. The Directors consider that there are no material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt over this assumption. They have formed a judgement that there is a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future, and not less than 12 months from the end of the reporting period.

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year and corresponding interim reporting period, unless otherwise stated.

Rounding of amounts

The company is of a kind referred to in Corporations Instrument 2016/191, issued by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission, relating to 'rounding-off'. Amounts in this report have been rounded off in accordance with that Corporations Instrument to the nearest dollar.

Going concern

The company has prepared the financial statements on the basis that it will continue to operate as a going concern. The Directors consider that there are no material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt over this assumption. They have formed a judgement that there is a reasonable expectation that the company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future, and not less than 12 months from the end of the reporting period.

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The company has adopted all of the new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting year.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

Note 2. Other income

Interest receivable – bank deposits	171,018	-
Interest receivable – convertible notes	26,516	5,386
	197,534	5,386

Accounting policy

Interest revenue is recognised as interest accrues using the effective interest method. This is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset and allocating the interest income over the relevant period using the effective interest rate, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Note 3. Items included in expenses

	31 Dec 2023	31 Dec 2022
Research and development expenditure	1,983,230	82,165

Included in research and development expenditure is wages and salaries of $226,103, including superannuation. Also included is $1,500,000 paid via the issue of shares upon completion of the IPO pursuant to the licencing agreement with Hudson Institute of Medical Research (see note 4).

Note 4. Non-current assets – intangible assets

	31 December	30 June 2023

Licence – accumulated amortisation	(66,667)	(41,667)
	433,333	458,333

The company entered into a licence agreement with Hudson Institute of Medical Research that was signed on 29 August 2022.

The licence agreement gave the company exclusive rights to commercialise the licenced technology and was completed during the year ended 30 June 2023. The agreement provided for the company to issue shares to the value of $1,500,000 that were issued to Hudson on the lodgement of a prospectus to list the company as well as a payment of $1,500,000 in cash upon achievement of the first regulatory approval for the first product in the USA (FDA), Australia (TGA), Europe (CE) or Japan (PMDA). The agreement also included a royalty of 3% on net sales, plus levies on any sub-licencing agreements entered into by the company.

The company expensed the $1,500,000 payment via issued capital upon lodgement of a prospectus by the company. The $1,500,000 payment in cash upon achievement of the first product and all royalty and sub-licence levies will be expensed as incurred.

Note 6. Current liabilities – convertible notes

	31 December 2023	30 June 2023
Convertible loan notes	-	1,600,000

During the 2023 financial year the company issued 1.6 million convertible loan notes at an issue price of $1 per note. The notes converted into ordinary shares on completion of the Initial Public Offer (“IPO”). The 1.6 million convertible notes are a non-derivative financial instrument accounted for at amortised cost. On completion of the IPO the convertible notes converted to 16 million ordinary shares at a conversion price of $0.10 per share.

The interest expensed for the period is calculated by applying an effective interest rate of 15 per cent to the liability component since the loan notes were issued. The liability component is measured at amortised cost. The difference between the carrying amount of the liability component at the date of issue and the amount reported at conversion represents the effective interest rate less interest paid to that date.

Note 13. Operating segments

The company has adopted AASB 8 Operating Segments whereby segment information is presented using a “management approach”. Management has determined the operating segments based on the reports reviewed by the Chief Operating Decision Makers, in the company’s case being the Board of Directors, that are used to make strategic decisions. At 31 December 2023 the company operates predominately in one geographical location. The company does not have any operating segments with discrete financial information. The company does not have any customers outside Australia, and all the company’s assets and liabilities are located within Australia.

The Board of Directors review internal management reports at regular intervals that are consistent with the information provided in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income, Statement of Financial Position and Statement of Cash Flows. As a result, no reconciliation is required because the information as presented is what is used by the Board of Directors to make strategic decisions including assessing performance and in determining the allocation of resources.

Note 14. Related party transactions

Hudson Institute of Medical Research is an independent organisation. The company acquired the licence to commercialise technology developed by the Institute. Andrew Stephens, a director of the company, established and leads the research team that developed the licenced technology.

During the period the company paid to Hudson $1,500,000 via the issue of ordinary shares pursuant to the licence agreement. In addition Hudson provided research and development services during the year, at a cost of $136,124. At 31 December 2023 $69,782 was payable to Hudson and is included in trade and other payables.

All transactions were carried out on commercial terms.

Note 15. Events after the reporting period

No matter or circumstance has arisen since 31 December 2023 that has significantly affected, or may significantly affect the company’s operations, the results of those operations, or the company’s state of affairs in future financial years.

In the directors' opinion:

- the attached financial statements and notes comply with the Corporations Act 2001, the Accounting Standards, the Corporations Regulations 2001 and other mandatory professional reporting requirements;
- the attached financial statements and notes comply with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board as described in note 1 to the financial statements;
- the attached financial statements and notes give a true and fair view of the company's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and of its performance for the financial year ended on that date;
- there are reasonable grounds to believe that the company will be able to pay its debts as and when they become due and payable.

The directors have been given the declarations required by section 295A of the Corporations Act 2001.

Signed in accordance with a resolution of directors made pursuant to section 295(5)(a) of the Corporations Act 2001.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REVIEW REPORT

To the members of Cleo Diagnostics Limited

Report on the Half-Year Financial Report

Conclusion

We have reviewed the half-year financial report of Cleo Diagnostics Limited (the Company), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2023, the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the half-year ended on that date, material accounting policy information and other explanatory information, and the directors' declaration.

Based on our review, which is not an audit, we have not become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the accompanying half-year financial report of the Company does not comply with the Corporations Act 2001 including:

- (i) Giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and of its financial performance for the half-year ended on that date; and
- (ii) Complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for conclusion

We conducted our review in accordance with ASRE 2410 Review of a Financial Report Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity. Our responsibilities are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Review of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to the audit of the annual financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001 which has been given to the directors of the Company, would be the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's review report.

Responsibility of the directors for the financial report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility for the review of the financial report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. ASRE 2410 requires us to conclude whether we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and its performance for the half-year ended on that date, and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
