OPERATING AND FINANCIAL REVIEW

Operations

NGX has a 100% interest in five compelling natural flake graphite projects in Malawi (together, “The Natural Graphite Projects”). The Natural Graphite Projects, range from early-stage exploration (Nanzeka) through to advanced feasibility study stage (Malingunde) comprising exploration licences, retention licences and exploration licence applications.

Completion of Licencing and Renewals

- Subsequent to the end of the half-year, NGX was issued a Retention Licence for Malingunde.
- Additional Exploration Licence Applications for Lifidzi (APL0499) and Msinga (APL0500) are recommended for approval by the Mineral Resource Committee (“MRC”), each subject to environmental clearance.

Metallurgical Testwork for Battery Grade Concentrates

- Metallurgical testwork performed on weathered ore samples from Duwi, targeted on producing a high-grade concentrate suitable for anode material production for lithium-ion batteries and to develop a common plant design for Duwi and Malingunde.

Exploration

- Exploration activities were undertaken across the Company’s portfolio of Natural Graphite Projects, including hand auger drilling and sampling at Duwi and reconnaissance survey and other field activities at Nanzeka.

Community Engagement

- NGX ensured strong community and stakeholder engagement with various community meetings held at Duwi and Nanzeka, with community leaders and relevant local authorities in attendance.

The Malingunde Natural Graphite Project

On 19 January 2024 NGX was issued the Malingunde Natural Graphite Project (“Malingunde”) Retention Licence¹ (“RL”) (RL0033/24), covering 5.7km². Malingunde is located in the Central Region of the Lilongwe District of Malawi, approximately 20km southwest of Malawi’s capital, Lilongwe.

NGX received the RL in accordance with the sale of the Natural Graphite Projects from Sovereign Metals Limited (“Sovereign”), pursuant to a Demerger Deed entered into on 10 February 2023.²

Malingunde represents a high quality potential future mining operation producing premium quality natural graphite products. The preliminary feasibility study (“PFS”) completed in 2018 and updated in NGX’s replacement prospectus in April 2023 (as part of the NGX listing process) demonstrates low operating and capital costs providing excellent margins. The compelling economic estimates can be attributed to the deposit being hosted entirely by soft saprolite material, its high grade at 9.5% Total Graphitic Content (“TGC”) and the excellent infrastructure availability.

Based on the PFS, Malingunde would comprise a planned open cut mining and a beneficiation processing plant operation, treating run of mine ore to produce on average 52,000 tonnes per year of graphite concentrate at a purity of 97% TGC. The graphite concentrate will then be bagged and trucked to the railhead at Kanengo, from where it will be packed into shipping containers for direct rail to the port of Nacala for export.

Soft-saprolite hosted graphite deposits are sought after as they have distinct operating and capital cost advantages over hard-rock deposits. Currently, operating saprolite-hosted flake graphite mines are located in Madagascar; however, these are mostly small and low grade (typically 4-6% TGC).

The Malingunde saprolite-hosted graphite deposit is the result of millions of years of tropical weathering of primary graphitic gneisses. Most of the silicate minerals other than quartz have been altered to clay, resulting in a soft, friable saprolite horizon averaging about 25m vertical thickness from surface. Graphite is also unreactive in this weathering environment, with the large graphite flakes preserved in the clay dominant matrix. Malingunde is the world’s largest saprolite hosted deposit (see table 2 below).

Malingunde offers a technically and economically robust, lower risk pathway to production of premium quality, coarse flake graphite concentrates. The significant cost savings, compared to hard-rock peers, are realised by the soft, free dig nature of the mineralisation and low strip ratios, with no requirement for primary crushing or grinding in the processing plant.

There is significant opportunity to increase the mine life beyond 16 years by processing lower grade material from the large resource base, or by discovering additional high-grade resources within reasonable trucking distance to the proposed processing plant.

NGX will immediately proceed to review the PFS to investigate whether the Project can be optimised by focusing on supplying graphite concentrates to the feedstock market for lithium-ion battery anodes. This may give rise to changes of scale, development timing and processing to supply graphite concentrates more appropriate to that market.

Demand for lithium-ion batteries for electric vehicles and energy storage has grown substantially since the original PFS and high-quality natural graphite feedstock is forecast to be in strong demand as this sector continues to grow strongly.

In parallel with the ongoing PFS and downstream processing work, NGX will commence a comprehensive program of community and stakeholder engagement, continuing the social and environmental consent process.

The Duwi Natural Graphite Project

The Duwi Natural Graphite Project ("Duwi") is an advanced exploration project located approximately 15km east of Lilongwe.

Duwi includes a substantial flake graphite resource of over 6Mt of contained graphite, including approximately 41% of Indicated Resources. However, the majority of prior Duwi testwork and studies have focused on the underlying fresh rock resources rather than the overlying weathered resources of 0.47Mt of contained graphite.

NGX continues to investigate the potential to enhance Duwi by prioritizing the weathered (saprolitic) component of Duwi resources and also the potential for downstream processing of Duwi concentrates as feedstock for lithium-ion batteries. The Duwi weathered resources have the potential to simplify processing and provide a common circuit between Duwi and Malingunde.

The Nanzeka Natural Graphite Project

The Nanzeka Natural Graphite Project (RL0012/21) is located approximately 60km north of Lilongwe.

The current understanding of the geology at Nanzeka shows high-grade graphite gneiss bands that define a broad, open synform/antiform fold pair that plunges gently to the north and north-east.

High-grade mineralisation representing the western limb of the synform (Western Zone) daylights along a small ridge whilst an area of graphite mineralisation exposed in a gentle valley (Eastern Zone) represents the daylighting of the antiformal fold hinge.

During the period, NGX conducted geological mapping, hand auger drilling, and shallow pitting of target areas to identify potential new graphite mineralisation in saprolite zones at Nanzeka. Soil samples collected from hand auger drilling and shallow pits were prepared for export and overseas shipping to laboratories.

NGX conducted community meetings during the period with local leaders, and relevant authorities at Duwi and Nanzeka. The meetings established gave NGX an opportunity to outline its credentials and indicative workplan for the forthcoming year. The District Commissioners for Lilongwe and relevant communities were all contacted and welcomed NGX into their districts.

Downstream Processing

A 2019 pilot plant program undertaken by Sovereign at SGS Lakefield (Canada) generated approximately 4t of high-grade graphite concentrate from Malingunde weathered ore as part of preparatory work for a Definitive Feasibility Study. Access to this significant volume of graphite concentrate now allows NGX to fast-track downstream processing activities and test alternatives for shaping, purification and coating to produce active anode materials for lithium-ion batteries.

Concentrate samples have been despatched to a number of expert graphite laboratories and potential equipment suppliers to commence initial testwork programs, to evaluate and optimise the key steps in producing active anode materials from natural flake graphite. NGX also initiated evaluation of potential sites for future downstream processing facilities for supply into European and US battery anode markets.

Exploration Licence Applications

NGX holds two exploration licence applications; Lifidzi (APL0499) and Msinga (APL0500). During the period, conditional approval was recommended by the Minerals Resources Committee (“MRC”) for the exploration licence applications, subject to environmental clearance. Both projects are in close proximity to the Malingunde and Duwi Projects and were the subject of previous graphite exploration performed by Sovereign.

Results of Operations

The net loss of the Consolidated Entity for the half year ended 31 December 2023 was $1,197,184 (31 December 2022: $239,019).

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis, which assumes the continuity of normal business activity and the realisation of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the ordinary course of business.

(b) Statement of Compliance

The financial report complies with Australian Accounting Standards and International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board.

In the current financial year, the Group has adopted all of the new and revised Standards and Interpretations issued by the AASB that are mandatory for the current annual reporting period. Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

(c) Issued standards and interpretations not early adopted

Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations that have recently been issued or amended but are not yet effective have not been adopted by the Group for the reporting period ended 31 December 2023. Those which may be relevant to the Group are set out in the table below, but these are not expected to have any significant impact on the Group's financial statements:

Short term deposits ¹	4,520,000	-
Total cash at bank and on hand	7,077,137	8,754,588

Note:

¹ Short term deposits are made for varying periods generally between one and three months depending on the cash requirements of the Group and earn interest at market term deposit rates. If short term deposits have an original maturity greater than three months, principal amounts can be redeemed in full with no significant interest penalty to the Group. Short term deposits are held with various financial institutions that are rated the equivalent of investment grade and above. As these instruments have maturity dates of less than twelve months, the Group has assessed the credit risk on these financial assets using lifetime expected credit losses. In this regard, the Group has concluded that the probability of default on the term deposits is relatively low. Accordingly, no impairment allowance has been recognized for expected credit losses on the term deposits.

Due to their short-term nature, the carrying amounts of current receivables and current payables is assumed to approximate their fair value.

Independent auditor's review report to the members of NGX Limited

Report on the half-year financial report

Our conclusion

Based on our review, which is not an audit, we have not become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the accompanying half-year financial report of NGX Limited (the Company), and the entities it controlled at the half-year's end or from time to time during the half year (the Consolidated Group) does not comply with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- giving a true and fair view of the Consolidated Group's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and of its financial performance for the half-year then ended; and
- complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

What was reviewed?

We have reviewed the accompanying half-year financial report of the Group, which comprises:

- the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2023,
- the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the half-year then ended,
- the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the half-year then ended,
- the consolidated statement of cash flows for the half-year then ended,
- notes to the financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policy information and other explanatory information, and
- the directors' declaration.

Basis for conclusion

We conducted our review in accordance with ASRE 2410 Review of a Financial Report Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity. Our responsibilities are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the review of the financial report section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the annual financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

Responsibilities of the directors for the half-year financial report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the half-year financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibilities for the review of the financial report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. ASRE 2410 requires us to conclude whether we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and its performance for the half-year ended on that date, and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
