REVIEW OF OPERATIONS

About the Webb Project

The Webb Project is in the Eastern Kimberly region of Western Australia approximately 20km east of the Kiwirrkurra Aboriginal community. The Project comprises seven granted exploration licences and two exploration licence applications. The tenements cover 961 sq km of the highly prospective West Arunta Orogen, a package of Proterozoic to Archean aged rocks considered highly prospective for large magmatic base metal, precious metal, and kimberlitic diamond deposits. The project has been the subject of detailed exploration for diamonds resulting in the discovery of Australia's largest kimberlite field comprising at least 280 kimberlite pipes. Although microdiamonds have been discovered in in surface loam samples no diamonds have been discovered in the 50 kimberlite pipes tested to date. During exploration for diamonds multiple holes returned highly anomalous base metal intersections for copper, nickel, and rare earth elements. Based on these results CGN Resources has changed focus from diamonds exploration to base metal and specialty metal exploration which will be the focus of work over the coming years.

During the September quarter CGN Resources planned and permitted a maiden drilling program to evaluate two of the iron oxide copper gold targets (IOCG) targets at the Webb Project. The drilling program commenced on 9 October. The first two targets to be evaluated were Tantor and Surus. A 600m deep diamond drill hole has been planned to evaluate each of the targets prior to commencement of the wet season (weather permitting).

The holes were designed as a first pass test of the large gravity anomalies present at each target (Figure 2 and Figure 3). Geophysical modelling indicates target depths of 250m to 600m. The holes are designed to evaluate the central part of each anomaly to a vertical depth of 520m. These holes will provide valuable first pass information on the geology and geochemistry on these high priority targets.

The prospectus opened on the 1st of September 2023, and the Company raised the maximum $10 million in two weeks, closing the prospectus on the 15th of September 2023. There was significant interest in the project and the offering was closed oversubscribed. The Company commenced trading on ASX on 18 October 2023.

During the December Quarter, CGN Resources completed a major heritage survey and the maiden drilling program, testing the Tantor gravity target. The drilling program commenced on 9 October and was completed in mid-November. Significant weather events occurred in mid-November which meant CGN Resources was unable to complete the Surus drilling, and this hole will form part of the 2024 exploration campaign. The heritage Survey was highly successful with all programs cleared for CGN Resources substantial 2024 campaign.

The Tantor hole provided valuable insights into the geology, geochemistry, and structure of the Tantor target and has wider ranging and positive implications for the project. The most notable feature of the drilling was the discovery of previously unknown intrusive ultramafic rocks.

Planning for 2024 was also a focus during the December Quarter. Completing the heritage clearance survey has enabled us to get plans in place to commence our exploration programs as early as possible in 2024. To that end we have already contracted ground geophysics companies to commence in late February and are well advanced on contracting our preferred drilling contractors.

CGN Resources announced the appointment of James Potter as Exploration Manager in November 2023.

2024 Planned Activities

Key activities at the commencement of 2024 have been focussed on preparation for the substantial exploration campaign planned for the Webb Project in 2024. All permitting is in place to commence these programs and teams are due on site in the last week of February. The CGN Resources technical team is also well advanced in the selection process for drilling contractors planned to be on site in Q4 of FY24.

Corporate Activities

The primary focus of the half year was preparation to complete an IPO to list the Company on the ASX. CGN Resources successfully completed all the required compliance documentation, completing a prospectus which was lodged with ASIC in late August 2023. The prospectus outlined our plan to raise funds by an issuing share at $0.20 per share aiming for a minimum of $8 million and 40,000,000 shares up to a maximum of $10 million for 50,000,000 shares. The Prospectus was closed late September fully subscribed and official listing on the ASX occurred on 18 October 2023.

EVENTS AFTER BALANCE DATE

There were no matters or circumstance subsequent to the end of the year that has significantly affected the operations of the Company, the results of operations or the state of affairs in future financial years.

Signed on 14 March 2024 in accordance with a resolution of the directors made pursuant to Section 306(3) of the Corporations Act 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
