About the HiPurA® 100%-owned process

CMX's HiPurA® process is a disruptive flowsheet which converts aluminous chemical feedstocks through selective refining to HPA. Ultimately, CMX has achieved the delivery of 4N (99.99%) high grade and is working towards 5N (99.999%) HPA products for the electric vehicle battery separator and synthetic sapphire markets, LEDs, semi-conductor and optical lenses.

The HiPurA® process is modular, scalable and independent of direct mine production, which enables ChemX to locate key future production facilities around the world close to customers in a just-in-time customised approach.

About ChemX

ChemX is an advanced materials company focused on providing high purity critical materials for the battery industry. The Company's vision is to become a leading supplier of sustainable and ethically sourced critical materials to support the global energy transition.

Developed in-house, ChemX's HiPurA® process is capable of producing high purity alumina (HPA) and high purity aluminium cathode precursor salts for lithium-ion batteries. Initial testwork has indicated that the process is low costs and low in energy consumptions, compared to alternative methods. A key competitive advantage is that the HiPurA® process is modular, scalable and is not tied to mine production, with the feedstock being a widely available chemical.

ChemX is applying its high purity expertise to advance its Manganese project located on the Eyre Peninsula in South Australia. Metallurgical testwork has indicated the manganese ore is amenable to upgrade through beneficiation and being processed into a high purity manganese sulphate to supply the Lithium-ion battery industry.
