PORTFOLIO REVIEW

The Glennon Small Companies portfolio returned (-2.46%) in April, ahead of its benchmark (S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index), which returned (-3.06%). At month end, approximately 9.24% of the portfolio was held in cash or cash equivalents.

The main contributors to performance were Telix (+16.76%), Pro Medicus (+7.38%), and Sandfire Resources (+7.51%). Telix provided the market with an update during the month, with an 18% increase in revenue over the prior quarter, mainly driven by its core product Illuccix. There was no new news on Pro Medicus during the period.

The main detractors from performance were Seven Group (-6.67%), Metgasco (-18.75%) and Zip Co (-15.12%). Early in the month, Metgasco announced that it has successfully terminated its relationship with Keybridge Capital which had been the cause of some uncertainty. The market then began to focus on its upcoming need for additional cash to fund the drilling of the second Odin well. Since the end of the month, the company has successfully completed a capital raising and a share purchase plan which will provide them with sufficient capital to fund their obligation for the second Odin well. There was no significant news for Seven Group during the month and Zip gave back some ground after releasing a positive trading update showing that the business was largely on track for a turnaround.
