- Results to date have been very encouraging, with Reset aiming to establish the gold standard in Psychedelic Assisted Psychotherapy (PAP) protocols and service delivery. Reset has reduced the number of planned participants and shortened the trial duration to reduce costs while ensuring the delivery of statistically relevant and publishable trial outcomes
- Reset's clinic fit-out, supported by the Health Insurance Fund of Australia (HIF), is now complete with the clinic ready to offer services utilising protocols from the clinical trial

- The proposed rescheduling of cannabis in the US would represent the most significant change in global cannabis regulation ever and follows Germany's recent decision to legalise cannabis in April 2024
- If adopted, the rescheduling will have significant implications for the US cannabis market, including the removal of Section 280E7, which currently prohibits the deduction of business expenses by US cannabis companies, and the opening of the sector to more institutional investment involvement, with likely flow-on effects on global cannabis markets including a re-rating of all Australian medicinal cannabis companies including LGP
