Global semiconductor developer, BluGlass Limited (ASX: BLG) has partnered with the Semiconductor Sector Service Bureau (S3B), and ShareCafe to launch Australia's premier semiconductor conference, Semiconductor Australia 2024.

Taking place in Sydney on Thursday, 24 October, Semiconductor Australia 2024 will bring together the nation's leading semiconductor, quantum, and photonics innovators, with key policy makers, and the international investment community to help secure Australia's deep-tech and advanced manufacturing future.

The full day conference includes keynote presentations from industry luminaries, including Australia's Chief Scientist Dr Cathy Foley, expert roundtable sessions, and presentations from more than a dozen public and private Australian semiconductor, quantum, and photonics companies.

Commenting on the conference, BluGlass Chair James Walker said, "Semiconductor Australia builds on BluGlass' market education series, bringing together Australian semiconductor innovators, key policy makers, and the international investor community to drive investment in critical sectors where we are already globally competitive. While semiconductors are vital and underpin all advanced technology and capabilities today, it is one of the least understood sectors locally. Occurring at a critical moment in Australia's history, this premier event is designed to showcase the significant achievements and developments of the sector, discuss challenges and policy frameworks to overcome systemic barriers, and provide opportunities for attendees to meet and invest in Australia's leading technology innovators."
