Alf Baker, Managing Director, commented:

"I am very pleased to confirm that the company is at an exciting turning point following the successful classifier plant upgrade to efficiently meet finer product specifications. This opens a whole range of additional sales opportunities: higher market share in the fiberglass business, participation in the paint and paper markets. Also exciting are the new products developed by our R&D department for the ceramic industry. I believe the company has a very positive future and give personal assurance that the focus is now full on and unrestricted in the build-up of sales and resultant profitability"
