Directors' Report

Your Directors present their report on Ryder Capital Limited (Ryder or Company) for the period ended 31 December 2024. The following persons were Directors of the Company from registration date and up to the date of this report:

Peter Constable – Chairman
David Bottomley – Director and Company Secretary
Ray Kellerman – Non-Executive Director

Principal Activity

The principal activity of the Company during the period was investing in a concentrated portfolio of ASX listed micro to small capitalisation equities, bonds and cash consistent with the Company's permitted investments and stated investment objective of achieving long-term capital growth in excess of its benchmark (RBA cash rate plus 4.25% p.a.).

Review of Operations

For the six months to 31 December 2024 (1H FY25), Ryder generated a statutory profit after tax of $1.23m (1H FY24 $818k) and total comprehensive after-tax income of $13.02m (1H FY24 $3.2m). Statutory profit as reported and referred to above ignores unrealised gains or losses within the Company's Portfolio. Total comprehensive income is therefore a better measure of overall performance as it also includes the unrealised movement in Ryder's investment Portfolio for the period.

It is likely Ryder will exceed the Australian corporate tax aggregated turnover threshold test for FY25, as such the Company has conservatively prepared these financial statements at the 30% corporate tax rate (up from 25% tax rate for FY24).

Ryder's pre-tax net tangible assets (NTA) per share increased to $1.5446 as at 31 December 2024, from $1.3875 at 30 June 2024 inclusive of a $0.05 fully franked dividend per share paid during the period with other contributors to the December NTA per share illustrated in the below chart.

Ryder Pre-tax NTA

Portfolio Performance

Ryder outperformed its performance hurdle by a significant margin during the first half with a pre-tax undiluted NTA return of 15.84% vs its benchmark of 4.25%. After a strong performance in FY24, it was pleasing to see the Portfolio continue to perform positively in a more mixed environment for small and micro-cap value companies. Ryder's performance compared with its benchmarks over longer time periods is included in the Performance section in this report.

Dividends

The Board is pleased to announce an increase to the interim dividend payment by declaring a 4.50 cents per share fully franked dividend (0.50 cent increase or 12.5% from the 4.00 cents per share fully franked interim dividend paid in 1H FY24). The ex-date will be 24 February 2025 and payment date 19 March 2025. The dividend will be franked at the 25% rate for imputation purposes, despite the company planning for a 30% tax rate for the full year. Shareholders wishing to participate in the dividend reinvestment plan (DRP) may submit the application by logging into their portfolio with our share registry, MUFG (formerly known as Link Market Services). DRP elections must be completed by 5.00pm (Sydney time) on the business day after the record date for the dividend payment.

Interim Financial Report

Directors' Report

Ryder continues to deliver against its stated dividend policy which is to pay steady to increasing fully franked dividends over time, as illustrated below.

RYD Dividends Declared since Inception

During the period the total distributable profits reserve (profits reserve + capital profits reserve) increased 41.6% to $36.0m (from $25.5m at 30 June 2024) primarily due to realised profits from share sales, offset by the dividend paid. The total distributable profit reserve represents the accumulated profits the Company has earned since inception. The distributable profits reserve and dividends paid per share since inception of the fund is illustrated below.

Ryder Distributable Profits and Dividends Paid since Inception

In the long run, future dividend payments will be a function of current and future investment performance; however, it is important for shareholders to note that recent strong investment performance together with more active realisation of Portfolio profits has further strengthened the Company's large distributable profits reserve and franking credit balance which forms the foundation for current and future dividend payments.

Company Expenses

The Company's expenses increased by ~21% when compared to the prior period primarily due to increased management fees paid to the Investment Manager as a direct consequence of the increase in average net assets of the Company.

The Investment Manager's performance (as measured by the performance of the Company's Portfolio less all operating costs before tax) outperformed the Company's performance benchmark for the period. Despite the outperformance in the period, the Company continues to carry a negative performance fee accrual of ($6.0m) at 31 December 2024. Until such time as the Investment Manager outperforms the Company's performance benchmark to cumulatively offset this net accrual (and any future annual performance hurdle rate), no performance fees are payable.

Directors' Report

Buy-back

During the period, the Company continued its on-market share buy-back reducing its issued capital to 81.5m shares. The buy-back for the period resulted in the purchase of 1.1m shares for a consideration of $1.3m or an average buy-back price of $1.23 per share. The Company will continue to buy back shares where it is accretive, balanced against the benefits of holding cash and making further investments to generate performance and growth in NTA per share.

Portfolio Performance

Gross portfolio performance for the six-month period ending 31 December 2024 was 16.80%, outperforming other Australian equity market indices such as the ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index (being the most comparable) which returned 6.93%. Ryder's performance since inception is illustrated in the table below.

Performance for the period continued to be both absolutely and relatively strong as we continued to focus on high conviction, deeper value mispriced securities while avoiding the traps of shorter-term lower conviction trades. The FY24 rally in equity markets continued, albeit less aggressively into 1H25 benefitting the Ryder Portfolio. Tactically, the Portfolio is holding higher levels of cash as we take a more defensive position.

The Company's 1H FY25 performance was achieved while holding an average cash exposure of 9.08%.

The top 5 contributors and detractors (on both a realised and unrealised basis) in dollar terms to Ryder's performance for the period are illustrated in the below chart.

Portfolio Income

The Portfolio generated $1.31m of dividend income and interest income of $244k, which equated to ~38% of the FY24 final dividend paid during the period.

Outlook

The immediate outlook for equity markets has become increasingly uncertain as interest rate expectations fluctuate from what was a well-accepted easing bias, to now the possibility that the US Federal Reserve moves to pausing as it monitors a resilient and potentially reaccelerating US economy together with the added risk that the Trump Administration induces inflationary pressures with new policies, including trade tariffs.

With historically high market valuations and an uncertain outlook, we are actively realising profits while building a more defensive Portfolio by raising cash and ensuring the Portfolio is composed of a core group of value stocks that generate cash, have conservative balance sheets, strong management and for the most part, pay regular dividends.

3. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

The Company measures and recognises the following assets and liabilities at fair value on a recurring basis:

- Long-term equity investments
- Derivative financial instruments

Fair value hierarchy

AASB 13: Fair value measurement requires disclosure of fair value measurements by level of the fair value hierarchy:

Level 1 – measurements based on quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – measurements based on inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability; and

Level 3 – measurements based on unobservable inputs from the asset or liability.

Included within Level 1 of the hierarchy are listed investments. The fair values of these financial assets and liabilities have been based on the closing quoted last prices at the end of the reporting period, excluding transaction costs.

The fair value of financial assets and liabilities that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques. These include the use of recent arm's length market transactions, reference to the current fair value of a substantially similar other instrument, discounted cash flow techniques, option pricing models or any other valuation technique that provides a reliable estimate of prices obtained in actual market transactions. With respect to the current carrying value in the financial statements for Updater Inc., refer to Note 3(c).
