Ava Risk Group secures contract to supply detection systems to oil and gas field in Abu Dhabi

Ava Risk Group Limited (ASX: AVA) ("Ava" or "the Company") is pleased to advise that it has secured a contract with Honeywell Middle East Company Ltd-AD for the supply of its market leading fibre sensing technology to the Abu Dhabi National Oil Company ("ADNOC").

The contract, valued at A$1.1 million, provides for the deployment of the Company's Aura Ai-X Distributed Acoustic Sensing technology to monitor and identify risks to critical infrastructure across a major oil and gas field operated by ADNOC. Delivery will occur in the current quarter and there are no conditions precedent.

This contract builds upon a long and trusted relationship with Honeywell in support of ADNOC, which has previously deployed the Company's technology across multiple sites in the Middle East.

Commenting on the contract award, Ava Group CEO Mal Maginnis said: "We are delighted to continue our long-standing relationship with Honeywell, a major infrastructure partner across the Middle East, Australia, USA and Asia. Partnering with major system integrators is a key growth driver for Ava. This contract further validates our position as the preferred technology provider for critical infrastructure protection in the oil and gas sector and demonstrates trust in our ability to deliver reliable solutions that protect vital national assets."
