

ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

30th June 2009

AUTOLAC BUSINESS SOLD

Allomak Limited ("Allomak" or the "Company") (ASX Code: AMA) today announced that it has sold the operating business of Autolac Pty Ltd. During the restructure period, the Board assessed the Autolac business and believes that it is not part of the go-forward strategy of the Company.

The buyer of the business is Autolac Industries Pty Ltd, an independent entity with experience in the automotive paint industry. The new owners have acquired the business operations, inventory, plant and equipment. They have also contracted to take on employment of the Autolac staff.

This decision will assist in lowering the working capital and debt of the Company.
